Effects 'Spotty' to Critical

Will Ask Drought Help For Farmers in County

Application will be made by the Ulster County Disaster Committee to have Ulster County declared a "drought disaster area" and thereby become eligible for drought relief.

A meeting of the members of the Ulster County Disaster committee was held Wednesday where the situation was discussed at length and at the conclusion of the meeting it was decided to submit an application to the State Disaster Committee to declare Ulster County farmers eligible for drought disaster assistance.

Critical for Some

Ulster County stands in a unique position at this time. Effects from the drought are called "spotty." In some areas showers have given relief to some crops and the drought condition is not considered serious while in other areas which have been skipped by showers, the situation is critical. Many dairymen have been called upon to feed cattle hay which has been harvested for winter use when pastures dried up and it became necessary to augment the feeding program with hay. Normally at this time of year pastures supply a large part of the feed for dairy herds.

Showers, which have come since July 1 in some sections of the county, have given some temporary relief to those areas while in other areas pastures have dried up.

A spokesman at the Ulster County Agriculture Extension Service office today said that a series of showers since the first of the month had given considerable relief to corn and pastures, that lawns were better in some places than during the week of June 25 and that shallow rooted crops were in better condition in many places but in other areas the severe drought condition persisted.

U. S. Office Must Approve
Application to the State Disaster Committee for drought relief does not of necessity mean that the area will be declared a disaster area. This application must receive final approval of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Should Ulster County be declared a disaster area, farm people will become eligible to make application to borrow money at a low rate of interest from the Farm Home Administration and livestock owners would be eligible to purchase Commodity Corporation corn at a price 25 per cent below market price for supplementing

Donahue said the motive involved in the slaying of the man, who spent the winter months in Florida, was robbery. Several articles were reportedly stolen from the trailer home, including antiques, silver and other personal property.

5th Continues Refuse Battle, Griggs Counsel

The Fifth Ward Community Association formulated plans Wednesday night to continue its opposition to a proposed relocation of a city refuse disposal area in the ward.

Association members also announced that they had retained the services of Attorney Richard W. Griggs of Port Ewen and Kingston to represent them in their "Anti-Dump" campaign, and scheduled a meeting of ward residents and friends elsewhere in the city for 7:30 p. m. Monday, July 27, in St. Mary's Hall, North Street.

Meanwhile, Roland A. Augustine, representing the Parents' Association of the Academy of St. Ursula, submitted a list of 25 questions to Mayor John J. Schwenk concerning the start of the proposed landfill in the Kingston Point lagoon near the academy.

To Assist Other Wards
The Fifth Ward Community group agreed unanimously at its meeting Wednesday that because the refuse disposal problem is city-wide in scope, it "will assist any ward in Kingston threatened with having a city dump located in their back yards."

It was felt by committee members that the City of Kingston "has progressed to the point where garbage and refuse should be disposed of by some means other than the traditional dump yards."

Alderman Anthony Alecca (R-5th Ward) appeared to reiterate his opposition to the proposed dump, which association members have labeled as "Schwenk's Dump."

He said, "I am opposed to the placing of the dump in the Fifth Ward," without any qualification.

Attorney Howard St. John and Aaron E. Klein, Republican and Democratic city chairmen, respectively, appeared in response to invitations by the association. They discussed the dump and its ramifications with the committee. Klein is also county Democratic chairman.

Association officials said a progress report will be presented at Monday's meeting. They also urged all residents of the ward to attend a recessed meeting of the Common Council on Tuesday, July 28, in order to "let council members know officially the opposition and attitude" of the people of the Fifth Ward "and the City of Kingston in general in connection with the proposed 'Schwenk Dump.'"

Various Answers Sought
Augustine's list of questions was consistent with his announcement at a meeting Tuesday of some 60 parents of alumnae of St. Ursula's Academy that he would ask the administration some 30 questions relative to the proposed landfill dump.

Among the various questions asked were inquiries as to lease arrangements, tax concessions, materials and costs, odors, possibility of fires, zoning and effect of the dump in the ward and in the city.

Preparing Appeal in CR Test Restaurant Corp. Going Full Route

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Owners of a restaurant and a motel are preparing to appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court the landmark decision by a three-judge federal court upholding constitutionality of the new Civil Rights Act.

"I think justice will prevail and we will be given a favorable verdict by the Supreme Court," said Lester Maddox, proprietor of the Pickrick Restaurant.

Moreton Rolleston Jr., head of the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp., said he would abide by the order but would appeal immediately.

The men commented Wednesday shortly after the judges issued injunctions against their establishments in the first two court tests of the new law.

The effective date of the injunctions was delayed until Aug. 11 to allow time for appeals. Rolleston filed suit against the government to block enforcement of the law within two hours after it was signed on July 2 by President Johnson.

Sued by Negroes
Maddox was sued by three Negroes he chased from his restaurant at gunpoint on July 3. Basic arguments in each case hinged on whether Congress had constitutional authority to enact the law. The court disposed of this issue before ruling on the law's application.

The decisions were handed down by Chief Justice Elbert T. Tule of the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Lewis R. Morgan and Frank A. Hooper.

Decision of Court
They said that motels and restaurants offering to serve interstate travelers can be brought under interstate commerce regulation as the act directs, and therefore cannot discriminate against Negroes.

"It is clear that the definition includes the Pickrick," the court held. "This is the limit of the case. Congress had the power to go this far."

Judges Concur
All three judges concurred in both injunctions.

In a special concurring opinion, Hooper said it appeared that the Pickrick came within the law since it offered to serve

First five investors in Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., formed by townspeople of Rosendale and their out-of-town friends to purchase 117½ acres of land for site of Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc. facilities lined up at Rosendale branch of National Bank of Orange and Ulster Counties to make their investments. Typical of public-spirited citizens sparked by possibility of making Rosendale the "Nordic Ski Capital of the East" was Linda Karlson, 16, who earned her investment from part-time jobs in high school and from prizes won as an equestrienne in various horse shows. Local corporation is offering 250 shares of stock at par value of $100 a share to raise $20,000 for purchase of former Telemark championship slope and facilities. Other investors on hand to make contributions included from the left, John Dellay, president of Dellay Realty Co. ## Mrs. Van Dyke Insists CORE Being 'Split'

Mrs. Leonard Van Dyke, first acting chairman of the Ulster County Chapter of CORE reiterated today her charges that the local chapter was being "split" and "taken over by a Woodstock group which plans to destroy it."

She was backed by Mrs. Bertha DeWitt, chapter vice president. Mrs. Van Dyke's charges came to light when she was asked to confirm a report that she resigned from the chapter because she couldn't comply with CORE regulations prohibiting "individual action." She denied that she had resigned, although the chapter's president, Miss Jennifer Miller, told The Freeman that as far as the chapter was concerned, Mrs. Van Dyke had submitted her resignation.

Nothing in Writing
Mrs. Van Dyke, wife of Alderman Leonard Van Dyke (D-6th Ward) reaffirmed to The Freeman today that she had not submitted her resignation and has put nothing in writing to that effect.

Mrs. Van Dyke charges that a Woodstock group was "infiltrating" the local CORE chapter were revealed when it was learned that she had reported to the mayor's office that her son had been refused a haircut at a local barber shop. She said that after being notified of the incident, a representative of the Mayor's Commission on Human Rights was sent to the barber shop with Mrs. Van Dyke's son, and the boy was given a haircut.

Mrs. Van Dyke said she was told by CORE chapter officials that she should have taken the problem to them first instead of acting individually. She said she was acting as a private citizen and not as a member of CORE, and if CORE would not let her

Would Make Rosendale Nordic Ski Capital

Officials of the newly-formed Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., a group of investors who are seeking $25,000 for the purchase and rehabilitation of the former championship Telemark ski jump facilities in the Town of Rosendale, reported today that $6,990 has been raised to date along with $10,000 in subscriptions.

The corporation, which offers 250 shares of common stock at a par value of $100 a share for the venture, was formed after Rune Karlson, Town of Rosendale councilman and Attorney William P. Curran obtained an option to purchase the 117½ acre tract of land from Miss Mary Sammons. They plan to establish the site as headquarters of the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc. and location of the "Nordic Ski Capital of the East."

Karl Strobel has been named temporary president and chairman of a finance committee which was designated for the purpose of obtaining subscriptions for the capital stock. He is a member of the Town of Rosendale Board and a former village treasurer. Ralph Assion, proprietor of The Alpine resort, is temporary treasurer.

Among Initial Stockholders
Some two dozen residents in the Rosendale area, including Scandinavian ski enthusiasts who have settled locally, are among the initial stockholders in the plan.

The investment plan calls for the tentative leasing of the ski jump facilities to the Rosendale Ski Jump Inc., which will actually operate the Joppenbergh Mountain site in conjunction with the Metropolitan Ski Jump Committee under sanctions granted by the U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Association.

A 48-year-old Town of Saugerties man was injured fatally Wednesday afternoon, when struck by a dead tree while he and two neighbors were felling another tree in the woods near his home.

Police Brutality To Blame: Powell

NEW YORK (AP) — Negro rioting and looting and police gunfire erupted again during the night despite a broadcast by Mayor Robert F. Wagner for peace and order.

Police shot and wounded three Negroes and arrested 122 in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn in the fifth straight night of disorders in the city.

200 Windows Smashed
Police said about 200 store windows were smashed during the night in the section, raising the total to nearly 500 in the city.

The trouble broke out in Harlem Saturday night after a white police lieutenant fatally shot a 15-year-old Negro boy last Thursday. The lieutenant said the youth was coming at him with a knife. The disorders have centered for the past two nights in the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant district.

Wagner, who cut short a European trip, went on radio and television and said continued disorders could set back Negro and civil rights programs for half a century.

Leaders Demand Ouster

"Law and order are the Negro's best friend—make no mistake about that," he said. "The opposite of law and order is mob rule, and that is the way of the Ku Klux Klan and the night riders and the lynch mobs."

Some 150 Negro leaders in a rare display of unity among their various factions demanded the immediate ouster of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy.

Wagner, in his speech, expressed "complete confidence" in Murphy, a former beat patrolman who obtained a law degree before advancing to his $35,000 a year post.

In Washington, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Negro Democrat, said the violence represented "the built-in, continuing resentment of the black people of the black ghetto of New York" against police policies.

Powell Gives Advice

He said the violence could be "ended before the sun goes down" if Wagner would: set up a non-police board to review charges of police brutality; assign a Negro police captain to the troubled Harlem precinct; suspend Lt. James R. Gilligan, who shot the Negro youth; expand the jurisdiction of grand juries to include "misuse of police authority," and stop assigning rookie policemen to Harlem.

A grand jury is investigating the shooting by Gilligan. Negro Harlem has a population of some 200,000.

Police headquarters gave these figures on the five days of disorders:
Harlem—1 dead, 118 injured (82 civilians, 36 policemen), 202 arrested and 117 property damage incidents.

Bedford-Stuyvesant—no dead, 16 injured (6 civilians, 10 policemen), 202 arrested.

Ulster County recorded its 18th highway death of 1964 early today when a 17-year-old City College of New York student was injured fatally in a one-car accident on Samsonville Road near Pataunkunk Road, Town of Rochester.

Coroner Arthur C. Chipp and Ellenville state police said Neal Post, of 1020 Boynton Avenue, the Bronx, died at Veteran's Memorial Hospital at 12:50 a. m. of massive skull fractures. The youth, a son of Bernard and Fay Levine Post of the Bronx address, also suffered a broken nose and internal injuries, troopers said.

According to Trooper Frank Hinton, who investigated, Post was a passenger in a car operated by Stephen Garod, 19, of 7836 Hare Avenue, Jacksonville, Fla. The vehicle was traveling east on Samsonville road at about 6 p. m. yesterday, when it went out of control on a left curve,

A swift-moving corps of State Police and Dutchess County officials on Wednesday, apprehended three men on charges of first degree murder in the death of 83-year-old Percy Barnes, who was discovered in a pool of blood in his trailer home on Hollow Road, Town of Clinton.

Arrested and Booked

The arrests and booking of the trio came about eight hours after the badly beaten body of Barnes was found by Charles Kipp, a Conservation Department game warden, at about 6:30 a. m. yesterday.

Senior Investigator Emmett F. Donahue of the Rhinebeck BCI detail, identified the accused trio as:

Norman Berkeley Decker, 44, of 7 Morgan Avenue, a sanitation department employee.

Frank Carl Curtis, 25, of 115 Smith Street a taxi driver.

Decker and Curtis reside in the City of Poughkeepsie, Knapp is a Town of Poughkeepsie resident.

Investigator Donahue told The Freeman, the defendants were arraigned before Justice of the Peace William G. Tompkins, Town of Clinton. A plea of innocent was entered for the trio, and they were committed to the county jail pending a preliminary hearing on Monday, July 27.

Hearing was adjourned to give the defendants an opportunity to obtain counsel, authorities said.

CCNY Student Is 18th County Road Fatality of Year

Ulster County recorded its 18th highway death of 1964 early today when a 17-year-old City College of New York student was injured fatally in a one-car accident on Samsonville Road near Pataunkunk Road, Town of Rochester.

Coroner Arthur C. Chipp and Ellenville state police said Neal Post, 1020 Boynton Avenue, the Bronx, died at Veteran's Memorial Hospital at 12:50 a. m. of massive skull fractures. The youth, a son of Bernard and Fay Levine Post of the Bronx address, also suffered a broken nose and internal injuries, troopers said.

According to Trooper Frank Hunton, who investigated, Post was a passenger in a car operated by Stephen Garod, 19 of 7916 Hare Avenue, Jacksonville, Fla. The vehicle was traveling east on Samsonville road at about 6 p. m. yesterday, when it went out of control on a left curve,

ACROSS THE THRESHOLD

Dr. Samuel Sheppard carries his wife, Ariane, up the sidewalk of their new home in suburban Rocky River, Ohio, after arriving from New York. It was his first time Sheppard returned to the Cleveland suburb since his release from Ohio Penitentiary where he had been serving a sentence for conviction in the death of his previous wife. The former osteopath was released from the prison and is on bail. A three-judge panel in Akron, Ohio, is hearing arguments on a stay order that followed Sheppard's release from prison on a habeas corpus writ. (AP Wirephoto)

5 Divisions Will Make Up Vols' Parade on August 8

The 29th Annual Convention of Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held Aug. 6, 7 and 8, in the township of Rosendale, promises to be the largest in history with over 40 Ulster County Fire Companies and some 20 musical units participating in the annual firemen's parade which will mark the closing day of the convention.

There will be more trophies awarded this year than ever before and competition for the trophies will be keen.

Hosts for the three-day convention are the Bloomington, Binnewater, Cortekill, High Falls and Rosendale Fire Companies, sponsoring the event under their organizational title, Volunteer Firemen's Association, Township of Rosendale. Herbert Faurete is general chairman.

Opening the session will be the annual banquet, a turkey dinner, at Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale, at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 6. Entertainment will follow the dinner. James McNamara of Rosendale is banquet chairman. The speaker will be New York City Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson.

Following the Friday night meeting, when business will be transacted and new officers elected, the convention will come to a close Saturday afternoon with the parade in Rosendale. Dominick Constantino of Highland, presently serving as first vice-president, is expected to be named president. This will mean, if usual custom is followed, that the convention will be held in Highland in 1965.

Rules governing the parade have been issued to all fire companies participating, together with their position in the line of march and where they will

Await Final Vote Today on Alco, Worthington Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—It was up to stockholders and directors today to give final approval to an agreement by which Worthington Corp. would acquire the business, and substantially all assets, of Alco Products Inc.

Preliminary agreement to the proposed acquisition was announced Wednesday by directors of both firms.

Included in the Worthington acquisition, an announcement from the companies said, is Alco's interest in Montreal Locomotive Works Ltd.

The agreement is subject to approval of the final contract by the directors and stockholders of the two firms.

Walther H. Feldmann, chairman of Worthington, said the diesel locomotive, diesel engine, spring and forger operations of Alco would be incorporated as a Worthington subsidiary. The subsidiary will be operated by the present Alco organization, he said, and will retain the name Alco Products Inc.

William G. Miller, chairman of Alco, said the agreement provided for payment by Worthington of an amount calculated to result in a total net asset value in present Alco stock of about $31 a share.

The present Alco will continue under a different name as an investment company for an undetermined period, Miller said. The two companies said the acquisition was expected to become effective Dec. 31.

Worthington's headquarters is in New York City and its main plant is in Harrison, N.J. The company makes pumps and other heavy industrial equipment.

Alco's main plants are in Schenectady and Auburn.

Recess Is Taken By Track Jury

NEW YORK (AP)—A grand jury investigation of circumstances surrounding approval for construction of the Finger Lakes Race Track near Canandaigua Wednesday was recessed until next week.

State Assemblyman Hyman E. Mintz of South Fallsburgh has been ordered to appear before the jury but is in a Monticello Hospital with a heart ailment.

The district attorney's office declined to say what witnesses, if any, appeared before the jury Wednesday.

Beef on Hoof

WINDOM, Minn. (AP)—Cowboy Carl Swanson is about a third of the way in his attempt to ride his Hereford bull, Randy, from border to border.

Swanson, 41, of Onamia, Minn., left International Falls, Minn., April 28 and expects to reach the Texas Gulf Coast next February.

Swanson says he is promoting the use of beef. His arrival in Windom Wednesday marked completion of about 500 miles of beef-on-the-hoof travel.

Just Checking Rattle

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A woman looked out her window Wednesday and saw a man apparently stuffing another man into the trunk of a car. She called police.

Soon Michael Lambert, a mechanic, was explaining to them how he put a fellow mechanic into the trunk and drove him around the block to check a rattle in the trunk.

Screams, Gunman Flees

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—A would-be bandit wearing a black bandana over his face pulled a pistol on service station owner Patrick Kennedy Wednesday night.

Police said Kennedy screamed for help and the gunman fled on a bicycle.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The fast climb in time deposits and savings accounts that has made this business upswing different from most others has slowed down. And so has the rise in interest rates paid for savings.

May Mark Leveling Off
Bankers think that the high yields to be had now on various short-term investments here, and even higher returns abroad, may mark a leveling off or softening of interest to be paid savers.

Also tending to have the same result is the easing in the mortgage markets. Investment fund supplies are exceeding demand for new mortgages in many regions. As mortgage charges have eased a bit, so has the rate which the lending institutions can pay for savings that form the pool from which the money for mortgages comes.

This may be one of the reasons many bankers have been urging the Federal Reserve Board to modify the easy money policies followed with little variation through most of the present business upswing. The American Bankers Association has suggested the board might think twice about keeping money easy if the business upturn approaches boom stage. The ABA, however, has opposed any moves to increase the 4 per cent limit the Federal Reserve places on interest on time deposits in commercial banks. Many small banks aren't paying that much, anyway, saying they can't afford to in their business. They'd hate to see savings siphoned off by much higher interest rates paid elsewhere.

Many mutual savings banks have offered more than 4 per cent. And some savings and loan associations, especially in the West, have been offering close to 5 per cent in dividends to get funds for the mortgage market there.

Rise Is Phenomenon

The rise in the total of time deposits in the commercial banks has been a phenomenon of this expansion period, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis notes in its July Review.

Previously such forms of savings rose rapidly during recessions and then tapered off during the expansions that followed. In the 1953-54 recession, time deposits grew at an annual rate of 10 per cent, but dropped to a 6 per cent increase in the following upswing. In the 1957-58 slump the growth rate of bank deposits was 15 per cent at an annual rate, with a drop to 5 per cent when times turned good again.

In the last recession, 1960-61, the annual growth rate of time deposits was 15 per cent. But when business turned upward in 1961, time deposits continued to grow at an annual rate of 14 per cent until mid-1963.

This year there has been a slackening. Commercial banks are now reporting gains in time deposits at a 7 per cent annual rate. The St. Louis bank thinks one cause is higher rates paid by mutual savings banks and other savings institutions. And of late, money market rates, especially abroad, have firmed.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, July 23, the 205th day of 1964. There are 161 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1847, a band of Mormons led by Brigham Young halted at the broad, fertile valley around Great Salt Lake in Utah after a winter of bitter hardship crossing the country.

On this date: In 1889, John L. Sullivan beat Jake Kilrain at Richburg, Miss., in a 75-round bare-knuckle fight for the world's heavyweight championship. In 1945, Marshal Henri Petain went on trial as a traitor to France.

In 1958, Queen Elizabeth named four women to peerages; they became the first women to sit in the House of Lords.

Ten years ago—Two Chinese Communist MIG jets shot down a British airliner off Hainan Island; of 18 aboard, 10 persons were lost—three of them Americans.

Five years ago—Vice President Richard Nixon flew to Moscow to open the American National Exhibition there.

Old Enough to Vote

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—If Roger Stillings had been a year younger, he wouldn't have been able to vote for himself as a candidate for sheriff of this central Ohio community.

But time was on his side and Stillings, 21, is the Republican candidate in next November's elections. He won the nomination handily in heavily Republican Champaign County.

Stillings, now a deputy sheriff, is trying to succeed Sheriff Jay McKeever who is retiring after 30 years.

The youthful candidate admits his basketball fame (he's 6 feet, 6 inches) is no handicap but points with even more pride, to his score of 99 in a police academy test.

"He's young, but he's extremely mature for a 21-year-old," says Sheriff McKeever and adds that Stillings can count on his vote.

SHORT RIDE—At 6-feet plus, Harold Allen, of Ponca City, Okla., may be too big to ride this scooter, but he does anyway. He helped fellow Oklahoma State Tech student Louis Fencil, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, make it. Fencil cut down a bicycle frame for the 3/4 horsepower scooter.

Jose Greco Is Scared by Debut In Dramatic Film

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Italian-born, Brooklyn-reared Jose Greco, whose flashing feet have danced over half the world, is facing his dramatic debut in films and he says he is scared.

"Sure, I've been performing since I was a kid," he remarked, "but it has always been dancing. Now I'm supposed to play dramatic scenes. How do I know I can handle them?"

Greco is one of the passengers on Stanley Kramer's "Ship of Fools," and the producer-director picked him on sight. That worries the dancer, too. He recalled his first interview with Kramer.

"I went into his office and he took one look at me and said to an assistant, 'He'll be all right.' So far Greco has done little in the month's shooting besides dance and stand in the background. His dramatic scenes are coming up soon. If physical condition means anything, he'll be ready."

"Guess how old I am," he challenged. I hazarded the late 30s, and he confessed: 46. He added that he could outrun any of the 30 dancers in his troupe, most of them in their early 20s.

For two decades his weight has remained a constant 149 pounds. This was a revelation to a constant dieter who watched him sail through a lunch of 100 til soup, pot roast and potatoes with a couple of glasses of beer.

"I eat this way all the time," he explained. "With my kind of dancing I burn up the carbohydrates. I do 10 dances at each performance, and it takes a lot of fuel to keep that up."

Greco's kind of dancing has been a sensation for the past dozen years wherever he has toured, and that includes most countries of North and South America and Europe, this side of the Iron Curtain. As soon as he finishes "Ship of Fools," he takes his company to South Africa.

Flamenco dancing has been around for a long time, but it took Jose Greco to make it really pay; his annual gross: A half-million dollars.

Greco now travels most of the year, maintaining an apartment in Madrid and a villa in southern Spain, where he is affectionately termed "The gypsy from New York."

Today is Thursday, July 23, the 205th day of 1964. There are 161 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1847, a band of Mormons led by Brigham Young halted at the broad, fertile valley around Great Salt Lake in Utah after a winter of bitter hardship crossing the country.

On this date: In 1889, John L. Sullivan beat Jake Kilrain at Richburg, Miss., in a 75-round bare-knuckle fight for the world's heavyweight championship.

In 1945, Marshal Henri Petain went on trial as a traitor to France.
In 1958, Queen Elizabeth named four women to peerages; they became the first women to sit in the House of Lords.

Ten years ago—Two Chinese Communist MIG jets shot down a British airliner off Hainan Island; of 18 aboard, 10 persons were lost—three of them Americans.

Five years ago—Vice President Richard Nixon flew to Moscow to open the American National Exhibition there.

Old Enough to Vote

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—If Roger Stillings had been a year younger, he wouldn't have been able to vote for himself as a candidate for sheriff of this central Ohio community.

But time was on his side and Stillings, 21, is the Republican candidate in next November's elections. He won the nomination handily in heavily Republican Champaign County.

Stillings, now a deputy sheriff, is trying to succeed Sheriff Jay McKeever who is retiring after 30 years.

The youthful candidate admits his basketball fame (he's 6 feet, 6 inches) is no handicap but points with even more pride, to his score of 99 in a police academy test.

"He's young, but he's extremely mature for a 21-year-old," says Sheriff McKeever and adds that Stillings can count on his vote.

SHORT RIDE—At 6-feet plus, Harold Allen, of Ponca City, Okla., may be too big to ride this scooter, but he does anyway. He helped fellow Oklahoma State Tech student Louis Fencil, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, make it. Fencil cut down a bicycle frame for the 3/4 horsepower scooter.

Jose Greco Is Scared by Debut In Dramatic Film

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Italian-born, Brooklyn-reared Jose Greco, whose flashing feet have danced over half the world, is facing his dramatic debut in films and he says he is scared.

"Sure, I've been performing since I was a kid," he remarked, "but it has always been dancing. Now I'm supposed to play dramatic scenes. How do I know I can handle them?"

Greco is one of the passengers on Stanley Kramer's "Ship of Fools," and the producer-director picked him on sight. That worries the dancer, too. He recalled his first interview with Kramer.

"I went into his office and he took one look at me and said to an assistant, 'He'll be all right.'"

So far Greco has done little in the month's shooting besides dance and stand in the background. His dramatic scenes are coming up soon. If physical condition means anything, he'll be ready.

"Guess how old I am," he challenged. I hazarded the late 30s, and he confessed: 46. He added that he could outrun any of the 20 dancers in his troupe, most of them in their early 20s.

For two decades his weight has remained a constant 149 pounds. This was a revelation to a constant dieter who watched him sail through a lunch of 100 soup, pot roast and potatoes, pancakes with a couple of glasses of beer.

"I eat this way all the time," he explained. "With my kind of dancing I burn up the carbohydrates. I do 10 dances at each performance, and it takes a lot of fuel to keep that up."

Greco's kind of dancing has been a sensation for the past dozen years wherever he has toured, and that includes most countries of North and South America and Europe, this side of the Iron Curtain. As soon as he finishes "Ship of Fools," he takes his company to South Africa.

Flamenco dancing has been around for a long time, but it took Jose Greco to make it really pay; his annual gross: A half-million dollars.

Bailed Out Books

MIAMI (AP)—Students at Miami-Dade County Junior College borrowed the tactics of old-time fire-fighting bucket brigades when it became necessary to move some of the college library's books to another building, 80 feet away.

BRAZIL SEEKS CAPITAL

Recognizing that a thriving economy is essential to a viable democracy, Brazil has taken steps which should encourage development capital. Brazil is the victim of one of the world's cruelest inflations. Officials are striving hard to build up their nation's industrial plant. To do so, money from all over the world, and especially from the United States, must be coaxied.

The president of Brazil's National Development Bank has recently toured this country with such an objective. In the first place he has tried to lay to rest fears that the new government is just another South American junta run for the benefit of a few highly-placed Brazilians. This banker wants it understood he is not asking for "development in the interests of oligarchies." He is seeking capital to expand industry in the fight against inflation.

Even more favorable, and definitely more concrete, was the action of Brazil's Chamber of Deputies. That body has voted to eliminate the 10 per cent ceiling on profits which leave the country. Were this proposal to become law, it would remove a major impediment to foreign investment in Brazil.

Foreign capital has a somewhat bad reputation in South America, and justifiably so. But things have changed, as several studies show. That capital in South America can have a heart has been demonstrated in more than one area. For a country like Brazil such a turn is most fortunate. Without the immediate wherewithal to stabilize that country's fevered economy, even approximating the standards of the United States could take another hundred years.

Russia's collective farmers will receive old-age pensions for the first time next year, says Khrushchev. Up to now about all they've received is advice.

FAGS FLOURISH

Well, the cigarette scare seems to be over and good old human nature has proved once again that it will take pleasure over prudence every time, all the time.

The National Tobacco Tax Association reports that cigarette tax stamp sales in June this year not only equalled but surpassed the June sales a year ago.

So the cancer panic has subsided and the craving for creature comfort has put a filter-tip on the dread of premature death.

There is nothing new nor startling in this development, of course. It follows a pattern established as far back as the Garden of Eden.

And it ought to be of special interest to organizations which are trying to influence the public attitude toward careful driving, periodic health checkups and other common-sense precautions which are distasteful because there is no logical argument against them.

Apparently, people don't scare worth a darn unless the danger is so imminent, so instantaneous, so massive that there is absolutely no choice except to do what is sensible and prudent.

So we'll have to rely on some other sales approach. The genius who figures out just what it will be can become the man of the century.

Any applicants?

YOUR SERVICE IS IMPORTANT

Have you ever thought of what would happen if garbage weren't collected?

Or if the drug stores weren't kept open on Sunday or in the evenings.

Or if an occasional filling station didn't stay open all night? Or proprietors of delicatessens didn't stay on the job for long hours day in and day out.

These are but a few of the humble services performed by inconspicuous people. Very seldom is any one of these people nominated for the presidency of the United

'These Days'

THERE'S ALWAYS BEEN A PEACE CORPS

It was a shrewd move by President Lyndon Johnson to establish a "businessmen's Peace Corps." The official name of the new organization is the International Executive Service Corps, and it will send available businessmen, many of them drawn from the ranks of the retired, to help assist the industrial and commercial development of struggling nations.

The fanfare accompanying the selection of Omer C. Lunsford, a New York oil man, William Chapman, an accounting expert from Buenos Aires, and Benjamin B. Smith, a Los Angeles lawyer, to start the project off, however, must seem a trifle overblown to old time partisans of private industry. For the truth is that there has been a "businessmen's Peace Corps" all along, one that was operating long before Washington got into the picture. The unofficial "Peace Corps" includes, of course, all the American corporations that do an overseas business, but there is more to it than pursuit of the main chance for a profit.

The other day there was a festive occasion in New York that did not get any particular fanfare. The President of the Ivory Coast Republic of Africa, Felix Houphouët-Boigny, and his Chancellor, George Anoma, working through their Ambassador in the U. S., Roman Bede, singled out three particular businessmen who belong to no organized governmental peace corps and bestowed upon them the National Order of the Ivory Coast for services to the republic's economy. One of the recipients, George Peabody, a professional New York coffee man has never laid his eyes on the Ivory Coast, is vice president of Tenco, a group of coffee importers that has recently become a subsidiary of Coca-Cola; another, Fernando Quintana, formerly of Cuba, is an engineer who has worked in Africa for the Westinghouse Electric Company; and the third, Nicholas Feuillatte, is a French broker who has been serving in the U. S. as a director of the Ivory Coast Stabilizing Fund.

Mr. Peabody and Monsieur Feuillatte got their medals for help in turning the Ivory Coast from a relative nonentity in the coffee business into the world's third producer of coffee. Before it had become a republic, the Ivory Coast exported a low grade of coffee called braziers that brought only sixteen cents a pound. Asked to buy it, Mr. Peabody said he couldn't use it for any of the blends sold by his company. He needed the type of coffee that would cost twenty-five cents. Instead of being insulted, as certain countries had been when their coffees were rejected, the Ivory Coast coffee people stayed to ask Mr. Peabody innumerable questions. He supplied them with all sorts of information gleaned from experience with Latin American coffees. Some time later a new Ivory Coast coffee product was offered to him, and it passed muster. Mr. Peabody still doesn't know how the Ivory Coast managed to upgrade its coffee in such a short time.

Monsieur Feuillatte, as an expert in monetary matters and commercial stabilization, took over once the Ivory Coast had something worth selling. He has been placing some 100 million dollars worth of Ivory Coast coffee abroad each year.

Fernando Quintana got his own particular medal for carrying through a Westinghouse Assistance project that has resulted in a vast expansion of electrical energy on the Ivory Coast.

The point about all this is that the Ivory Coast, which is practically next door to socialist Ghana, has managed to tap western business brains without invoking the government-to-government approach that always seems to end in the intensification of socialist enterprise. The Ivory Coast president, Houphouët-Boigny, was educated in France, and is a believer in free enterprise. According to Mr. Peabody and Mr. Quintana, with whom this columnist talked recently, the Ivory Coast is making splendid economic progress since it gained its freedom simply because its attitude favors business enterprise. It doesn't need a government-sponsored "businessmen's Peace Corps." This is not said to throw any cold water on Lyndon Johnson's latest creation, which may be needed to bring light to other new economies that are not blessed with the Ivory Coast's way of looking at things.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Excess Fat Often Slows Normal Healing of Wound

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The healing of wounds is normally an automatic process, but it can be slowed in various ways. As a general rule, wounds of the face, neck and scalp heal rapidly because these areas have a richer than average blood supply. Wounds of the abdomen heal more quickly than those of the extremities because the tissues of the abdominal wall are normally maintained at a higher temperature.

Conversely, cooling will slow the healing of any wound. Wounds in children and young adults heal more quickly than those in older persons. Excessive fat is often a hindrance to healing.

ACTH and cortisone will delay healing because they prevent inflammation and the early inflammatory stage of wound healing is an essential part of the reparative process.

Many refinements in the cleaning and protecting of wounds are now available to the doctor. These are especially applicable to the carefully planned wounds that he must make when he has to operate. One such innovation is a liquid spray dressing which forms a film over the cutting area. This has been found to aid in preventing wound infection.

Another means of preventing such infections is the use of isoniazid. This drug, originally used to combat the tubercle bacillus, appears to stimulate tissue resistance to infection with other germs. And then there is a new surgical dressing (Drisite) made of rayon fibers placed between layers of polyurethane foam. This type of dressing rapidly absorbs any fluid that may ooze from a wound. By thus keeping the wound dry the chances for infection are reduced and prompt healing is assured.

One of the advantages of the planned surgical wound is that it can follow what are known as natural lines of cleavage. These are the same lines that wrinkles follow in older persons. Using these lines allows your surgeon to give you a scar that is scarcely visible.

Q—A friend of mine who visits me often tells me that people snub or ignore him. Sometimes when he is in a public place they even go so far as to make whispered derogatory remarks about him. Do you think he has delusions of persecution?

A—Yes. This is the way paranoia, a severe mental disease, starts. Your friend needs psychiatric help.

The point is that the person who does his job as well as he possibly can, is willing and, above all, dependable—this person is important. Important to himself, to his family and to society.

Whoever finds contentment in his work, and is needed is a success.

"It's a Great Little Model, But Will It Sell?"

The Global View

BY LEON DENNEN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—
(NEA)—Another political crisis is reported to be brewing in the Red World.

Now it is Poland's boss Wladyslaw Gomulka who is feuding with Nikita Khrushchev over Moscow's pressure to expel Red China from international Communist ranks.

According to U. N. diplomats, Gomulka has sent Russia a strong protest against the steamroller tactics employed by Khrushchev in his frantic efforts to "isolate" Mao Tse-tung. He also intimated that he was double-crossed by the Soviet premier.

Poland's chief thus joined Romanian leader Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej in rejecting Khrushchev's proposal to summon an urgent conclave of picked Reds "to settle the Chinese problem once and for all."

"Old Nikita has illusions," an East European diplomat told this writer. "He seems to think that, as in Stalin's day, the Russians still crack the whip—that they can dictate to the so-called satellite nations."

Khrushchev might end up with East Germany's puppet Walter Ulbricht, the most despised Red ruler behind the Iron Curtain, as his only ally in East Europe, the diplomat said.

There is no doubt that Gomulka's defection—coming so soon after the death of French Communist leader Maurice Thorez—was particularly hard blow for the Soviet premier.

For Poland's Red boss, like Thorez, has backed Khrushchev since the beginning of his conflict with Mao Tse-tung. But Gomulka was for a go-slow policy. He feared the disastrous effect an open break between Moscow and Peking would have on the morale of the international Communist movement and especially on the Polish Communist party.

A growing number of Polish Reds—known as Partisans—want Gomulka to follow the example of Communist Romania. The Romanians have long been insisting that, before calling a conference "to deal with China," Khrushchev should first settle his differences with Mao.

The Chinese claim that four or five years will be needed to prepare an international conference. Mao Tse-tung obviously believes that time is on his side. But the Russians are in a hurry. They fear that control of the world Communist movement is rapidly slipping from their hands. They want an immediate conference of handpicked supporters to "excommunicate" Mao.

However, as recently as last April, Khrushchev—according to the Polish sources—promised Gomulka a postponement of the international conference. This was, in effect, what an optimistic Gomulka told the Congress of the Polish Communist party that met in June in Warsaw.

But on the very day of Gomulka's speech Moscow dispatched an insulting letter to Peking announcing an imminent world Communist meeting. Copies of the communication were sent to Polish and foreign Reds attending the Warsaw meeting.

Gomulka cried "foul!" He saw the letter as Moscow's ultimatum that a conference should take place without delay. Like Western diplomats who have been in negotiation with the Soviet premier, Gomulka discovered that Khrushchev's words and promises are as slippery as an eel's tail.

The Soviet premier is thus riding out another storm which threatens more disruption in Red ranks. It is possible that the final act of the drama is being played out at the "informal" discussions of Red chiefs that are now taking place in the Polish capital of Warsaw.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

On the way to Woodstock, Sunday afternoon, July 5, even after the Saturday light shower, I found the fields were parched like straw. I saw two people near a brook or stream, filling a large tank in their car, no doubt for their garden. Around Sawkill way, I saw streams of water playing high in the air over fields, as they had a running brook nearby. It seems those who can and are willing to do it the old fashioned way can save their gardens and perhaps some crops by going to the nearest brook or stream for water.

I am sorry I missed the Classic Car display in Saugerties, and saw just one, very colorful car on the way home. I understand there were some 30 cars there, and no doubt it brought out a large crowd and many questions. I am wondering if the present cars can withstand time, weather and man's destruction for so many years. It is difficult to govern the sense of the driver, perhaps the gas pedal is in the wrong place. It should not be so easy to get to. The extrovert who has no other talent, misses someone else's invention.

Strange things arrive at Antique Fairs like Bill Newgold ran at the Colony Arts Center, in Woodstock, July 4th weekend. Exhibitors also buy from each other. Mr. Newgold was very proud of a large white wash basin and pitcher he bought from M. R. Smith, of Saugerties, on which was printed "Hotel Kaaterskill" in large letters. Chuck and Norma Murdoch of Old Chatham (by the Pond), had two very handsome shaving mugs, which barbers like to display in their most modern shops today. Della and Jules Barbour of Morristown, Pa. brought old-fashioned store items, from the Amish country, and rock candy in all the colors of the rainbow, which I have never seen, blues and pink and such and people were buying it, the real old-fashioned string rock candy.

Again I was interested in an autograph book, dated around 1861, in which students wrote in very fine penmanship, and also pasted in their portraits very carefully. I understand this item belongs to Mr. Newgold. At the Edith Gerard exhibit of Pough-

Race Riots Show Communist Conspiracy to Cause Trouble

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Communist conspiracy to provoke trouble inside the United States is at last coming out in the open. The riots in Harlem and Brooklyn have been participated in, and to a certain extent incited, by Communists—and Paul R. Screvane, acting Mayor of New York City in the absence of Mayor Robert Wagner, publicly and officially said so this week.

Coincidentally, Sen. James Eastland of Mississippi, Democrat, in a speech in the Senate, has called attention to the ways in which Communists have become a part of the race controversy by stimulating demonstrations and training student agitators. He has actually named on the floor of the Senate some of the Communist conspirators involved in these activities throughout the country.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been working on this problem for a long time, but it's one thing to be able to detect who the Communist agents are and quite another to make an arrest and get a conviction. For today the police as well as the courts are being frustrated by Supreme Court decisions that put technicalities in the way of effective prosecutions, as criminal after criminal goes free even though guilty.

Also, the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the Senate Internal Security subcommittee have been badgered so much by the Left-wing and so-called "Liberal" elements that they have been hindered in carrying on penetrating investigations such as would expose to the public eye all that the Communists are doing in America. A persistent campaign has been waged to abolish the Congressional committees concerned with these investigations, and it has gone so far as to enlist the support of unwitting and naive members of Congress—most of them "Liberals."

When a big city like New York is rocked by race riots in which the Communists play a substantial part, and hundreds of persons are injured and much property is damaged, it seems certain that the American people will demand sterner measures of protection than have been taken thus far by this and preceding Administrations.

It seems natural for Premier Khrushchev to be disturbed about the possibility that Barry Goldwater might be elected President in November. The Communist leader is bold enough to make public statements assailing Mr. Goldwater. For the Moscow government knows that the Arizona Senator would not stand for any nonsense, and would not only press for investigations by Congress but would do everything he could to use the law-enforcement machinery of the government to get rid of Communist agents and organizations in the United States. Maybe—after the coming election—the Supreme Court itself will wake up to the fact that the Communist party is not just another political organization entitled to free speech privileges but is a vehicle of subversion, and will so rule. It is often been said that the Supreme Court usually "follows the election returns."

As a matter of fact, the Left-wing and "Liberal" groups in America which have been pronouncing as "McCarthyism" the arguments about the Communist menace will have to do a turn-about if they wish to elect their candidates this fall, whether the nominees for Congressional seats run on the Republican or the Democratic ticket. The public is fed up with the idea of letting the Communist apparatus continue its deliberate infiltration in the racial controversy.

Many of the sensible, well informed leaders of the Negro groups have been aware of the Communist activities and rightly have denounced them. But often they are powerless to get rid of the Communists because the latter have been able to deceive many of the rank and file of the Negro groups. All the facts about the intimacy of certain Negro leaders and the Communists have not as yet been revealed, but progress in that direction now may be expected.

President Johnson will find that the Communist involvement in the civil rights movement will have to be explicitly denounced and drastic measures taken to deal with the problem. Otherwise, if he wins the election, this may be viewed as another triumph for those groups in both parties which belittle Communist plots and brush aside as mere expressions of free speech the very demonstrations which result in violence.

Now that extensive injury to innocent citizens has occurred, and violence is sweeping area after area in other parts of the country as well as the South, the persons who have triggered this part of the crime wave in America should be exposed and punished. Both the Democratic and Republican leaders would be well advised to note that the grass-roots sentiment is aroused on the whole subject.

BRAZIL SEEKS CAPITAL

Recognizing that a thriving economy is essential to a viable democracy, Brazil has taken steps which should encourage development capital. Brazil is the victim of one of the world's cruelest inflations. Officials are striving hard to build up their nation's industrial plant. To do so, money from all over the world, and especially from the United States, must be coaxed.

The president of Brazil's National Development Bank has recently toured this country with such an objective. In the first place he has tried to lay to rest fears that the new government is just another South American junta run for the benefit of a few highly-placed Brazilians. This banker wants it understood he is not asking for "development in the interests of oligarchies." He is seeking capital to expand industry in the fight against inflation.

Even more favorable, and definitely more concrete, was the action of Brazil's Chamber of Deputies. That body has voted to eliminate the 10 per cent ceiling on profits which leave the country. Were this proposal to become law, it would remove a major impediment to foreign investment in Brazil.

Foreign capital has a somewhat bad reputation in South America, and justifiably so. But things have changed, as several studies show. That capital in South America can have a heart has been demonstrated in more than one area. For a country like Brazil such a turn is most fortunate. Without the immediate wherewithal to stabilize that country's fevered economy, even approximating the standards of the United States could take another hundred years.

Russia's collective farmers will receive old-age pensions for the first time next year, says Khrushchev. Up to now about all they've received is advice.

FAGS FLOURISH

Well, the cigarette scare seems to be over and good old human nature has proved once again that it will take pleasure over prudence every time, all the time.

The National Tobacco Tax Association reports that cigarette tax stamp sales in June this year not only equalled but surpassed the June sales a year ago.

So the cancer panic has subsided and the craving for creature comfort has put a filter-tip on the dread of premature death.

There is nothing new nor startling in this development, of course. It follows a pattern established as far back as the Garden of Eden.

And it ought to be of special interest to organizations which are trying to influence the public attitude toward careful driving, periodic health checkups and other common-sense precautions which are distasteful because there is no logical argument against them.

Apparently, people don't scare worth a darn unless the danger is so imminent, so instantaneous, so massive that there is absolutely no choice except to do what is sensible and prudent.

So we'll have to rely on some other sales approach. The genius who figures out just what it will be can become the man of the century.

Any applicants?

YOUR SERVICE IS IMPORTANT

Have you ever thought of what would happen if garbage weren't collected?

Or if the drug stores weren't kept open on Sunday or in the evenings.

Or if an occasional filling station didn't stay open all night? Or proprietors of delicatessens didn't stay on the job for long hours day in and day out.

These are but a few of the humble services performed by inconspicuous people. Very seldom is any one of these people nominated for the presidency of the United States or named ambassador to Great Britain.

But the men and women who daily perform menial tasks are just as vital a cog in the machinery of daily living as almost anyone else. Let them fail to show up and see who's missed the most, they or the boss.

The point is that the person who does his job as well as he possibly can, is willing and, above all, dependable—this person is important. Important to himself, to his family and to society.

Whoever finds contentment in his work, and is needed is a success.

And don't forget it the next time some other pasture looks greener.

'These Days'

THERE'S ALWAYS BEEN A PEACE CORPS

It was a shrewd move by President Lyndon Johnson to establish a "businessmen's Peace Corps." The official name of the new organization is the International Executive Service Corps, and it will send available businessmen, many of them drawn from the ranks of the retired, to help assist the industrial and commercial development of struggling nations.

The fanfare accompanying the selection of Omer C. Lunsford, a New York oil man, William Chapman, an accounting expert from Buenos Aires, and Benjamin B. Smith, a Los Angeles lawyer, to start the project off, however, must seem a trifle overblown to old time partisans of private industry. For the truth is that there has been a "businessmen's Peace Corps" all along, one that was operating long before Washington got into the picture. The unofficial "Peace Corps" includes, of course, all the American corporations that do an overseas business, but there is more to it than pursuit of the main chance for a profit.

The other day there was a festive occasion in New York that did not get any particular fanfare. The President of the Ivory Coast Republic of Africa, Felix Houphouet-Boigny, and his Chancellor, George Anoma, working through their ambassador in the U. S., Konan Bedie, singled out three particular businessmen who belong to no organized governmental peace corps and bestowed upon them the National Order of the Ivory Coast for services to the republic's economy. One of the recipients, George Peabody, a professional New York coffee man has never laid his eyes on the Ivory Coast, is vice president of Tenco, a group of coffee importers, that has recently become a subsidiary of Coca-Cola; another, Fernando Quintana, formerly of Cuba, is an engineer who has worked in Africa for the Westinghouse Electric Company; and the third, Nicholas Feuillatte, is a French broker who has been serving in the U. S. as a director of the Ivory Coast Stabilizing Fund.

Mr. Peabody and Monsieur Feuillatte got their medals for help in turning the Ivory Coast from a relative nonentity in the coffee business into the world's third producer of coffee. Before it had become a republic, the Ivory Coast exported a low grade of coffee called braziers that brought only sixteen cents a pound. Asked to buy it, Mr. Peabody said he couldn't use it for any of the blends sold by his company. He needed the type of coffee that would cost twenty-five cents. Instead of being insulted, as certain countries had been when their coffees were rejected, the Ivory Coast coffee people stayed to ask Mr. Peabody innumerable questions. He supplied them with all sorts of information gleaned from experience with Latin American coffees. Some time later a new Ivory Coast coffee product was offered to him, and it passed muster. Mr. Peabody still doesn't know how the Ivory Coast managed to upgrade its coffee in such a short time.

Monsieur Feuillatte, as an expert in monetary matters and commercial stabilization, took over once the Ivory Coast had something worth selling. He has been placing some 100 million dollars worth of Ivory Coast coffee abroad each year. Fernando Quintana got his own particular medal for carrying through a Westinghouse assistance project that has resulted in a vast expansion of electrical energy on the Ivory Coast.

The point about all this is that the Ivory Coast, which is practically next door to socialist Ghana, has managed to tap western business brains without invoking the government-to-government approach that always seems to end up in the intensification of socialist enterprise. The Ivory Coast president, Houphouet-Boigny, was educated in France, and is a believer in free enterprise. According to Mr. Peabody and Mr. Quintana, with whom this columnist talked recently, the Ivory Coast is making splendid economic progress since it gained its freedom simply because its attitude favors business enterprise. It doesn't need a government-sponsored "businessmen's Peace Corps." This is not said to throw any cold water on Lyndon Johnson's latest creation, which may be needed to bring light to other new economies that are not blessed with the Ivory Coast's way of looking at things.

The DOCTOR SAYS

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The healing of wounds is normally an automatic process, but it can be slowed in various ways. As a general rule, wounds of the face, neck and scalp heal rapidly because these areas have a richer than average blood supply. Wounds of the abdomen heal more quickly than those of the extremities because the tissues of the abdominal wall are normally maintained at a higher temperature.

Conversely, cooling will slow the healing of any wound. Wounds in children and young adults heal more quickly than those in older persons. Excessive fat is often a hindrance to healing.

ACTH and cortisone will delay healing because they prevent inflammation and the early inflammatory stage of wound healing is an essential part of the reparative process.

Many refinements in the cleaning and protecting of wounds are now available to your doctor. These are especially applicable to the carefully planned wounds that he must make when he has to operate. One such innovation is a liquid spray dressing which forms a film over the cutting area. This has been found to aid in preventing wound infection.

Another means of preventing such infections is the use of isoniazid, a fat drug, originally used to combat the tubercle bacillus, appears to stimulate tissue resistance to infection with other germs. And then there is a new surgical dressing (Drisite) made of rayon fibers placed between layers of polyurethane foam. This type of dressing rapidly absorbs any fluid that may ooze from a wound. By thus keeping the wound dry the chances for infection are reduced and prompt healing is assured.

One of the advantages of the planned surgical wound is that it can follow what are known as natural lines of cleavage. These are the same lines that wrinkles follow in older persons. Using these lines allows your surgeon to give you a scar that is scarcely visible.

Q—A friend of mine who visits me often tells me that people snub or ignore him. Sometimes when he is in a public place they even go so far as to make whispered derogatory remarks about him. Do you think he has delusions of persecution?

A—Yes. This is the way paranoia, a severe mental disease, starts. Your friend needs psychiatric help.

"It's a Great Little Model, But Will It Sell?"

The Global View

BY LEON DENNEN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(NEA)—Another political crisis is reported to be brewing in the Red World.

Now it is Poland's boss Wladyslaw Gomulka who is feuding with Nikita Khrushchev over Moscow's pressure to expel Red China from international Communist ranks.

According to U. N. diplomats, Gomulka has sent Russia a strong protest against the steamroller tactics employed by Khrushchev in his frantic efforts to "isolate" Mao Tse-tung. He also intimated that he was double-crossed by the Soviet premier.

Poland's chief thus joined Romanian leader Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dea in rejecting Khrushchev's proposal to summon an urgent conclave of picked Reds "to settle the Chinese problem once and for all."

"Old Nikita has illusions," an East European diplomat told this writer. "He seems to think that, as in Stalin's day, the Russians still crack the whip—that they can dictate to the so-called satellite nations."

Khrushchev might end up with East Germany's puppet Walter Ulbricht, the most despised Red ruler behind the Iron Curtain, as his only ally in East Europe, the diplomat said.

There is no doubt that Gomulka's defection—coming so soon after the death of French Communist leader Maurice Thorez—was particularly hard blow for the Soviet premier.

For Poland's Red boss, like Thorez, has bucked Khrushchev since the beginning of his conbeen in negotiation with the Soviet premier, Gomulka discovered that Khrushchev's words and promises are as slippery as an eel's tail.

The Soviet premier is thus riding out another storm which threatens more disruption in Red ranks. It is possible that the final act of the drama is being played out at the "informal" discussions of Red chiefs that are now taking place in the Polish capital of Warsaw.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

On the way to Woodstock, Sunday afternoon, July 5, even after the Saturday light shower, I found the fields were parched like straw. I saw two people near a brook or stream, filling a large tank in their car, no doubt for their garden. Around Sawkill way, I saw streams of water playing high in the air over fields, as they had a running brook nearby. It seems those who can and are willing to do it the old fashioned way can save their gardens and perhaps some crops by going to the nearest brook or stream for water.

I am sorry I missed the Classy Car display in Saugerties, and saw just one, very colorful car on the way home. I understand there were some 30 cars there, and no doubt it brought out a large crowd and many questions. I am wondering if the present cars can withstand time, weather and man's destruction for so many years. It is difficult to govern the sense of the driver, perhaps the gas pedal is in the wrong place. It should not be so easy to get to. The extrovert who has no other talent, misses someone else's invention.

Strange things arrive at Antique Fairs like Bill Newgold ran at the Colony Arts Center, in Woodstock, July 4th weekend. Exhibitors also buy from each other. Mr. Newgold was very proud of a large white wash basin and pitcher he bought from M. R. Smith, of Saugerties, on which was printed "Hotel Kaaterskill" in large letters. Chuck and Norma Murdock of Old Chatham, (the Pond), had two very handsome shaving mugs, which barbers like to display in their most modern shops today. Della and Jules Barbour of Morristown, Pa. brought old-fashioned store items, from the Amish country, and rock candy in all the colors of the rainbow, which I have never seen, blues and pink and such and people were buying it, the real old-fashioned string rock candy.

Again I was interested in an autograph book, dated around 1861, in which students wrote in very fine penmanship, and also pasted in their portraits very carefully. I understand this item belong to Mr. Newgold. At the Edith Gerard exhibit of Pough-

Race Riots Show Communist Conspiracy to Cause Trouble

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Communist conspiracy to provoke trouble inside the United States is at last coming out in the open. The riots in Harlem and Brooklyn have been participated in, and to a certain extent incited, by Communists—and Paul R. Screvane, acting Mayor of New York City in the absence of Mayor Robert Wagner, publicly and officially said so this week.

Coincidentally, Sen. James Eastland of Mississippi, Democrat, in a speech in the Senate, has called attention to the ways in which Communists have become a part of the race controversy by stimulating demonstrations and training student agitators. He has actually named on the floor of the Senate some of the Communist conspirators involved in these activities throughout the country.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been working on this problem for a long time, but it's one thing to be able to detect who the Communist agents are and quite another to make an arrest and get a conviction. For today the police as well as the courts are being frustrated by Supreme Court decisions that put technicalities in the way of effective prosecutions, as criminal after criminal goes free even though guilty.

Also, the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the Senate Internal Security subcommittee have been badgered so much by the Left-wing and so-called "Liberal" elements that they have been hindered in carrying on penetrating investigations such as would expose to the public eye all that the Communists are doing in America. A persistent campaign has been waged to abolish the Congressional committees concerned with these investigations, and it has gone so far as to enlist the support of unwitting and naive members of Congress—most of them "Liberals."

When a big city like New York is rocked by race riots in which the Communists play a substantial part, and hundreds of persons are injured and much property is damaged, it seems certain that the American people will demand sterner measures of protection than have been taken thus far by this and preceding Administrations.

It seems natural for Premier Khrushchev to be disturbed about the possibility that Barry Goldwater might be elected President in November. The Communist leader is held enough to make public statements assailing Mr. Goldwater. For the Moscow government knows that the Arizona Senator would not stand for any nonsense, and would not only press for investigations by Congress but would do everything he could to use the law-enforcement machinery of the government to get rid of Communist agents and organizations in the United States. Maybe—after the coming election — the Supreme Court itself will wake up to the fact that the Communist party is not just another political organization entitled to free speech privileges but is a vehicle of subversion, and will so rule. It is often been said that the Supreme Court usually "follows the election returns."

As a matter of fact, the Left-wing and "Liberal" groups in America have been announcing as "McCarthyism" the arguments about the Communist menace will have to do a turn-about if they wish to elect their candidates this fall, whether the nominees for Congressional seats run on the Republican or the Democratic ticket. The public is fed up with the idea of letting the Communist apparatus continue its deliberate infiltration in the racial controversy.

Many of the sensible, well informed leaders of the Negro groups have been aware of the Communist activities and rightly have denounced them. But often they are powerless to get rid of the Communists because the latter have been able to deceive many of the rank and file of the Negro groups. All the facts about the intimacy of certain Negro leaders and the Communists have not as yet been revealed, but progress in that direction now may be expected.

President Johnson will find that the Communist involvement in the civil rights movement will have to be explicitly denounced and drastic measures taken to deal with the problem. Otherwise, if he wins the election, this may be viewed as another triumph for those groups in both parties which belittle Communist plots and brush aside as mere expressions of free speech the very demonstrations which result in violence.

Now that extensive injury to innocent citizens has occurred, and violence is sweeping area after area in other parts of the country as well as the South, the persons who have triggered this part of the crime wave in America should be exposed and punished. Both the Democratic and Republican leaders would be well advised to note that the grass roots sentiment is aroused on the whole subject.

Margaret Ruth R. Smith, of Saugerties, had a large framed item on the Round-bud Lodge, of Kingston dated 1906. ## Negroes Discount Communist Role In Harlem Riots

NEW YORK (AP)—Top city officials say Communists had a hand in starting New York's racial riots, but Negro leaders discount or minimize the Communist role.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner told reporters Wednesday night there was "some evidence" of Communist involvement. He declined further comment, but said the FBI had supplied information "of the greatest interest."

Roy Wilkins, head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said that "raising the Communist cry won't solve very much at this time."

Wilkins said "provocateurs" may have been involved, but the rioting was not part of any plan. The Rev. Richard A. Hildbrand, president of the city branch of the NAACP, said Communists may have come in after the riots started, "but the outbreak was spontaneous."

Group Opposing State Doing More In Housing Field

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Proposals to expand the state's role in public housing are under fire from a committee representing real estate interests, and business and taxpayer groups.

The recently formed committee announced Wednesday its goal was "to prevent the State of New York from going further into the housing field at taxpayer expense."

The committee will campaign against a proposed constitutional amendment for a $165-million bond issue on which voters will act in the November election.

The $165 million would be used for additional housing for low-income families. The proposed amendment would raise the maximum amount that local governments could spend on housing and urban renewal.

It also would eliminate a requirement that such housing be limited to low-income families.

Garrison Dillon, chairman of the committee, said the proposals would "open the door to all kinds of extravagant housing ventures which would go far beyond the original intent of slum clearance and low-rent housing for low-income groups."

Change in Bus Fares

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized Freeman Bus Corp. of Watertown to discontinue reduced price token fares and to raise the charge for student riders, effective Aug. 1.

The company said it would raise the price of 10-ride school tickets from $1.25 to $1.60. A uniform 20-cent fare will supplant the system under which tokens are sold at five for 90 cents.

In seeking the increase, the company complained of declining patronage and predicted an eventual cut-back in service as a matter of financial survival.

Capital News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Johnson for his signature a $1,534,994,000 authorization for construction of military facilities in this country and overseas.

The House approved this compromise measure Wednesday and the Senate passed it shortly afterward.

A separate appropriation bill to finance these projects already has been passed by the House. The Senate has not acted upon the money measure.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union says it isn't shipping American wheat to Cuba.

A minister at the Soviet Embassy here told the State Department Wednesday that reports of such shipments were false.

Capt. Arthur H. Fertig, skipper of the Sister Katingo, reported a few days ago that Russian stevedores in the port of Novorossisk told him that American grain was being shipped from the Soviet Union to Cuba.

Fertig's ship was boarded and searched by Russians when it left Novorossisk without clearance last week. The United States protested against what it called excessive methods employed by Soviet authorities.

Georgi M. Kornienko, the Soviet minister, denied the reports of the grain shipments. He suggested Fertig made his charge "to provoke trouble" because of the incident at the Black Sea port.

WASHINGTON (AP)—World War II veterans are facing increasingly tougher job competition from youngsters of the postwar baby boom, a Labor Department official says.

Louis Levine, director of the U.S. Employment Service, says the younger men who are coming into the labor market are generally better educated and better equipped for the jobs.

"With each passing year, veterans become especially vulnerable to the rapidly changing labor conditions and hiring specifications," Levine said in an article in "Employment Service Review," published by the Labor Department.

But Levine said that by and large veterans have fared well in the years since the GI Bill 20 years ago provided the nation with its biggest single boost in education and job training.

Stirs Audiences At World's Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—The individual star of the World's Fair is none other than Abraham Lincoln.

Some audiences he holds in spellbound silence. Others he sets to cheering wildly.

People go away from his performances in awe with praise and such exclamations as "Stupendous!" "Tremendous!" and "Most impressive and inspiring." Many return time and again.

Lincoln, seen as the feature attraction of the Illinois Pavilion, is the creation of the Walt Disney organization.

He is a new type of animated figure so lifelike many find it hard to believe he isn't really real. He fits the exact description of Lincoln as to face and figure, dress, speech and mannerisms.

After dramatic introductory music and other material, the stage curtains part before a hushed audience to reveal the figure sitting in center stage in a high-backed chair.

There is seldom the slightest sound from the audiences—except for cheers. These come with a roar at the end, when the figure takes its seat.

The champion viewer so far is one man who sat through seven successive performances. There has been some confusion.

An elderly grandmother wanted to know "What is the name of the actor that plays Lincoln?"

Soldier Is 265th Known Suicide From Frisco Span

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thousands of tourists snap photographs over the majestic Golden Gate Bridge every year. To them it is synonymous with San Francisco.

To San Franciscans, the rusted suspension bridge is becoming synonymous with suicide. Death leaps from the span have become so frequent that an expression—"I'm about ready for the bridge"—is a common way of expressing disgust with life.

Wednesday a soldier stopped his car on the Golden Gate span and raised the hood. Cars veered around him. He slammed the hood down, ran to the bridge's railing and leaped over to his death.

Drake E. Rogers Jr., 20, of

An infant was injured and a motorist was cited for a traffic violation, as the result of a two-car collision which occurred at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday on the Hurley Mountain Road.

Trooper John Turck of the Kingston sub-station said the cars were driven by Kenneth Banks, 29, of 57 Newkirk Avenue, and Michael Letus, 37, of 456 Abeel Street. Investigation by Trooper Robert Houghtaling showed both cars were traveling east at the time of collision.

Turck said Banks was summoned on a charge of failing to keep to the right.

Three Are Given Prison Terms for Maryknoll Try

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—Two men who tried to hold up the post office at the Maryknoll Seminary in Ossining last March 9 have been sentenced to prison.

County Court Judge Robert J. Trainor Wednesday gave Edward Reid, 31, of Queens, a 10-to-20 year term in Sing Sing and Richard Bracken, 22, of The Bronx, an indeterminate term in the Elmira Reformatory.

Both men had pleaded guilty to first-degree robbery.

A third defendant, Robert Mosher, 27, of The Bronx, was sentenced a week ago to 40 to 60 years.

The three were arrested when police, tipped off in advance, surrounded them as they fled with loot from the post office.

Negroes Discount Communist Role In Harlem Riots

NEW YORK (AP)—Top city officials say Communists had a hand in starting New York's racial riots, but Negro leaders discount or minimize the Communist role.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner told reporters Wednesday night there was "some evidence" of Communist involvement. He declined further comment, but said the FBI had supplied information "of the greatest interest."

Roy Wilkins, head of the National Association for the Advancement of colored people, said that "raising the Communist cry won't solve very much at this time."

Wilkins said "provocateurs" may have been involved, but the rioting was not part of any plan.

The Rev. Richard A. Hildbrand, president of the city branch of the NAACP, said Communists may have come in after the riots started, "but the outbreak was spontaneous."

Group Opposing State Doing More In Housing Field

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Proposals to expand the state's role in public housing are under fire from a committee representing real estate interests, and business and taxpayer groups.

The recently formed committee announced Wednesday its goal was "to prevent the State of New York from going further into the housing field at taxpayer expense."

The committee will campaign against a proposed constitutional amendment for a $165-million bond issue on which voters will act in the November election.

The $165 million would be used for additional housing for low-income families.

The proposed amendment would raise the maximum amount that local governments could spend on housing and urban renewal.

It also would eliminate a requirement that such housing be limited to low-income families. Garrison Dillon, chairman of the committee, said the proposals would "open the door to all kinds of extravagant housing ventures which would go far beyond the original intent of slum clearance and low-rent housing for low-income groups."

Change in Bus Fares

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized Freeman Bus Corp. of Watertown to discontinue reduced price token fares and to raise the charge for student riders, effective Aug. 1.

The company said it would raise the price of 10-ride school tickets from $1.25 to $1.60. A uniform 20-cent fare will supplant the system under which tokens are sold at five for 90 cents.

In seeking the increase, the company complained of declining patronage and predicted an eventual cut-back in service as a matter of financial survival.

Capital News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)

Congress has sent to President Johnson for his signature a $1,534,994,000 authorization for construction of military facilities in this country and overseas.

The House approved this compromise measure Wednesday and the Senate passed it shortly afterward.

A separate appropriation bill to finance these projects already has been passed by the House. The Senate has not acted upon the money measure.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union says it isn't shipping American wheat to Cuba.

A minister at the Soviet Embassy here told the State Department Wednesday that reports of such shipments were false.

Capt. Arthur H. Fertig, skipper of the Sister Katingo, reported a few days ago that Russian stevedores in the port of Novorossiysk told him that American grain was being shipped from the Soviet Union to Cuba.

Fertig's ship was boarded and searched by Russians when it left Novorossiysk without clearance last week. The United States protested against what it called excessive methods employed by Soviet authorities.

Georgi M. Komienko, the Soviet minister, denied the reports of the grain shipments. He suggested Fertig made his charge "to provoke trouble" because of the incident at the Black Sea port.

WASHINGTON (AP)—World War II veterans are facing increasingly tougher job competition from youngsters of the postwar baby boom, a Labor Department official says.

Louis Levine, director of the U.S. Employment Service, says the younger men who are coming into the labor market are generally better educated and better equipped for the jobs.

"With each passing year, veterans become especially vulnerable to the rapidly changing labor conditions and hiring specifications," Levine said in an article in "Employment Service Review," published by the Labor Department.

But Levine said that by and large veterans have fared well in the years since the GI Bill 20 years ago provided the nation with its biggest single boost in education and job training.

Disney Creation

Abe's Likeness

Stirs Audiences

At World's Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—The individual star of the World's Fair is none other than Abraham Lincoln.

Some audiences he holds in spellbound silence. Others he sets to cheering wildly.

People go away from his performances in awe with praise and such exclamations as "Stupendous!" "Tremendous!" and "Most impressive and inspiring." Many return time and again.

Lincoln, seen as the feature attraction of the Illinois Pavilion, is the creation of the Walt Disney organization.

He is a new type of animated figure so lifelike many find it hard to believe he isn't really real. He fits the exact description of Lincoln as to face and figure, dress, speech and mannerisms.

After dramatic introductory music and other material, the stage curtains part before a hushed audience to reveal the figure sitting in center stage in a high-backed chair.

Slowly the figure rises, pauses to regard the audience to right and left. Quietly but forcefully he begins to speak. For 10 minutes he delivers excerpts from Lincoln's speeches dealing with liberty and freedom.

There is seldom the slightest sound from the audiences—except for cheers. These come with a roar at the end, when the figure takes its seat.

The champion viewer so far is one man who sat through seven successive performances.

There has been some confusion. An elderly grandmother wanted to know, "What is the name of the actor that plays Lincoln?"

Soldier Is 265th Known Suicide From Frisco Span

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thousands of tourists snap photographs over the majestic Golden Gate Bridge every year. To them it is synonymous with San Francisco.

To San Franciscans, the rust-red suspension bridge is becoming synonymous with suicide. Death leaps from the span have become so frequent that an expression—"I'm about ready for the bridge"—is a common way of expressing disgust with life.

Wednesday a soldier stopped his car on the Golden Gate span and raised the hood. Cars veered around him. He slammed the hood down, ran to the bridge's railing and leaped over to his death.

Drake E. Rogers Jr., 20, of

JUST ADVICE. This is one of Ben Franklin's "Poor Richard's Almanac" proverbs. Franklin's autobiography shows that he achieved the healthy, wealthy and wise reward but it also shows that he didn't follow his own advice of "early to bed, early to rise."

Petaluma, Calif., described by his commanding officer as "an outstanding soldier," was the bridge's 265th known suicide.

Motorist Is Cited, Infant Hurt in Crash

An infant was injured and a motorist was cited for a traffic violation, as the result of a two-car collision which occurred at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday on the Hurley Mountain Road.

Trooper John Turck of the Kingston sub-station said the cars were driven by Kenneth Banks, 29, of 57 Newkirk Avenue, and Michael Letus, 37, of 456 Abeel Street. Investigation showed both cars were traveling east at the time of collision.

Turck said Banks was summoned on a charge of failing to keep to the right.

Jeanine Banks, one-year-old, was treated at Benedictine Hospital for lacerations of the right side of her head.

Three Are Given Prison Terms for Maryknoll Try

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—Two men who tried to hold up the post office at the Maryknoll Seminary in Ossining last March 9 have been sentenced to prison.

County Court Judge Robert J. Trainor Wednesday gave Edward Reid, 31, of Queens, a 10-to-20 year term in Sing Sing and Richard Bracken, 22, of The Bronx, an indeterminate term in the Elmira Reformatory.

Both men had pleaded guilty to first-degree robbery.

A third defendant, Robert Mosher, 27, of The Bronx, was sentenced a week ago to 40 to 60 years.

Allen Funt Picks 6 Sequences He Found Funniest

By ALLEN FUNT
For Cynthia Lowry

NEW YORK (AP)—Picking a half-dozen favorite sequences of "Candid Camera" from the many hundreds recorded isn't easy. It has meant prodding my memory and mentally reconstructing innumerable humorous moments.

As the creator and executive producer of the program naturally, I'm inclined to be partial to most of the sequences shown on air. I wish I were asked to choose my favorite hundred preferences—two hundred. That would have been better. But here are six that I, personally, favor.

One incident involved a junkyard car which we bought and stripped of its motor. With Dorothy Lamour in the driver's seat, the car was towed to the top of a hill and allowed to roll down to a gas station. She asked the attendant to fill the gas tank and check the oil. When he discovered that there was no engine under the hood, the fun began.

In another episode, a speaker and microphone were concealed in a mailbox. One of the recorded conversations was particularly outstanding because a man was deeply engrossed in a conversation with the "talking mailbox" when he noticed a passer-by eyeing him very curiously. At the same time, the mailbox became silent and the man assumed a sheepish look.

Another favorite was a sequence where we synchronized a symphonic selection to coincide with the arm and leg movements of several infants. This gave the impression that the infants were conducting the score.

For another of our sequences, we used a specially constructed station wagon. Dorothy Collins was the driver and she would stop the car and ask a man to sit in the back seat to listen for an unusual rattle. Then she drove on a bit and, unseen by her passenger, she pressed a button and the car split in half, leaving the rear of the car standing as she drove off in the front half.

One of the most delightful episodes took place in a diner. The entire "Candid Camera" staff was installed there. Dorothy Collins was a waitress, the orchestra were patrons who concealed their musical instruments and I was a customer seated at the counter. One of the patrons got into an argument about the salt when suddenly the room burst into music and sound, and the man found himself in the middle of an impromptu musical-comedy scene. Another memorable incident was one in which one of the most delightful children we have ever photographed played the role of Cinderella with remarkable charm and imagination. I filled in with the Prince Charming but the climax came when the clock supposedly struck twelve and nothing would keep her from rushing "back to her fireside."

Allen Funt Picks 6 Sequences He Found Funniest

By ALLEN FUNT
For Cynthia Lowry

NEW YORK (AP)—Picking a half-dozen favorite sequences of "Candid Camera" from the many hundreds recorded isn't easy. It has meant prodding his memory and mentally reconstructing innumerable humorous moments.

As the creator and executive producer of the program naturally, I'm inclined to be partial to most of the sequences shown on air. I wish I were asked to choose my favorite hundred preferences—two hundred. That would have been better. But here are six that I, personally, favor.

One incident involved a junkyard car which we bought and stripped of its motor. With Dorothy Collins in the driver's seat, the car was towed to the top of a hill and allowed to roll down to a gas station. She asked the attendant to fill the gas tank and check the oil. When he discovered that there was no engine under the hood, the fun began.

In another episode, a speaker and microphone were concealed in a mailbox. One of the recorded conversations was particularly outstanding because a man was deeply engrossed in a conversation with the "talking mailbox" when he noticed a passer-by eyeing him very curiously. At the same time, the mailbox became silent and the man assumed a sheepish look.

Another favorite was a sequence where we synchronized a symphonic selection to coincide with the arm and leg movements of several infants. This gave the impression that the infants were conducting the score.

For another of our sequences, we used a specially constructed station wagon. Dorothy Collins was the driver and she would stop the car and ask a man to sit in the back seat to listen for an unusual rattle. Then she drove on a bit and, unseen by her passenger, she pressed a button and the car split in half, leaving the rear of the car standing as she drove off in the front half.

One of the most delightful episodes took place in a diner. The entire "Candid Camera" staff was installed there. Dorothy Collins was a waitress, the orchestra were patrons who concealed their musical instruments and I was a customer seated at the counter. One of the patrons got into an argument about the salt when suddenly the room burst into music and sound, and the man found himself in the middle of an impromptu musical-comedy scene. Another memorable incident was one in which one of the most delightful children we have ever photographed played the role of Cinderella with remarkable charm and imagination. I filled in with the Prince Charming but the climax came when the clock supposedly struck twelve and nothing would keep her from rushing "back to her fireside."

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. James H. Blood, who celebrates her 104th birthday today, is Colorado's oldest registered voter, and she's already decided on her choice for president in the November elections. "We do like Goldwater," she said with a nod to her housekeeper.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Amanda Blake, whose role as Kitty in "Gunsmoke" has left her wooed but unwed, will marry

Arizona cattleman Jason Day Aug. 15.

The couple met several weeks ago on a blind date. It is her third marriage. Day, of Scottsdale, Ariz., said the honeymoon would be at his Escalante, Utah, ranch. Miss Blake returns to the "Gunsmoke" television series Aug. 24.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Mel Torme accuses her singer-husband of having listening devices installed in her Beverly Hills home, of hiring private detectives to spy on her and of taking back a Rolls Royce limousine he gave to her.

Mrs. Arlene Torme filed a petition in Los Angeles Superior Court Wednesday asking the court to restrain her husband from the alleged acts. Torme recently sued for divorce.

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, who will be 90 in November, listened to nearly two hours of debate in the House of Commons Wednesday, but almost fell as he was leaving.

A fellow Conservative party legislator, Sir Rolfe Dudley-Williams, jumped to his feet and caught Sir Winston as the wartime prime minister stumbled and fell backward.

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Prince Charles, heir apparent to the British throne, is in bed with pneumonia after camping out on the grounds of Balmoral Castle with other boys from the Gordonstoun School.

Library to Hold
Film Festival in
City August 4-7

A film festival is being planned by Kingston Library for August 4-7. It will be one of the first in the United States to be given by a library.

The title of the festival will be "The World: Its Places and People" with several films shown each evening on different parts of the United States and the world. The festival will offer an opportunity for those attending to gain an insight on the world, its people, places and problems. No charge will be made for either adults or children.

Among the films scheduled will be "Seal Island" and "Nature's Half Acre," both from the Walt Disney true-life adventure series. The first film tells the story of a far off world — the Aleutians, and the second film deals with the world in microcosm — the life found in a small plot of ground.

In addition to several more Disney true-life adventures there will be documentaries on such places as Russia, Hong Kong and Canada. All will be in color. Full program information will be released soon. Films included in the festival are planned to be of current interest to both children and adults.

All showings are planned for the early evening, but groups and organizations may contact the library concerning special morning showings.

Special displays of new books on the world, its people and places will be on exhibit at the library during the festival.

The films will be provided by Mid-Hudson Libraries, the five-county library system, under its audio-visual program.

The festival is intended to also publicize the library's film loan service available to groups and organizations in the Kingston area. Program chairmen may wish to take the opportunity during the festival to preview films for later showing to their own organizations, since any film shown may be borrowed through the library.

Receiving Grants

Gateway Industries, rehabilitation workshop for the physically handicapped at Field Court, is one of 12 rehabilitation workshops in the state to receive grants ranging to $30,000 each, it was announced today by the State Education Department.

Gateway will receive a $15,000 grant, which will be ticketed for salaries.

The Legislature authorized $200,000 for the first year of the state-aided program. The size of the individual grants depends on the capacity of the workshop.

Other workshops to receive grants are in Buffalo, Rochester, Monroe County, Utica and Westchester County.

Riot Toll Jumps To 18 Amid New Singapore Clashes

SINGAPORE (AP) — Chinese and Malays poured into the streets of Singapore for more racial battles today, pushing the official death toll to 18 since communal rioting began Tuesday night.

Hospitals reported 65 more injured were brought in after four hours of serious clashes, most of them during a morning break in the curfew to allow people to buy food.

Conflicting official reports of the total number of injured in the battling ranged from 192 to more than 300.

Police, riot units and troops had hauled in 1,038 persons on curfew violation charges and another 195 were charged with unlawful assembly or rioting.

A federal police spokesman in Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia, said although the situation continued serious in Singapore, the rioting had not spread to other parts of Malaysia.

Chinese who had set up their own vigilante force in one village area on the outskirts grabbed a Malay cyclist and beat him senseless.

Three miles from the center of the city a group of Malays beat up a Chinese youth, while another group of Malays tried to loot a Chinese goldsmith's shop. Club-wielding police scattered the Malays.

More than 6,000 police and troops are patrolling the island.

The rioting began Tuesday night during a procession by 25,000 Malays marching in honor of the Prophet Mohammed's birthday. The Chinese outnumbered the Malays more than 5 to 1 in Singapore, but the Malays dominate the government of Malaysia, of which Singapore is a member.

Two international airlines canceled their flights to Singapore. Security precautions at the airport were tightened to prevent any incident to persons using carriers still flying.

Pan American World Airways stopped a flight from the U.S. West Coast at Saigon. A Japan Airlines plane from Jakarta overflew Singapore en route to Bangkok.

School children got a break. The Education Department announced that schools will close immediately for the one-month summer vacation, a week ahead of schedule.

LAKEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. James H. Blood, who celebrates her 104th birthday today, is Colorado's oldest registered voter, and she's already decided on her choice for president in the November elections. "We do like Goldwater," she said with a nod to her housekeeper.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Amanda Blake, whose role as Kitty in "Gunsmoke" has left her wooed but unwed, will marry Arizona cattleman Jason Day Aug. 15. The couple met several weeks ago on a blind date. It is her third marriage. Day, of Scottsdale, Ariz., said the honeymoon would be at his Escalante, Utah, ranch. Miss Blake returns to the "Gunsmoke" television series Aug. 24.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Mel Torme accuses her singer-husband of having listening devices installed in her Beverly Hills home, of hiring private detectives to spy on her and of taking back a Rolls Royce limousine he gave to her.

Mrs. Arlene Torme filed a petition in Los Angeles Superior Court Wednesday asking the court to restrain her husband from the alleged acts. Torme recently sued for divorce.

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, who will be 90 in November, listened to nearly two hours of debate in the House of Commons Wednesday, but almost fell as he was leaving.

A fellow Conservative party legislator, Sir Rolfe Dudley-Williams, jumped to his feet and caught Sir Winston as the wartime prime minister stumbled and fell backward.

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Prince Charles, heir apparent to the British throne, is in bed with pneumonia after camping out on the grounds of Balmoral Castle with other boys from the Gordonstoun School.

The prince, who will be 16 Nov. 14, was taken to a nursing home where his condition was said to be not serious.

Library to Hold
Film Festival in
City August 4-7

A film festival is being planned by Kingston Library for August 4-7. It will be one of the first in the United States to be given by a library.

The title of the festival will be "The World: Its Places and People" with several films shown each evening on different parts of the United States and the world. The festival will offer an opportunity for those attending to gain an insight on the world, its people, places and problems. No charge will be made for either adults or children.

Among the films scheduled will be "Seal Island" and "Nature's Half Acre," both from the Walt Disney true-life adventure series. The first film tells the story of a far off world — the Aleutians, and the second film deals with the world in microcosm — the life found in a small plot of ground.

In addition to several more Disney true-life adventures there will be documentaries on such places as Russia, Hong Kong and Canada. All will be in color. Full program information will be released soon. Films included in the festival are planned to be of current interest to both children and adults.

All showings are planned for the early evening, but groups and organizations may contact the library concerning special morning showings.

Special displays of new books on the world, its people and places will be on exhibit at the library during the festival.

The films will be provided by Mid-Hudson Libraries, the five-county library system, under its audio-visual program.

The festival is intended to also publicize the library's film loan service available to groups and organizations in the Kingston area. Program chairmen may wish to take the opportunity during the festival to preview films for later showing to their own organizations, since any film shown may be borrowed through the library.

Gateway Industry
Among Units
Receiving Grants

Gateway Industries, rehabilitation workshop for the physically handicapped at Field Court, is one of 12 rehabilitation workshops in the state to receive grants ranging to $30,000 each, it was announced today by the State Education Department.

Gateway will receive a $15,000 grant, which will be ticketed for salaries.

The Legislature authorized $200,000 for the first year of the state-aided program. The size of the individual grants depends on the capacity of the workshop.

Other workshops to receive grants are in Buffalo, Rochester, Monroe County, Utica and Westchester County.

Crawfish, prawns and shrimp are allied to the lobster.

Riot Toll Jumps To 18 Amid New Singapore Clashes

SINGAPORE (AP) — Chinese and Malays poured into the streets of Singapore for more racial battles today, pushing the official death toll to 18 since communal rioting began Tuesday night.

Hospitals reported 65 more injured were brought in after four hours of serious clashes, most of them during a morning break in the curfew to allow people to buy food.

Conflicting official reports of the total number of injured in the battling ranged from 192 to more than 300.

Police, riot units and troops had hauled in 1,038 persons on curfew violation charges and another 195 were charged with unlawful assembly or rioting.

A federal police spokesman in Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia, said although the situation continued serious in Singapore, the rioting had not spread to other parts of Malaysia.

Chinese who had set up their own vigilante force in one village area on the outskirts grabbed a Malay cyclist and beat him senseless.

Three miles from the center of the city a group of Malays beat up a Chinese youth, while another group of Malays tried to loot a Chinese goldsmith's shop. Club-wielding police scattered the Malays.

More than 6,000 police and troops are patrolling the island. The rioting began Tuesday night during a procession by 25,000 Malays marching in honor of the Prophet Mohammed's birthday. The Chinese outnumber the Malays more than 5 to 1 in Singapore, but the Malays dominate the government of Malaysia, of which Singapore is a member.

Two international airlines canceled their flights to Singapore. Security precautions at the airport were tightened to prevent any incident to persons using carriers still flying.

Pan American World Airways stopped a flight from the U.S. West Coast at Saigon. A Japan Airlines plane from Jakarta overflew Singapore en route to Bangkok.

School children got a break. The Education Department announced that schools will close immediately for the one-month summer vacation, a week ahead of schedule.

Hearing Is Set For Aug. 19th on Gambling Charge

Hearing scheduled Wednesday night for Thomas M. Delcotto, 46, of the Shady Lawn Hotel, Plattekill, was adjourned until Aug. 19 by Justice of the Peace Vincent J. Porcelli, of that township.

Delcotto, proprietor of the hotel, was one of several men arrested by state police in charge of BCI Investigator Joseph Franke, after troopers said they raided a crap game in the cellar of the hotel.

Delcotto was charged with permitting gambling on a licensed premises and a violation of the ABC laws. He was continued in bail of $100.

Troopers said they seized $522.80 they found on the game table, and arrested 17 other men. Two were fined $50 each after pleading guilty to being common gamblers, and 15 were fined $10 each on charges of disorderly conduct. The men were residents of Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Newburgh, troopers reported.

Taking part in the raid were troopers from Kingston, Highland and Ellenville sub-stations.

Ulster GOP to Discuss Picnic Plans Tonight

A special meeting of the Town of Ulster Republican Club has been called for tonight at 8 o'clock by President Anthony Cicoria. The meeting will be held at the Spring Lake pavilion. It is not customary for the club to meet during the summer months but the special meeting is necessary to discuss plans for the annual picnic which will be held in September. The annual picnic each fall is one of three of the social activities of the Town of Ulster Republican Club and is always a big drawing card. A large attendance is desired.

Mrs. Van Dyke

act as a private individual, she would resign.

Denies 'Infiltration'
Miss Miller denied on Wednesday that the local chapter was being "infiltrated" by a Woodstock group.

However, Mrs. DeWitt told The Freeman that of 18 active members in the chapter, 12 were white residents from Woodstock, one was from Germantown and only the remaining five were from Kingston, all Negroes. She also said that she felt Miss Miller, as president of the chapter, had apparently acted individually and inconsistently with what she interprets as CORE policy by failing to notify the entire membership of the next meeting of the chapter.

Notified At Meetings
Mrs. DeWitt said the members are normally notified at the regular meetings as to the time and place of the next meeting. She said she learned that there was a meeting scheduled next Sunday in the New Central Baptist Church and she only learned of the meeting by calling Miss Miller and inquiring as to the next meeting.

Miss Miller in reply Wednesday to Mrs. Van Dyke's charges said that the local chapter "wants it clearly understood that neither the Woodstock Playhouse (location of a CORE rally scheduled for Sept. 18) nor its owner, M. Edgar Rosenblum, is in any way associated with the group, as implied by Mrs. Van Dyke."

Mrs. Van Dyke did not imply that in answering the original inquiries. She noted that the fact the rally was scheduled for Woodstock rather than Kingston was further evidence of the "move to get us Kingston people out," Mrs. Van Dyke said today. "Why I didn't even know who Mr. Rosenblum was."

Miller Still Serious

Assistant Supt. of Schools in the Kingston Consolidated District, M. Clifford Miller, remained in serious condition today at Kingston Hospital. He suffered an attack at his home in Elmendorf Tract, Town of Hurley, Tuesday and was taken to the hospital by Doctor's ambulance.

Speeding Charge In Car-Motorcycle Mishap Dismissed

A charge of speeding lodged against Vincent H. Rudolph, 39, of 102 Hone Street, last June 21 after a car-motorcycle mishap on Broadway near O'Neil Street, was dismissed in city court today because of insufficient evidence.

Rudolph drove the car involved and the motorcycle was operated by Jacob C. Senor Jr., 26, of Colonial Gardens. Gloria Mary Senor, 24, of the same address, was treated at Kingston Hospital for hip and arm injuries. Officers Ira Hadel and Oscar Gray investigated the collision.

Attorney Marshall Lipton appeared today for Rudolph, and Robert A. MacKinnon for the district attorney's office. Frank Byer, 50, of 230 Lucas Avenue, and Robert Villhelm, 17, of Ulster Park, admitted speeding charges, and were fined $15 each.

James Williams, 25, of McRae, Ga., charged with causing "unnecessary noise" with a motor vehicle, pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Dennis Noonan, 23, of 42 Elmendorf Street, was arrested at police headquarters this morning by Detective Leonard Ellisworth on a third degree assault charge. Police said he is charged with having assaulted Kenneth Weaver, 15, of Mt. Marion, on Elmendorf Street earlier this month. Bail of $500 was not posted and he was taken to jail pending city court hearing Friday.

Dutchess Records 28th Road Death, Woman Is Victim

Dutchess County's 28th highway fatality of 1964 occurred at 1:15 a. m. today, when a 24-year-old woman motorist was killed on a highway in the Town of Pawling.

Brewster State Police said the victim, Roxie Marie Coons, of Windgate, was riding alone at the time she met death. She was driving east on Route 55 about 1 1/2 miles west of Route 22 near Pawling village, when the 1961 car she was operating veered off the south side of the highway, skidded back across the opposite lane and crashed into a large boulder.

Miss Coons was ejected from the car as it overturned. Troopers said the vehicle rolled over three times before coming to a stop.

Dr. Michael Badeen, Millerton, a Dutchess County assistant medical examiner investigated with troopers. It was reported the young woman died of internal injuries and a skull fracture. The Dutchess highway death toll is only two below the 30 traffic deaths reported for the entire year of 1963.

Levels Falling Again

DETROIT (AP)—Great Lakes water levels — which already have seeped away from many docks and exposed thousands of acres of what used to be lake bottom — are falling again or will be within the next month. And the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers expects them to keep right on dropping for at least the next six months.

Lakes Michigan and Huron, joined by the Straits of Mackinac, are expected to drop to an all-time low by the end of December, wiping out a low record set only last April.

122 Arrested . . .

men, 227 arrested, 371 property damage incidents.

In Manhattan, 500 white teenagers held Negro demonstrators outside police headquarters. A police charge broke up the mob.

Harlem, however, was quiet—even quieter than on a normal summer Wednesday night, police said.

There were no riot arrests. No police shots were fired. No streets were sealed off in the nation's largest Negro community, where violence had flared for four nights in a row following the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old Negro boy by a white police lieutenant.

Arrests Total 227

Police arrested 122 Negroes in the Brooklyn disorders Wednesday night and early today. This raised the Brooklyn arrest total to 227 since the trouble began. Charges included felonious assault, looting from stores and disorderly conduct. About 200 store windows were smashed — making a total of 400 since the disorders started.

Many in the Brooklyn disorders headed for home or other shelter when rain started late in the night.

Wagner later told newsmen that there is "some evidence" of Communist instigation of the racial rioting.

About 150 Negro leaders—in highly unusual demonstration of unity—issued early today a demand for the immediate firing of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy; Deputy Commissioner Walter A. Am, the public relations man for the police department; and the "inspector who led the riot squad in Harlem."

The Negro leaders, said to represent 52 Negro organizations, met Wednesday night in Harlem.

The leaders decided to send a five-man committee of their unity group—which was not given a name—to a meeting Friday night of Harlem Youth Opportunities Unlimited, a civic group, to join in a discussion of ways of presenting the grievances of Harlem residents to government officials.

Government funds have been allotted to the civic group to fight poverty and otherwise improve conditions in the area. A jeering crowd of 500 white teenagers threw eggs, bottles, stones and tin cans at about 200 Negro pickets outside city police headquarters in Manhattan Wednesday night.

CORE Pickets Struck
A half-dozen pickets—allied with the Congress of Racial Equality—were hit by eggs.

The white teenagers, who apparently were from the Italian-American neighborhood around police headquarters, shouted "Niggers go home" and "Communists must go."

Firecrackers popped at various spots in the neighborhood, adding to the tension. Helmeted police, waving night sticks, charged the white teenagers. Other policemen escorted the Negro pickets to a subway station three blocks away. This march took 15 minutes, and at each cross street the whites hurled more missiles, striking the police as often as the pickets.

The fray left the streets around police headquarters strewn with broken glass and other debris.

A policeman and a young woman picket were injured by missiles in the melee. They were treated at hospitals and released.

Negroes Jeer NAACP Plea

In Brooklyn, a crowd composed mostly of Negro teenagers gathered around a truck with a loudspeaker and jeered officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People as they appealed to Negroes to get off the streets. Police dispersed the crowd.

Thirty-five Negro leaders, who attended a meeting in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section, said in a resolution that "the people can no longer be restrained."

The leaders demanded an audience with the mayor in Bedford-Stuyvesant and made a number of other demands on city officials to improve the lot of Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Seize Arms Cache
In Harlem, police raided the headquarters of the Black Nationalist group headed by Malcolm X in a room at the Hotel Theresa, 125th Street and Seventh Avenue.

They said they seized a loaded rifle and more than 100 rounds of ammunition. The raid was made at 3 a.m. today on the basis of an anonymous tip to the New York Journal-American. No one was in the raided room.

Mayor Wagner, who looked weary after his speedy trip home and many hours of conference with aides, made a fervent appeal for law and order in his radio and television appearance.

He said continued disorders could set back Negro progress and other civil rights programs half a century.

The mayor said President Johnson telephoned him Wednesday and authorized him to state that the assignment of FBI agents to New York City was "solely to assist, support and supplement what we are already doing in the way of meeting the threats to law and order."

Wagner said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has supplied Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy "with certain information which is of greatest interest and use."

This cryptic remark was taken in some quarters as a reference to the statement by City Council President Paul R. Serevane, who was acting during Wagner's absence in Europe, that the Harlem disorders were incited in part by "Communists and other fringe groups."

Upholds Murphy
Wagner said the killing of the Negro boy by the white police lieutenant a week ago today outside a school in Yorkville—"raised questions about the responsibility and behavior" of the police.

Wagner, however, expressed complete confidence in Police Commissioner Murphy.

In addition to the reports that Communists have had a hand in the disorders, there were reports that radical right-wing groups have instigated part of the clashes between police and Negroes.

Several Negro leaders in Harlem have said that Communist influence—if it existed at all—has been minor.

The Communist party of New York State said in a statement that Serevane's charge about Communist influence was a "monstrous lie."

The statement added: "Mr. Serevane's big lie is an incitement to a police force that cannot but reflect the racist policies of an administration callous of the democratic demands of its Negro citizens."

A Bloomington volunteer fireman was injured early today while assisting at the scene of a fire that destroyed a large frame storage building on his property.

Yackle was given first aid at the scene by Bloomington and Binnewater firemen, according to Fire Chief Oscar Hahn of Bloomington. Assisting at the scene were Rosendale and Tilton volunteer fire fighters, who responded through mutual aid.

Yackle resides on Quarry Hill Road, Bloomington. Chief Hahn said when firemen arrived the building was a mass of flames. The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Viet Cong Rips Relief Force, 17 Dead, 34 Wounded

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A powerful Communist unit pounced on a South Vietnamese mechanized relief force late Wednesday, inflicting 54 casualties and destroying an armored vehicle with recoilless cannon.

The clash, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon, was the latest in a bloody series of one-day attacks on big government units.

60 of Enemy Killed

Vietnamese officers estimated however, that their force killed 60 of the enemy. They captured one Communist gun, a 57MM recoilless cannon.

Seventeen government troops were killed, 34 were wounded and three were missing. Several U.S. advisors were involved in the firefight, but all were reported uninjured.

The fight began along a road as several hundred troops and about 25 amphibious personnel carriers were rushing from the Truong Lap ranger post to the defense of a beleaguered outpost.

Not Caught by Surprise

The government force evidently was not caught by surprise, and was fighting as soon as first shots rang out.

The road runs near the edge of the Communist-controlled and densely jungled area north of Saigon that is called "D Zone."

The seesaw fighting continued until two hours after sunset. The government launched a new operation today, but no new contact was reported.

The government reported finding a mass grave containing the bodies of 42 Viet Cong guerrillas who had participated in the blood attack on Cai Be Monday. In the course of the attack, 40 women and children were slaughtered, their quarters were burned to the ground, and about 20 defenders were killed.

Many former employees gathered at the plant this morning and some were still there in the early afternoon, but said they had received no definite word as to whether the payroll had arrived, or would arrive soon.

Physician Given 2-3 Prison Term, In Killing Coed

NEW YORK (AP)—A Queens physician, who dismembered a 19-year-old coed after she died during an abortion in his office, has been sentenced to 2-to-8 years in Sing Sing Prison.

Supreme Court Justice Peter T. Farrell passed sentence on Dr. Harvey Lothringer, 43, yesterday on the physician's plea of guilty to second-degree manslaughter.

Dr. Lothringer fled the country with his Cuban receptionist, Teresa Carillo, 25, after Barbara Lofromento died in his office June 3, 1964.

Miss Lofromento, of Pelham, was a sophomore at New Rochelle College. Her dismembered body was later found in a sewer near the physician's office.

Police found Dr. Lothringer and the receptionist in the tiny Pyrenees country of Andorra, near the French-Spanish border.

The physician ended his trial on abortion and first-degree manslaughter charges when he pleaded guilty to the lesser charge.

Upstate School Official's House Target of Bomb

BURNT HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The home of a former assistant principal of the Burnt Hills High School was hit early today by a minor bombing attack, the second of its kind in 2 1/2 months.

No one was injured in the explosions, which police believe could be the work of hostile students.

Johannes Olsen, who has quit his post at the school, was out of town at the time of the attack, about 3 a.m. His wife, awakened by the explosions, was not harmed.

Troopers said a "Molotov cocktail"—a bottle of gasoline with a cloth fuse—was thrown against the picture window.

A mail box and the picture window were wrecked by similar explosions on May 4.

Hearing Is Set For Aug. 19th on Gambling Charge

Hearing scheduled Wednesday night for Thomas M. Delcotto, 46, of the Shady Lawn Hotel, Plattekill, was adjourned until Aug. 19 by Justice of the Peace Vincent J. Porcelli, of that township.

Delcotto, proprietor of the hotel, was one of several men arrested by state police in charge of BCI Investigator Joseph Franke, after troopers said they raided a crap game in the cellar of the hotel.

Delcotto was charged with permitting gambling on a licensed premises and a violation of the ABC laws. He was continued in bail of $100.

Troopers said they seized $522.80 they found on the game table, and arrested 17 other men. Two were fined $50 each after pleading guilty to being common gamblers, and 15 were fined $10 each on charges of disorderly conduct. The men were residents of Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Newburgh, troopers reported.

Taking part in the raid were troopers from Kingston, Highland and Ellenville sub-stations.

Mrs. Van Dyke

act as a private individual, she would resign.

Denies 'Infiltration'

Miss Miller denied on Wednesday that the local chapter was being "infiltrated" by a Woodstock group.

However, Mrs. DeWitt told The Freeman that of 18 active members in the chapter, 12 were white residents from Woodstock, one was from Germantown and only the remaining five were from Kingston, all Negroes. She also said that she felt Miss Miller, as president of the chapter, had apparently acted individually and inconsistent with what she interprets as CORE policy by failing to notify the entire membership of the next meeting of the chapter.

Notified At Meetings

Mrs. DeWitt said the members are normally notified at the regular meetings as to the time and place of the next meeting. She said she learned that there was a meeting scheduled next Sunday in the New Central Baptist Church and she only learned of the meeting by calling Miss Miller and inquiring as to the next meeting.

Miss Miller in reply Wednesday to Mrs. Van Dyke's charges said that the local chapter "wants it clearly understood that neither the Woodstock Playhouse (location of a CORE rally scheduled for Sept. 18) nor its owner, M. Edgar Rosenblum, is in any way associated with the group as implied by Mrs. Van Dyke."

Mrs. Van Dyke did not imply that in answering the original inquiries. She noted that the fact the rally was scheduled for Woodstock rather than Kingston was further evidence of the "move to get us Kingston people out." Mrs. Van Dyke said today, "Why I didn't even know who Mr. Rosenblum was."

Miller Still Serious

Assistant Supt. of Schools in the Kingston Consolidated District, M. Clifford Miller, remained in serious condition today at Kingston Hospital. He suffered an attack at his home in Elmendorf Tract, Town of Hurley, Tuesday and was taken to the hospital by Doctor's ambulance.

Speeding Charge In Car-Motorcycle Mishap Dismissed

A charge of speeding lodged against Vincent H. Rudolph, 39, of 102 Hone Street, last June 21 after a car-motorcycle mishap on Broadway near O'Neil Street, was dismissed in city court today because of insufficient evidence.

Rudolph drove the car involved and the motorcycle was operated by Jacob C. Senor Jr., 26, of Colonial Gardens. Gloria Mary Senor, 24, of the same address, was treated at Kingston Hospital for hip and arm injuries. Officers Ira Hadsel and Oscar Gray investigated the collision.

Attorney Marshall Lipton appeared today for Rudolph, and Robert A. MacKinnon for the district attorney's office.

Frank Byer, 50, of 230 Lucas Avenue, and Robert Villhelm, 17, of Ulster Park, admitted speeding charges, and were fined $15 each.

James Williams, 25, of McRae, Ga., charged with causing "unnecessary noise" with a motor vehicle, pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Dennis Noonan, 23, of 42 Elmendorf Street, was arrested at police headquarters this morning by Detective Leonard Ellisworth on a third degree assault charge. Police said he is charged with having assaulted Kenneth Weaver, 15, of Mt. Marion, on Elmendorf Street earlier this month. Bail of $500 was not posted and he was taken to jail pending city court hearing Friday.

Dutchess Records 28th Road Death, Woman Is Victim

Dutchess County's 28th highway fatality of 1964 occurred at 1:15 a. m. today, when a 24-year-old woman motorist was killed on a highway in the Town of Pawling.

Brewster State Police said the victim, Roxie Marie Coons, of Wingdale, was riding alone at the time she met death. She was driving east on Route 35 about 1½ miles west of Route 22 near Pawling village, when the 1961 car she was operating veered off the south side of the highway, skidded back across the opposite lane and crashed into a large boulder.

Miss Coons was ejected from the car as it overturned. Troopers said the vehicle rolled over three times before coming to a stop.

Dr. Michael Badeen, Millerton, a Dutchess County assistant medical examiner investigated with troopers. It was reported the young woman died of internal injuries and a skull fracture. The Dutchess highway death toll is only two below the 30 traffic deaths reported for the entire year of 1963.

Levels Falling Again

DETROIT (AP)—Great Lakes water levels—which already have seeped away from many docks and exposed thousands of acres of what used to be lake bottom—are falling again or will be within the next month.

And the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers expects them to keep right on dropping for at least the next six months.

Lakes Michigan and Huron, joined by the Straits of Mackinac, are expected to drop to an all-time low by the end of December, wiping out a low record set only last April.

men, 227 arrested, 371 property damage incidents.

In Manhattan, 500 white teenagers pelted Negro demonstrators outside police headquarters. A police charge broke up the mob.

Harlem, however, was quiet—even quieter—than on a normal summer Wednesday night, police said.

There were no riot arrests. No streets were sealed off in the nation's largest Negro community, where violence had flared for four nights in a row following the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old Negro boy by a white police lieutenant.

Arrests Total 227

Police arrested 122 Negroes in the Brooklyn disorders Wednesday night and early today. This raised the Brooklyn arrest total to 227 since the trouble began. Charges included felonious assault, looting from stores and disorderly conduct. About 200 store windows were smashed—making a total of 400 since the disorders started.

Many in the Brooklyn crowds headed for home or other shelter when rain started late in the night.

Wagner later told newsmen that there is "some evidence" of Communist instigation of the racial rioting.

About 150 Negro leaders—in highly unusual demonstration of unity—issued early today a demand for the immediate firing of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy; Deputy Commissioner Walter Aam, the public relations man for the police department; and the "inspector who led the riot squad in Harlem."

The Negro leaders, said to represent 52 Negro organizations, met Wednesday night in Harlem.

The leaders decided to send a five-man committee of their unity group—which was not given a name—to a meeting Friday night of Harlem Youth Opportunities Unlimited, a civic group, to join in a discussion of ways of presenting the grievances of Harlem residents to government officials.

Government funds have been allotted to the civic group to fight poverty and otherwise improve conditions in the area.

A jeering crowd of 500 white teenagers threw eggs, bottles, stones and tin cans at about 200 Negro pickets outside city police headquarters in Manhattan Wednesday night.

CORE Pickets Struck

A half-dozen pickets—allied with the Congress of Racial Equality—were hit by eggs.

The white teenagers, who apparently were from the Italian American neighborhood around police headquarters, shouted "Niggers go home" and "Communists must go."

Firecrackers popped at various spots in the neighborhood, adding to the tension.

Helmeted police, waving night sticks, charged the white teenagers. Other policemen escorted the Negro pickets to a subway station three blocks away. This march took 15 minutes, and at each cross street the whites hurled more missiles, striking the police as often as the pickets.

The fray left the streets around police headquarters strewn with broken glass and other debris.

A policeman and a young woman picket were injured by missiles in the melee. They were treated at hospitals and released.

Negroes Jeer NAACP Plea

In Brooklyn, a crowd composed mostly of Negro teenagers gathered around a truck with a loudspeaker and jeered officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People as they appealed to Negroes to get off the streets. Police dispersed the crowd.

Thirty-five Negro leaders, who attended a meeting in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section, said in a resolution that "the people can no longer be restrained."

The leaders demanded an au-

Clarence Yackie, 42, of Box 89, Bloomington, was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance, after he reportedly fell over a pile of tree trimmings and lumber at the scene of the fire. He suffered lacerations of the hands, arms and face.

Yackie resides on Quarry Hill Road, Bloomington. Chief Hahn said when firemen arrived the building was a mass of flames. The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Seize Arms Cache

In Harlem, police raided the headquarters of the Black Nationalist group headed by Malcolm X in a room at the Hotel Theresa, 125th Street and Seventh Avenue.

They said they seized a loaded rifle and more than 100 rounds of ammunition.

The raid was made at 3 a.m. today on the basis of an anonymous tip to the New York Journal-American. No one was in the raided room.

Mayor Wagner, who looked weary after his speedy trip home and many hours of conference with aides, made a fervent appeal for aid and order in his radio and television appearance.

The mayor said President Johnson telephoned him Wednesday and authorized him to state that the assignment of FBI agents to New York City was "solely to assist, support and supplement what we are already doing in the way of meeting the threats to law and order."

Wagner said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has supplied Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy "with certain information which is of greatest interest and use."

This cryptic remark was taken in some quarters as a reference to the statement by City Council President Paul R. Serevane, who was acting during Wagner's absence in Europe, that the Harlem disorders were incited in part by "Communists and other fringe groups."

Upholds Murphy

Wagner said the killing of the Negro boy by the white police lieutenant a week ago today outside a school in Yorkville—"raised questions about the responsibility and behavior" of the police.

Wagner, however, expressed complete confidence in Police Commissioner Murphy.

In addition to the reports that Communists have had a hand in the disorders, there were reports that radical right-wing groups have instigated part of the clashes between police and Negroes.

Several Negro leaders in Harlem have said that Communist influence—if it existed at all—has been minor.

The Communist party of New York State said in a statement that Serevane's charge about Communist influence was a "monstrous lie."

The statement added: "Mr. Serevane's big lie is an incitement to a police force that cannot but reflect the racist policies of an administration callous of the democratic demands of its Negro citizens."

Viet Cong Rips Relief Force, 17 Dead, 34 Wounded

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A powerful Communist unit pounced on a South Vietnamese mechanized relief force late Wednesday, inflicting 54 casualties and destroying an armored vehicle with recoilless cannon.

The clash, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon, was the latest in a bloody series of one-day attacks on big government units.

60 of Enemy Killed

Vietnamese officers estimated however, that their force killed 60 of the enemy. They captured one Communist gun, a 57MM recoilless cannon.

Seventeen government troops were killed, 34 were wounded and three were missing. Several U.S. advisors were involved in the firefight, but all were reported uninjured.

The fight began along a road as several hundred troops and about 25 amphibious personnel carriers were rushing from the Trung Lap ranger post to the defense of a beleaguered outpost.

Not Caught by Surprise

The government force evidently was not caught by surprise, and was fighting as soon as first shots rang out.

The road runs near the edge of the Communist - controlled and densely jungled area north of Saigon that is called "D Zone."

The seersaw fighting continued until two hours after sunset. The government launched a new operation today, but no new contact was reported.

The government reported finding a mass grave containing the bodies of 42 Viet Cong guerrillas who had participated in the bloody attack on Cai Be Monday. In the course of the attack, 40 women and children were slaughtered, their quarters were burned to the ground, and about 20 defenders were killed.

No Pay Received Up to 1 P. M. by Electrol Workers

Employees of Electrol Inc., 85 Grand Street, which had manufactured hydraulic units before it closed recently, today said they had received no definite word, up to 1 p. m. that a final payroll had arrived here.

Robert Myers, of Fairview Avenue, a former plant employee and president of the machinists' union, said yesterday he had received a copy of a telegram from the Avien Corp., of Long Island, saying that the payroll was to be forwarded, as of yesterday.

Many former employees gathered at the plant this morning and some were still there in the early afternoon, but said they had received no definite word as to whether the payroll had arrived, or would arrive soon.

Physician Given 2-8 Prison Term, In Killing Coed

NEW YORK (AP)—A Queens physician, who dismembered a 19-year-old coed after she died during an abortion in his office, has been sentenced to 2-to-8 years in Sing Sing Prison.

Supreme Court Justice Peter T. Farrell passed sentence on Dr. Harvey Lothringer, 43, yesterday on the physician's plea of guilty to second-degree manslaughter.

Dr. Lothringer fled the country with his Cuban receptionist, Teresa Carillo, 25, after Barbara Lofrumento died in his office on June 3, 1962.

Miss Lofrumento, of Pelham, was a sophomore at New Rochelle College. Her dismembered body was later found in a sewer near the physician's office.

Police found Dr. Lothringer and the receptionist in the tiny Pyrenees country of Andorra, near the French-Spanish border.

Upstate School Official's House Target of Bomb

BURNT HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The home of a former assistant principal of the Burnt Hills High School was hit early today by a minor bombing attack, the second of its kind in 2½ months.

No one was injured in the explosions, which police believe could be the work of hostile students.

Johannes Olsen, who has quit his post at the school, was out of town at the time of the attack, about 3 a.m. His wife, awakened by the explosions, was not harmed.

Troopers said a "Molotov cocktail"—a bottle of gasoline with a cloth fuse—was thrown against the picture window.

A mail box and the picture window were wrecked by similar explosions on May 4.

Calls GOP Convention Like Nazis

Khrushchev Critical of U. S. Politicians Before Voting

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev doesn't seem to like American politicians, at least while they're running for office. Once they're elected, though, he gets along all right with them, sometimes.

His attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater this week wasn't the first time he butted into American politics. He did the same in 1960 when he said the presidential candidates—John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon—looked equally undesirable.

"They are a pair of boots," he said, meaning it was hard to tell them apart.

Like Nazis, K Says
In Warsaw the Soviet Premier accused Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, of trying to "enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats."

He likened last week's Republican convention which nominated Goldwater to a Nazi party rally.

In 1960 Khrushchev called Kennedy and Nixon "lackeys of monopoly capital," trying to outdo each other in their anti-communism.

At that time he insisted he was impartial in his distaste for both men, didn't favor one over the other, but admitted he knew less about Kennedy than about Nixon, who had debated him in a Moscow kitchen.

After Kennedy became president, Khrushchev had his ups and downs with him, the ups when Kennedy didn't try to demolish the Berlin wall and the downs when Kennedy made him take his missiles out of Cuba.

Had Their Own Phone
After that, they seemed to get along fine, or as fine as could be expected, and even installed a "hot line" between the White House and the Kremlin so they could talk to each other in a hurry if there was an incident, accidental or otherwise, which might cause a nuclear war.

When Kennedy was assassinated last November, the Russian, in a note of regret to Mrs. Kennedy, said the president's death was a "hard blow to all people who cherish the cause of peace and Soviet-American co-operation."

Since neither Kennedy nor Nixon was in the White House before the 1960 election, Khrushchev may have felt free to talk about them—and for the same reason about Goldwater now—than he would about President Johnson who is in the White House and will be running for election.

Pleasant So Far
Johnson and Khrushchev have had some dealings, apparently pleasant so far. They exchanged New Year's greetings. Khrushchev later said he thought Johnson a reasonable man who seemed to share Kennedy's view that a nuclear war "makes no sense."

Khrushchev got along well with President Dwight D. Eisenhower, for a time. They had a summit meeting and Khrushchev even visited him at Camp David. But then an American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union and they didn't get along well at all.

If Khrushchev had been born here he might have cut quite a figure in American politics. He's an international handshaker and even the way he criticizes his opponents has an American whiff.

Iced Coffee: Real Thirst Quencher

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A tall glass of frosty iced coffee sure hits the spot on a sweltering day.

It is easy to make. You can adjust the calories to your needs. Drink it black for virtually no calories or use a liquid artificial sweetener. For the less calorie conscious, use heavy cream and sugar or simple syrup.

Best way to make it? The Coffee Brewing Institute gives rules for three methods:

1. Start by making some extra hot coffee at breakfast time. Cool the coffee, pour it into a refrigerator ice tray and turn up the controls for quick freezing. When you want an afternoon cooler, fill a tall glass with the coffee ice cubes and pour in regular-strength, hot coffee. You'll have a full-flavored frosty beverage without dilution.

2. Here's another easy method. Brew a potful of extra-strength coffee. (Use 3 level measuring tablespoons of coffee to each ¾ measuring cup of water). Pour hot into tall ice-filled glasses.

3. The easiest and fastest way to make iced coffee is the instant method. Into each glass, spoon about twice as much instant coffee powder as you would use for a cup. Dissolve the coffee by stirring in a little warm water. Add ice cubes to the top and enough cold water to fill the glass within half an inch of the top.

A simple sugar syrup is recommended for iced coffee because it goes into solution immediately. To make the syrup, boil together equal amounts of sugar and water for five minutes. Cool and store in the refrigerator.

If you use cream in iced coffee, get the best cream available. It makes a real difference in the flavor. For those who don't take cream, use twist of lemon peel or a bit of mint.

Outdoor chefs will love Gaynor Maddox's new book, "Cook Out." To order send name, address and $1 to "Cook Out," c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

ICED COFFEE, black and hearty, is as cool as a breeze.

Geraldine Page Looks Back on Early Struggles

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—When she first came to Manhattan, Geraldine Page worked as a hat-check girl.

She sold Christmas cards in a book store. She modeled negligees. She got a job in a thread factory, and as she wrapped the packages of thread she read Shakespeare.

Today Jerry Page is rated by many in the theater as one of the nation's most gifted actresses. But she likes to recall those early struggling years.

"I got $5 a week on hat checking jobs," she recalled. "They also expected you to steal 10 cents from every quarter you got—but not if they were looking."

"That made it all rather complicated, and I couldn't keep my arithmetic straight."

She quit her $21-a-week job in the thread factory for a part in an off-Broadway show for which she got $10 a week. Since then her name has brightened many marquees.

At present Miss Page is starring in a revival of Anton Chekhov's "The Three Sisters."

"So far I've played about 450 roles in my career," she said, "and I'd like to play at least that many more."

"Acting is so much fun. You get so wrapped up in the problems of the character you're playing that you forget your own."

"Acting is also a joy because you never get through with it. You can never say, 'Well, at last I know it all.' In acting you never reach the bottom of the cup, particularly if you have the good fortune to play a variety of roles. There's always something more to learn."

Jerry is married to actor Rip Torn, and they have a 5-month-old daughter, Angelica. On Matinee days—which happens to be the maid's day off—Jerry brings the baby to the theater dressing room.

She feels her own greatest character defects are laziness and timidity.

"I have a tendency not to fight things through. I sometimes chicken out before I ought to."

Stratton Assails Keating's Stand

On Barry, Planks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., has criticized Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., for what Stratton said was Keating's repudiation of both his party's presidential candidate and its national platform.

Stratton is considered by many to be the front-running candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination to oppose Keating's expected re-election bid in November.

He charged Keating with political expediency in saying he cannot support Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona as the GOP presidential candidate "at this time."

Keating's action is a little late, Stratton said Wednesday because on such issues as Cuba and wheat sales to Russia the senator "has been winning headlines by out-Goldwatering Goldwater."

The date of commencement of hearing has been set for 10:00 a. m. September 22, 1964 at the Offices of the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C.

The issues specified in the Commission's order for hearing are as follows:

1. To determine the area and population within each of the proposed FM contours and the availability of other FM services (at least 1 mvm) to such areas and populations.

2. To determine, in the light of Section 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the proposals would best provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

3. To determine, in the event it is concluded that a choice between the applications should not be based solely on considerations relating to the public interest, in light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues and the record made with respect to the significant differences between the applicants as to:

a) The background and experience of each having a bearing on the applicant's ability to own and operate the FM station as proposed.

b) The proposals of each of the applicants with respect to the management and operation of the FM broadcast station.

c) The programming services proposed in each of the above-captioned applications.

To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues which of the applications should be granted.

European Concern: U. S. Policy

Soviet Premier Critical Of Goldwater, Platform

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Republicans' nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater has been sharply criticized by many newspapers in allied European countries, and now by Soviet Premier Khrushchev — in a manner that for a diplomat would be improper interference in internal affairs. Is it proper? What is its aim? John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic affairs writer, provides some answers.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharp debate over U.S. foreign policy which is developing in this year's presidential election campaign seems likely to excite more reaction in foreign countries than any American political dispute since the end of World War II.

Much of the European press has already expressed bitter criticism of the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater, assailing him as the leader of those who would change fundamental U.S. positions in world affairs.

Denounces Barry, Platform
Soviet Premier Khrushchev raised the operation to the summit level this week by denouncing both the Republican nominee and the platform on which he is running.

This kind of action by a foreign official is traditionally classified in diplomacy as interference in the internal affairs of the United States, and the diplomat who tried it would quickly find himself in serious trouble.

In 1888 British Ambassador Lionel Sackville-West was sent home for taking sides in the contest between Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison, and his fate is well remembered in the Washington diplomatic corps to this day.

But the rules that silence ambassadors do not operate for presidents and premiers, speaking from distant capitals.

Cites "War Threats"
Khrushchev told a Polish audience that the candidate put forward by the Republican party "made it clear that he wants to enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats."

He also asserted that the Republican platform, which he denounced as warlike, had been adopted "in an atmosphere reminiscent of the fascist gatherings in Nuremberg."

The big question raised among U.S. foreign policy officials who are always concerned with the aim of Khrushchev's maneuvers, is what he hopes to accomplish by an attack at this time.

Not First Time

Khrushchev has interfered in U.S. presidential politics before.

In 1960 he spoke out against Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon. At that time Khrushchev had broken off friendly personal relations with President Dwight D. Eisenhower over the U2 plane incident, and he expressed his antagonism toward Nixon by identifying him with Eisenhower.

Diplomats here believe the present campaign debate on foreign policy probably will be more far reaching and involve more fundamental issues than any in the past 20 years.

Where the Communist problem is concerned, for example, the Johnson administration has been following a policy of trying to treat different Communist countries differently according to their willingness to make practical agreements with the United States. In the Kennedy-Johnson administration the outstanding example of this policy is the limited nuclear test-ban treaty signed with the Soviet Union last summer.

Railroad Is Given Go-Ahead for Freight, Pleasure

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission signaled the go-ahead today for the state's newest railroad, a 13-mile system that plans to mix business with pleasure.

The commission granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity to the Livonia, Avon & Lakeville Railroad Corp. for operations in Livingston County in the western part of the state.

The LA & L will operate basically as a freight carrier but plans to run steam-driven passenger excursion trains on summer weekends and holidays. It will be run by nine employees—two of them full time.

It is the 37th railroad in New York State history. The line has told the PSC that it anticipates carrying at least 100 cars of freight a year and a passenger load of about 28,000 riders on excursions. The excursions will be run about 55 days each year, the company said. The LA & L plans to purchase a segment of Erie-Lackawanna Railroad track which is being abandoned. An 11.5-mile track links Livonia and the Town of Avon. And a 1.5 mile industrial spur extends from Conesus Lake Junction to Lakeville.

California has 41 mountains which tower 10,000 feet or higher.

Dear Abby . . .

Offered In Good Faith!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our son spent a year at the State University and now he thinks he is ready to educate his parents. This is what happened. He met a very high-class girl, and before she would introduce him to her family she gave him some lessons in table manners. This girl and her parents are motoring through our town this summer and they plan to stop here to meet us. Our son offered to give his mother and me a few pointers in table manners like this girl gave him. I told him over my dead body. What is your opinion of: (A) a girl who would give a young man lessons on how to eat? (B) a young man who would suggest giving his parents the same lessons.

KNOWS HOW TO EAT

DEAR KNOWS: (A) Apparently the girl thought your son needed the lessons, and she liked him well enough to teach him. I admire her. (B) Your son is well-motivated in offering to teach you. If you don't care to learn, that's your business. But don't get sore about it. The girl's parents probably know that table manners aren't everything—as you do.

DEAR ABBY: I don't drive a car, never have, and all my friends know it so, naturally, I must depend on others for rides. Whenever there is a club meeting, church doings, or something my friends know I want to attend, why must I call THEM and beg for a ride? Don't you think they should call ME and offer a ride? It seems, around here, if you don't ask you don't go.

NOT PUSHY

DEAR NOT PUSHY: Most people are too preoccupied with their own business to guess who needs a ride. And unless you ask, they have no way of knowing. Don't be so sensitive. If you need a ride, call whomever you think is going and ask for a lift. If you are pleasant, prompt and appreciative, and do not take them out of their way, I am sure you will be welcome.

DEAR ABBY: A couple who lived in our neighborhood recently split up. When the wife left she took everything that wasn't nailed down, including all the linen, kitchen utensils, appliances, you name it. Last week one of the neighbors called and invited us to a shower for the husband! She said she thought it would be nice if we all got together and helped to put him back into housekeeping. Abby, have you ever heard of giving a MAN a shower because his wife left and took everything?

DEAR SHOCKED: No. What this country needs is a good all-purpose umbrella to protect us against showers.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "K" IN DETROIT: Don't wait too long for a 38-year-old "boy" whose mother still waits up for him.

Air Crash Rescue, CAP Action Listed On CD Program

TUPPER LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Civil Defense officials listed an air crash rescue and a Civil Air Patrol demonstration on the schedule today for the windup of Exercise Sun Drum II, a test of New York State's capacity to aid and shelter victims of nuclear attack.

About 300 make-believe casualties and a man with a real injury were treated Wednesday during the practice operation, centered in this Adirondack resort village.

Joseph Sears, about 40, of Ogdensburg, lost a finger when his wedding ring caught on a part of an amphibious "Duc" as he jumped from the vehicle, State Police said.

Doctors at Sunmount Veterans Hospital sewed the finger back in place after police recovered it at the accident scene. A hospital spokesman said Sears was in good condition.

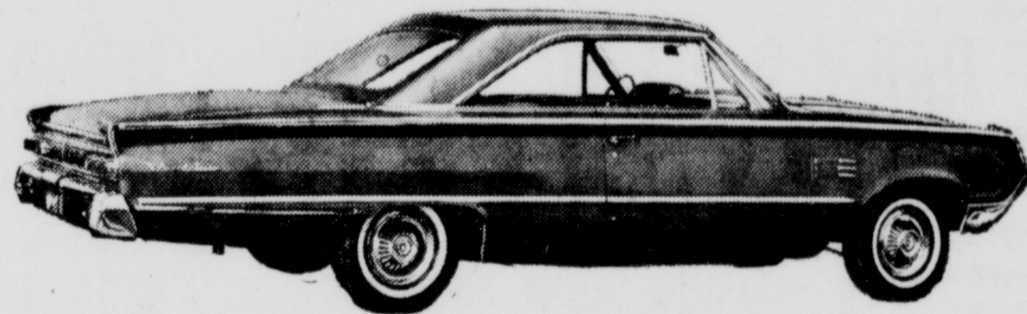

The exercise is operating on the assumption that the United States and Canada were attacked with nuclear weapons July 18 and that there were heavy casualties in New York City, Utica, Rochester and Buffalo.

About 500 emergency workers from Civil Defense, the Veterans Administration, the Civil Air Patrol, the Red Cross and the Army are participating in the exercise.

Confusion, Conflict Now Split N. Y. GOP

Upstate Wing May Bring Pressure
On Chiefs to Rally Around Barry

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater has created confusion and conflict in the ranks of New York State's Republican leaders.

The state GOP organization has gone to the voters for years with liberal candidates and doesn't quite know what to do with Goldwater, a staunch conservative, at the head of the ticket.

Some state leaders are for Goldwater with varying degrees of enthusiasm. Others are against him. Some aren't saying. The political scene is confused and the cataphony of hedging. Qualification, will not and don't knows sounds like a political Tower of Babel.

This is the way things stood in the early days of the campaign: Gov. Rockefeller said he would stand by his campaign pledge to support the nominee of the convention. But he kept that backing on an impersonal plane, referring only to "the nominee" and not endorsing Goldwater by name.

—U.S. Senators Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating have rejected Goldwater but have held out the possibility they would reconsider if the presidential nominee modified some of his views.

Mahoney for State

—State Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney has come out firmly for Goldwater and his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of Niagara County, adjacent to Mahoney's home county of Erie. Mahoney said the ticket could win with "a vigorous campaign."

—GOP State Chairman Fred A. Young predicted a Goldwater victory in New York State but later explained that "I have to say that, whether I believe it or not."

—Rep. John V. Lindsay of Manhattan, an emerging leader in the New York GOP, has declined to say whether he will support the nominee.

The leaders opposed to, or uncertain about, Goldwater are working on the theory that Republicans, in the minority in enrollments, must win support from Democrats and Independents if they are to win statewide elections.

In New York City for example, there are only 760,000 enrolled Republicans out of 3.2 million registered voters.

Republicans running in New York City usually work hard to show they have liberal records on civil rights, public housing, labor legislation and social programs.

Rockefeller, Keating and Javits fear that too close an association with Goldwater could jeopardize the party's hard-won gains in New York City, the main Democratic stronghold in the state.

Annoyed With Leaders

Javits carried the city in 1962, while Rockefeller lost it by only 200,000 votes. Keating is up for re-election this year.

On the other hand, some Upstate Republicans, such as Mahoney, are said to be highly annoyed at the refusal of the top state leaders to rally firmly behind the party's national ticket.

Another Upstate Republican said privately that he was not the least bit concerned about appealing to liberal elements and had no qualms at all about running on a ticket headed by a conservative.

Much of the Upstate wing of the GOP has looked with dismay and even distaste on efforts by leaders to woo New York City voters but has put up with them.

Now, however, they feel that refusing to back the Republican presidential candidate as a means of pursuing liberal votes is carrying things too far.

Because of this, Rockefeller, Javits and Keating can expect increasing pressures from Upstate to rally around Goldwater without reservation.

COMMITTEE FOR MEMORIAL LIBRARY

—A committee was formed recently for the establishment of a memorial library at St. Augustine Church, Highland, honoring the late Rev. Charles A. Lee, who was pastor until the time of his death on June 1. Father Lee had been pastor for only six months and started the library in a section of the St. Augustine School with 2,000 volumes covering a wide range of subjects. The committee plans for a permanent plaque listing the names of the donors. Contributions may be sent to the Father Lee Memorial Library, c/o of the church, 55 Main Street, Highland. The committee includes (l-r) Dr. Anthony E. Biancardi, Dr. Peter F. Lordi, chairman; Frank Mandy, trustee; rear, Mrs. Theresa Canino, president of Catholic Daughters; Anthony B. Casiero, president, Holy Name Society; Mrs. Martha M. Rizzo, president, Mother's Society; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles M. Walsh, pastor of the church; and Mrs. Laura P. Jones, president, Altar Society.

Communist Conference in Offing

Soviets May Offer Last Chance to Red Chinese

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Premier Khrushchev's brief stay in Poland may herald yet another international Communist conference and a Soviet last-chance offer to Red China to get in line with the Kremlin.

The Russians now want, quickly, a meeting of 26 Communist parties — those which served on the drafting committee for the 13,000-word Moscow declaration which resulted from the Red world conference of 1960. That declaration was supposed to be a blueprint for world Communist strategy and tactics.

A Soviet letter to Peking published July 17 — one of a long series of acrimonious exchanges — says many factional groups within parties around the world, sponsored by the Chinese, claim to be real representatives of the Communists — but "neither in theory nor in practice support the general line of the world Communist movement."

The Chinese would try to get such parties into a world meeting, the letter indicates. Khrushchev apparently has taken steps to parry any such attempt. There are parties, the Soviet letter says, which have emerged since 1960 and could be invited, but only those who attended the 1960 meeting and signed the declaration should be considered capable of interpreting it.

That would rule out some groups from underdeveloped areas, where the Chinese are particularly strong among impatient Communists.

The new letter says a meeting of the 26 to prepare for a bigger meeting is "urgent" in view of harm done by the world Communist movement by Peking's attitude. The Chinese have said a world conference could wait four or five years, but Khrushchev has no intention of giving the Chinese an opportunity to pick up strength over a long period.

The Chinese apparently think that by putting off the meeting they can increase their supporters "and turn them into weapons of their own policy, thus creating favorable conditions for themselves," the Moscow letter said.

There is strong indication in the letter that the Kremlin is offering the Chinese their last chance to end the feud.

The letter implies the Chinese, if they continue to obstruct the Soviet drive for a new world meeting, will be responsible for whatever happens.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Public Service Commission has approved a 20-for-1 stock split by the Genesee and Wyoming Railroad Co.

The currently outstanding 5,000 shares of $100 stock will be converted to 100,000 shares of $20 stock.

The change will result in an increase of $1.5 million in capital, the PSC said Wednesday.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Premier Khrushchev's brief stay in Poland may herald yet another international Communist conference and a Soviet last-chance offer to Red China to get in line with the Kremlin.

The Russians now want, quickly, a meeting of 26 Communist parties — those which served on the drafting committee for the 13,000-word Moscow declaration which resulted from the Red world conference of 1960. That declaration was supposed to be a blueprint for world Communist strategy and tactics.

A Soviet letter to Peking published July 17 — one of a long series of acrimonious exchanges — says many factional groups within parties around the world, sponsored by the Chinese, claim to be real representatives of the Communists but "neither in theory nor in practice support the general line of the world Communist movement."

The Chinese would try to get such parties into a world meeting, the letter indicates. Khrushchev apparently has taken steps to parry any such attempt. There are parties, the Soviet letter says, which have emerged since 1960 and could be invited, but only those who attended the 1960 meeting and signed the declaration should be considered capable of interpreting it.

That would rule out some groups from underdeveloped areas, where the Chinese are particularly strong among impatient Communists.

The new letter says a meeting of the 26 to prepare for a bigger meeting is "urgent" in view of harm done the world Communist movement by Peking's attitude. The Chinese have said a world conference could wait four or five years, but Khrushchev has no intention of giving the Chinese an opportunity to pick up strength over a long period.

The Chinese apparently think that by putting off the meeting they can increase their supporters "and turn them into weapons of their own policy, thus creating favorable conditions for themselves," the Moscow letter said.

There is strong indication in the letter that the Kremlin is offering the Chinese their last chance to end the feud.

The letter implies the Chinese, if they continue to obstruct the Soviet drive for a new world meeting, will be responsible for whatever happens.

Could Be Months Before Sheppard Learns His Fate

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has outlasted the prosecution in another legal battle to remain out of prison and it appears it could be weeks or even months before he learns his fate.

Sheppard won a new round Wednesday when a three-judge federal panel of the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals held his $10,000 bond—and his freedom—were valid until the court could decide if the U.S. District Court order for his release would stand.

The court is not scheduled to meet again until October and there was no indication that earlier action would be possible.

Lawyer Doubts Retrial

Dr. Sam, central figure in one of the nation's most publicized murder cases, headed with his new wife to their Cleveland home to wait until the legal smoke cleared.

His attorney, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, said: "I don't think this case will ever be retried."

Sheppard, convicted of second-degree murder in the 1954 bludgeoning slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, was freed from Ohio Penitentiary a week ago after U.S. Dist. Judge Carl Weinman of Dayton ruled he had not received a fair trial.

Presiding Judge Paul C. Weick of Akron said the appellate court would not void Judge Weinman's granting of bail but would modify it. He said the granting of bail was at the discretion of Judge Weinman.

Weick added that the panel would stay the habeas corpus writ until it could rule on the merits of it. He said the court would act "at an early date."

Married Last Saturday

This amounted to freedom for Sheppard and threw the case into a new legal tangle that could reach the U.S. Supreme Court.

Sheppard and his bride of five days the former Ariane Tebbel-Johnans, were married in Chicago last Saturday after federal marshals refused to arrest Sheppard in Columbus.

See Average Milk Price

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices for milk delivered to pool handlers in the New York-New Jersey milkshed in the next six months are expected to average the same as in the same period last year.

A. J. Pollard, acting market administrator, said Wednesday they will average $4.41 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts).

3 Persons Hurt In Hurley Crash

A 46-year-old woman and her two children were injured at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, when the car in which they were riding skidded on wet pavement and crashed into a utility pole off Route 28 at the intersection of Route 375, Town of Hurley.

Trooper John Turk of the Kingston sub-station, reported the car driven by Jean Lefkin, 46, of 1122 Beach Street, Far Rockaway, was traveling west on the highway when the operator applied the brakes. The car skidded and hit the pole.

Mrs. Lefkin suffered a cerebral concussion, lacerations of the head and possible skull fracture. Her son, Howard, 14, sustained a scapular fracture and possible cerebral concussion, and her daughter, Marion, 10, received lacerations of the forehead and possible concussion.

The injured were taken to Benedictine Hospital by the West Hurley Rescue Squad, troopers said.

Dismissed Police Officer Held in Contempt of Court

NEW YORK (AP)—A police lieutenant dismissed for refusing to answer questions before a grand jury probing police-gambling links has been held in criminal contempt of court.

Supreme Court Justice Charles Marks Wednesday found the former officer, James T. Stevens, 43, guilty of contempt after he refused the judge's order to answer this question:

"Did you, during the last five years, receive any money from bookmakers or policy operators in order to permit them to continue their gambling operations?"

Stevens, of Brooklyn, was the second policeman of officer rank to be discharged as a result of the Manhattan probe. Similar investigations also are being conducted in Brooklyn and Queens.

Stevens previously signed a limited waiver of immunity from prosecution and testified before a Manhattan grand jury investigating police gambling links last June.

The Manhattan investigation became known to the public only last June, but has reportedly been under way for three years. Fourteen policemen have been dismissed so far for failing to cooperate.

Trooper Loses Appeal

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A state trooper who claimed an untimely belch contributed to his demotion from corporal has lost an appeal aimed at regaining his old rank.

The Appellate Division of State Supreme Court, Third Department, ruled Wednesday that State Police Superintendent Arthur Cornelius Jr. acted properly in the case of Trooper Jerry Harwood, stationed at New Hartford.

The court also found that Harwood's appeal had become academic because he recently received a performance rating of "excellent," had passed a promotional examination and was awaiting promotion.

Woman Succumbs, Was Taken From Pool on Tuesday

A 45-year-old Dutchess County woman, who was rescued from drowning in a pool near her home, died early Wednesday afternoon at Vassar Hospital, according to reports from Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Florence Wright, of Route 82, Hopewell Junction, was discovered floating face down in a private pool at her home Tuesday afternoon, by her husband, Allen. He pulled his wife from the water.

At the scene of the rescue, East Fishkill volunteer firemen revived the woman with resuscitators and rushed her to the hospital, where she remained unconscious and critical until death after 1 p. m. yesterday.

Fishkill State Police investigated with Dr. Chester H. Golding Jr., Wappingers Falls, Dutchess County medical examiner.

Navy Research Points To Temporary Strong Men and 'Skin Farms'

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy biological scientists are seriously dreaming of some day making men "temporarily superhuman" in strength and muscular control by giving them chemicals, it was disclosed today.

They also are speculating about eventual development of "skin farms": these would be vast supplies of human skin, grown from individual skin cells in special chambers, and kept in readiness for use in mass disasters.

"Instant acclimatization" the ability to make a fighting man adjust to the terrific heat of a desert in minutes or hours rather than in days or weeks by giving him special drugs.

These are concededly long-range ideas, whose realization could come only from breakthroughs on tough research problems still under intensive study. They were outlined in a special issue of "Naval Research Reviews," a publication of the Office of Naval Research.

In one report, Dr. Robert K. Jennings, head of ONR's biochemistry branch, described basic research to explain the chemistry of muscle action.

Among the possible benefits if this research is successful, he said: "We may be able to deal more effectively with (muscle and nerve) poisons an enemy might employ against us; we may be able to treat diseases which incapacitate men today; and we may even learn how to create men who are temporarily superhuman in their strength and muscular control to deal with emergencies without being harmed."

Jennings also told of pioneering studies on the cultivation or growth of animal and human cells outside the body.

"Such cultures develop characteristics which are not exactly like the cells and tissues found in the body. When enough has been learned about the factors which control the growth and differentiation of, let us say, skin cells, it may be possible to have 'skin farms' to which the physician can turn for replacement parts when large numbers of casualties are brought to him after natural or man-made holocausts."

Dr. Leonard M. Libber, chief of ONR's physiology branch, outlined the theoretical concept of drug-induced "instant acclimatization" for men suddenly transported by aircraft from a temperate climate into the seething heat of a desert.

In the quest for such a breakthrough, he said, scientists at

Murray Gives Up Dance Business, Started in 1930s

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Murray is stepping out of the dance studio business he started in the 1930s when he taught residents of Minneapolis to circle and say "oi" to the tune of the Lambeth Walk.

To Retain Name

He said Wednesday that two franchises have purchased control of the cross-country chain, Arthur Murray Inc., for about $1 million. The new owners said they would retain Murray's name, though he said he wishes they wouldn't. Mrs. Murray will continue as an advisor.

Murray, 69, who had been president, said he plans to produce dramatic television shows, drawing upon experience he gained producing "The Arthur Murray Show" that featured his wife, Kathryn.

Murray started as a dance teacher in 1913. He was an assistant to Vernon Castle in New York and later was part of a dance-at-night, teach - during-the-day team.

"In 1936 or 1937," he said, "the Statler Hotel in Minneapolis wanted someone to teach guests the new dance craze, the Lambeth Walk. I started doing that and it caused such interest that I started others in other hotels."

Chain Kept Growing

The Lambeth Walk died out, but the bunny hop and other new dances kept the chain growing.

By 1948, there were some 500 franchised Murray studios across the country, grossing $40-$50 million. Murray said he sold out his ownership interests then for about $2 million. He has remained in a role of diminishing activity since.

The recent purchase, completed last week but not disclosed until today, was by Harry Evans of Houston, Tex., who owns 17 franchised studios, and James R. Banta, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who owns about 21.

Rusk Discloses Dept. 'Leak'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed a state secret Wednesday night.

The terrace atop the State Department building, which overlooks much of downtown Washington, is not available to guests because it is under repair.

Apologizing at a formal dinner for Malaysia's visiting Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, Rusk said the terrace had begun to leak on "those of us on the famous seventh floor," where he and his top aides have their offices.

"This is dangerous to say, I know," Rusk said. "It opens the way for our Republican friends to say that the Republicans built the State Department and it worked fine and then the Democrats got in and it began to leak."

Navy Research Points To Temporary Strong Men and 'Skin Farms'

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy biological scientists are seriously dreaming of some day making men "temporarily superhuman" in strength and muscular control by giving them chemicals, it was disclosed today.

They also are speculating about eventual development of "skin farms": these would be vast supplies of human skin, grown from individual skin cells in special chambers, and kept in readiness for use in mass disasters.

"Instant acclimatization" the ability to make a fighting man adjust to the terrific heat of a desert in minutes or hours rather than in days or weeks by giving him special drugs.

These are concededly long-range ideas, whose realization could come only from breakthroughs on tough research problems still under intensive study. They were outlined in a special issue of "Naval Research Reviews," a publication of the Office of Naval Research.

In one report, Dr. Robert K. Jennings, head of ONR's biochemistry branch, described basic research to explain the chemistry of muscle action.

Among the possible benefits if this research is successful, he said:

"We may be able to deal more effectively with (muscle and nerve) poisons an enemy might employ against us; we may be able to treat diseases which incapacitate men today;

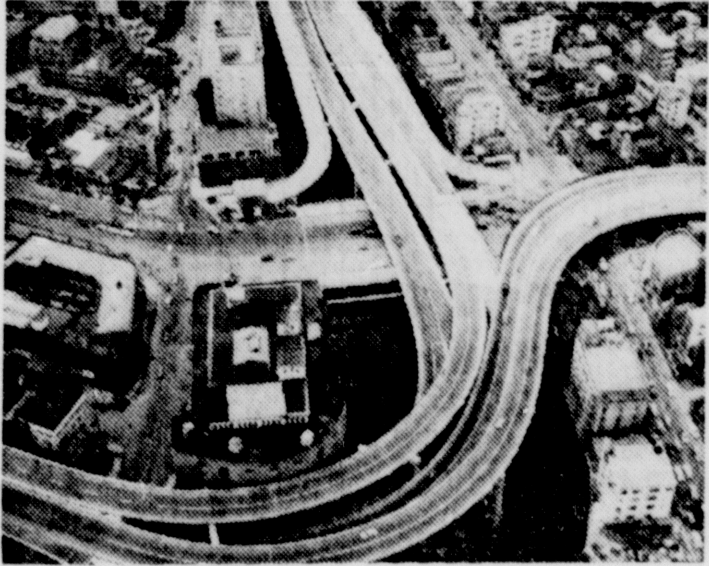

and we may even learn how to create men who are temporarily superhuman in their strength and muscular control to deal with emergencies without being harmed."

Jennings also told of pioneering studies on the cultivation or growth of animal and human cells outside the body.

"Such cultures develop characteristics which are not exactly like the cells and tissues found in the body. When enough has been learned about the factors which control the growth and differentiation of, let us say, skin cells, it may be possible to have 'skin farms' to which the physician can turn for replacement parts when large numbers of casualties are brought to him after natural or man-made holocausts."

Dr. Leonard M. Libber, chief of ONR's physiology branch, outlined the theoretical concept of drug-induced "instant acclimatization" for men suddenly transported by aircraft from a temperate climate into the seething heat of a desert.

In the quest for such a breakthrough, he said, scientists at

Park Dances Are Set for Tonight And on Friday

Encouraged by the response to the recent Park Dance held at Forsyth Park Monday night the Recreation Department through the generosity of the local Rock and Roll Group, the Runaway's a strictly Rock and Roll Dance for teenagers will be held Friday night under the Pavilion at Forsyth Park from 8 p. m. until 11 p. m.

The group, consisting of Ronnie Rittie, John Mayone, Alan Glassman, Jim Riggins and Paul Brayman with Mickey Mathias as vocalist, will feature Rock and Roll music with the latest hit tunes being played.

This Rock and Roll group approached Andrew Murphy III Recreation Superintendent, and offered its services so that the teenagers who congregate in the uptown area would have somewhere to go where they could enjoy themselves and not create a crowded condition like that which now exists in the Academy Green Friday nights. Mayor John J. Schwenk, the Recreation Department and Police Department have been concerned over the situation and wish to commend this group, all teenagers themselves, for volunteering their services to eliminate what could develop into a major problem.

Tonight under the Pavilion at Hutton Park the Department will present a Record Hop which once again will feature the Rock and Roll variety of music. The dance at Hutton will start at 7:30 p. m. and continue until 10:30 p. m.

The public, especially teenagers, is invited to attend both dances and any other Recreation Department function.

card. Spotty took the first diamond trick led a trump to dummy's queen and a second trump back to his ace. His next play was the ten of hearts covered with dummy's queen.

This gave East the distinct impression that West held the jack of hearts and East decided to hold back his ace. Now Spotty led the six of hearts from dummy. East ducked again and Spotty cashed his jack. His next play was a trump back to dummy's nine to be followed by the lead of the king of hearts. East played his ace, but he was far too late. Spotty ruffed and led another trump to rummy's jack. Then he discarded the three of diamonds on the nine of hearts and wound up losing only one trick.

It didn't mean too much since the game was rubber bridge, but it certainly shows how you can make three tricks in a suit to your opponents' none even though you miss the ace.

Scouts Have Last Chance on Swaps As Finale Nears

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—It's now or never for 53,124 Boy Scouts to make the best swap for sought-after shoulder patches and insignias from all 50 states and 42 foreign countries.

Their week-long encampment on 1,900 acres of rolling hills and valleys where George Washington's colonial troops wintered in 1777-78 ends tonight, climaxed by a visit from President Johnson, the nation's No. 1 scout.

The grand finale will be a mammoth pageant in an open-air arena, which will feature President Johnson between a Scout hootenanny and a closing candle-lighting ceremony, in which each scout will light a candle symbolizing the flame of liberty in the world.

Johnson, who is honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America as every president before him since 1910—will fly to the jamboree from the White House lawn. A crowd of 100,000 is expected to see and hear him. Friday, after breakfast, 40,000 scouts will move out of the area in special buses, bound for train, bus and air terminals. The rest depart on Saturday.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef, pork and poultry for outdoor eating are hot-weather features at the nation's groceries this weekend.

One national chain features ribs of beef at 65 cents a pound in its New York outlets and boneless chuck roasts at 65.

Corned beef and ground beef are two other widely featured summertime items.

Pork prices have drifted upward in some areas, but loin roasts, spareribs and hams are still considered good buys in many shops.

Broiler-fryers are big items in the Midwest and spottily in other areas.

Supplies of fresh vegetables remain ample. Green beans, cabbage, celery, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, green peppers and tomatoes are among top features.

Among fresh fruits, California's giant plum crop holds the spotlight. Other items include bananas, blueberries, cantaloupes, cherries, lemons, nectarines, peaches and watermelon.

Wilmslow Rotary Club of England Is Movie Topic

The community of Wilmslow, Cheshire, England and the Rotary Club of that district were depicted graphically by a color movie at the Kingston Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday. The cinema was shown by Herbert Gartside, past president of the Rotary Club of Wilmslow and Alderley Edge.

One of the prime movers in his district's efforts in international understanding, he stressed the value of Rotary International Foundation's Fellowships and Exchange Student projects. He also brought greetings from England.

Among the guests at the luncheon was Miss Gail Elias of Stone Ridge, who spent last summer as the foster daughter of the Gartside while she attended the Summer Camp run by District 105 of Rotary International in Manchester, England. Announcement was made that honorary memberships in Kingston Rotary were voted to Dr. George F. Chandler, Arthur J. Laidlaw, Arthur H. Wicks, Chester Dumond, Maj. General R. W. Hasbrouck and Brig. General S. V. Hasbrouck.

The club bid farewell to Richard H. Whittington, who has been an active member of Kingston Rotary. He has been promoted to the position of manager of Northwood Shopping Plaza at Rochester, N. Y.

Shockey Attempts Suicide After Case Bound Over

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies said Herbert L. Shockey, accused in the Feb. 23 slaying of a Sherrill, N.Y., couple, attempted to take his life Wednesday night in his jail cell.

Deputies said Shockey, a 30-year-old ex-convict, smashed a light bulb in his cell and used its shattered pieces to slash his arms, legs, wrists and fingers and inflict minor cuts on his chest.

Officers said Shockey crudely slashed the word "God" on one leg and "love" on the other.

He was rushed to the county hospital in Phoenix, where his condition was not believed to be serious.

Earlier Wednesday Shockey was bound over to Superior Court for trial Aug. 10 on two charges of first-degree murder in the slayings of John and Mildred Bertella.

Their bodies were found near the Superstition Mountains, east of Phoenix, the day after the slaying. Bertella, 62, had been shot and stabbed. His 64-year-old wife, Mildred, was bludgeoned and stabbed.

Two psychiatrists and a psychologist testified at a sanity hearing that they believed Shockey to be legally insane. Another psychiatrist disagreed, calling Shockey "an accomplished actor."

Calves Rank First

LONDON (AP)—George Lawson, a Laborite member of Parliament, complained Wednesday that the British welfare state values calves more than children.

The House of Commons was debating subsidies for Scottish hill farmers. Lawson observed that the farmer gets $56 from the government when a cow calves but only $44.80 when his wife has a baby.

Would Evacuate Whites

ELIZABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Appeals to evacuate whites from the revolt-torn eastern Congo mounted today following reports of new rebel gains.

One message from Belgian companies in the mining center of Bunia asked Congo authorities to evacuate 15 women and 16 children as soon as possible.

Park Dances Are Set for Tonight And on Friday

Encouraged by the response to the recent Park Dance held at Forsyth Park Monday night the Recreation Department through the generosity of the local Rock and Roll Group, the Runaway's a strictly Rock and Roll Dance for teenagers will be held Friday night under the Pavilion at Forsyth Park from 8 p. m. until 11 p. m.

The group, consisting of Ronnie Rittie, John Mayone, Alan Glassman, Jim Riggins and Paul Brayman with Mickey Mathias as vocalist, will feature Rock and Roll music with the latest hit tunes being played.

This Rock and Roll group approached Andrew Murphy III Recreation Superintendent, and offered its services so that the teenagers who congregate in the uptown area would have somewhere to go where they could enjoy themselves and not create a crowded condition like that which now exists in the Academy Green Friday nights. Mayor John J. Schwenk, the Recreation Department and Police Department have been concerned over the situation and wish to commend this group, all teenagers themselves, for volunteering their services to eliminate what could develop into a major problem.

Tonight under the Pavilion at Hutton Park the Department will present a Record Hop which once again will feature the Rock and Roll variety of music. The dance at Hutton will start at 7:30 p. m. and continue until 10:30 p. m.

The public, especially teenagers, is invited to attend both dances and any other Recreation Department function.

FROLIC AT POOL—Several of Ellenville's Fresh Air Fund children here frolic during a recent picnic at Peg Leg Bates Country Club, Kerhonkson. The picnic was one of two events climaxing a two-week stay in the Ellenville area in the homes of host families. A total of 18 children from metropolitan New York were guests of host families in the county for two weeks under the auspices of the Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund.

other card is a form of false-carding.

My old friend, the late Spottwood Bowers of New York, obtained one of the most interesting results I have ever seen as the result of that type of false-card.

Spotty took the first diamond trick led a trump to dummy's queen and a second trump back to his ace. His next play was the ten of hearts covered with dummy's queen.

This gave East the distinct impression that West held the jack of hearts and East decided to hold back his ace. Now Spotty led the six of hearts from dummy. East ducked again and Spotty cashed his jack. His next play was a trump back to dummy's nine to be followed by the lead of the king of hearts. East played his ace, but he was far too late. Spotty ruffed and led another trump to rummy's jack. Then he discarded the three of diamonds on the nine of hearts and wound up losing only one trick.

It didn't mean too much since the game was rubber bridge, but it certainly shows how you can make three tricks in a suit to your opponents' none even though you miss the ace.

Jamboree Notes

Scouts Have Last Chance on Swaps As Finale Nears

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—It's now or never for 53,124 Boy Scouts to make the best swap for sought-after shoulder patches and insignias from all 50 states and 42 foreign countries.

Their week-long encampment on 1,900 acres of rolling hills and valleys where George Washington's colonial troops wintered in 1777-78 ends tonight, climaxed by a visit from President Johnson, the nation's No. 1 scout.

The grand finale will be a mammoth pageant in an open arena, which will feature President Johnson between a Scout hootenanny and a closing candle-lighting ceremony, in which each scout will light a candle symbolizing the flame of liberty in the world.

Johnson, who is honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America as every president before him since 1910—will fly to the jamboree from the White House lawn. A crowd of 100,000 is expected to see and hear him. Friday, after breakfast, 40,000 scouts will move out of the area in special buses, bound for train, bus and air terminals. The rest depart on Saturday.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef, pork and poultry for outdoor eating are hot-weather features at the nation's groceries this weekend.

One national chain features ribs of beef at 65 cents a pound in its New York outlets and boneless chuck roasts at 65¢. Corned beef and ground beef are two other widely featured summertime items.

Pork prices have drifted upward in some areas, but loin roasts, spareribs and hams are still considered good buys in many shops.

Broiler-fryers are big items in the Midwest and spottily in other areas.

Supplies of fresh vegetables remain ample. Green beans, cabbage, celery, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, green peppers and tomatoes are among top features.

Among fresh fruits, California's giant plum crop holds the spotlight. Other items include bananas, blueberries, cantaloupes, cherries, lemons, nectarines, peaches and watermelon.

Longest Reign

Louis XIV of France was only five years old when he succeeded his father. His reign, which continued for the next 72 years, was longer than that of any European ruler in history.

Wilmslow Rotary Club of England Is Movie Topic

The community of Wilmslow, Cheshire, England and the Rotary Club of that district were depicted graphically by a color movie at the Kingston Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday. The cinema was shown by Herbert Gartside, past president of the Rotary Club of Wilmslow and Alderley Edge.

One of the prime movers in his district's efforts in international understanding, he stressed the value of Rotary International Foundation's Fellowships and Exchange Student projects. He also brought greetings from England.

Among the guests at the luncheon was Miss Gail Elias of Stone Ridge, who spent last summer as the foster daughter of the Gartside while she attended the Summer Camp run by District 105 of Rotary International in Manchester, England.

Announcement was made that honorary memberships in Kingston Rotary were voted to Dr. George F. Chandler, Arthur J. Laidlaw, Arthur H. Wicks, Chester Dumond, Maj. General R. W. Hasbrouck and Brig. General S. V. Hasbrouck.

The club bid farewell to Richard H. Whittington, who has been an active member of Kingston Rotary. He has been promoted to the position of manager of Northwood Shopping Plaza at Rochester, N. Y.

Shockey Attempts Suicide After Case Bound Over

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies said Herbert L. Shockey, accused in the Feb. 23 slaying of a Sherrill, N.Y., couple, attempted to take his life Wednesday night in his jail cell.

Deputies said Shockey, a 30-year-old ex-convict, smashed a light bulb in his cell and used its shattered pieces to slash his arms, legs, wrists and fingers and inflict minor cuts on his chest.

Officers said Shockey crudely slashed the word "God" on one leg and "love" on the other. He was rushed to the county hospital in Phoenix, where his condition was not believed to be serious.

Earlier Wednesday Shockey was bound over to Superior Court for trial Aug. 10 on two charges of first-degree murder in the slayings of John and Mildred Bertella.

Their bodies were found near the Superstition Mountains, east of Phoenix, the day after the slaying. Bertella, 62, had been shot and stabbed. His 64-year-old wife, Mildred, was bludgeoned and stabbed.

Two psychiatrists and a psychologist testified at a sanity hearing that they believed Shockey to be legally insane. Another psychiatrist disagreed, calling Shockey "an accomplished actor."

Calves Rank First

LONDON (AP)—George Lawson, a Laborite member of Parliament, complained Wednesday that the British welfare state values calves more than children.

The House of Commons was debating subsidies for Scottish hill farmers. Lawson observed that the farmer gets $56 from the government when a cow calves but only $44.80 when his wife has a baby.

Would Evacuate Whites

ELIZABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Appeals to evacuate whites from the revolt-torn eastern Congo mounted today following reports of new rebel gains.

One message from Belgian companies in the mining center of Bunia asked Congo authorities to evacuate 15 women and 16 children as soon as possible.

Girl Scouts Vivify Bleak Bomb Shelters With Toys and Games

ALBANY, N. Y.—The feminine touch is being added to public fallout shelters.

Women have always known how much comfort the little "extras" and conveniences add to ordinary living. Now a few pioneering organizations are taking steps to brighten the austere living conditions that would prevail if a nuclear attack forced people to seek protection in the approximately 12,000 licensed public fallout shelters in New York State. These shelters will accommodate about 10,000,000 persons.

Among the recent examples of feminine foresightedness which have come to the attention of the New York State Civil Defense Commission have been the projects sponsored by Girl Scouts to provide diversion for active tots and growing youngsters during an underground stay.

The members of Girl Scout Troop 367, East Rochester, became amateur carpenters when they constructed a toy chest, decorated it, and filled it with a collection of dolls, toys, games and books. It is now in the stock of equipment in the East Rochester Post Office shelter.

In the Village of Mohawk, Herkimer County, the members of Girl Scout Troop 232 built two sturdy toy chests, filled them with playthings, from their own collections and presented them to the local CD organization for public shelter use.

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc. Staying in Bachelor Godfather's House

Q—I plan to go to the World's Fair next month. My godfather, who is 20 years my senior and a bachelor, has a house not too far from the Fair grounds. When he visited us this past winter, we talked about the Fair and I said that I planned to go when I got my vacation. He said he would gladly put me up in his house. I would like to accept his kind offer not only because of convenience but of the money it will save me as well. My parents, however, are rather dubious about me staying there. They don't think it will be proper. Considering the difference in our ages and the fact that he is my godfather, could there be any possible impropriety in my staying at his house?

A—I'm sorry, but it will not be proper for you to stay alone with your godfather in his house. He is too young, evidently in his early 40's, and not a blood relation.

Introducing Her Doctor Brother

Q—I am married and my name is no longer the same as that of my brother, who is a doctor. In making introductions, would it be improper to introduce him as "Dr. John Well," or as "my brother, Dr. Well"? I believe you have said that one does not use titles for members of one's family.

A—It is quite proper to use a title if you make a pause in between. You say, "My brother," pause a second, and then add for information, "Dr. Well."

A Birthday Gift

Q—When giving a birthday present to a married friend, should it be something for her own personal use or may it be something for her house?

A—Unless the giver knows of some item that her friend would especially like for her house, something for her own personal use is more appropriate for a birthday gift.

Details concerning the remarriage of a widow and divorcee, are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Second Marriage." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

Girl Scouts Vivify Bleak Bomb Shelters With Toys and Games

ALBANY, N. Y.—The feminine touch is being added to public fallout shelters.

Women have always known how much comfort the little "extras" and conveniences add to ordinary living. Now a few pioneering organizations are taking steps to brighten the austere living conditions that would prevail if a nuclear attack forced people to seek protection in the approximately 12,000 licensed public fallout shelters in New York State. These shelters will accommodate about 10,000,000 persons.

Among the recent examples of feminine foresightedness which have come to the attention of the New York State Civil Defense Commission have been the projects sponsored by Girl Scouts to provide diversion for active tots and growing youngsters during an underground stay.

The members of Girl Scout Troop 367, East Rochester, became amateur carpenters when they constructed a toy chest, decorated it, and filled it with a collection of dolls, toys, games and books. It is now in the stock of equipment in the East Rochester Post Office shelter.

In the Village of Mohawk, Herkimer County, the members of Girl Scout Troop 232 built two sturdy toy chests, filled them with playthings from their own collections and presented them to the local CD organization for public shelter use.

Jamboree Activities Of Local Boy Scouts

By DAVID LEWIS
Scout Correspondent

VALLEY FORGE, Pa.—Monday was slated to be a big day with lots of activity—NRA Jamboree Shooting, more work on the Adventure Award and in the evening a show featuring TV stars. Also we learned later that more than 250,000 persons, visitors during the day, had registered at the main gate.

This was the reason for an earlier setback experienced by the local Jamboree troops. We were told the campsite was not up to par and no one was to leave the site until patrol inspection.

Another Hot Day
It was another hot, hot day. The following local scouts of Rip Van Winkle Council were listed in the National Rifleman's Association Jamboree Shooting program:

John Tweedy, David Palmer, Philip Ryan and Scott Miller all of Kingston; Richard Stoorza, Edmund Dapp, Richard Terpening; Gregory Hoffer, Hurley; Wayne Krom and Thomas Hourin, Ellenville; James Alfano, Marlboro; Michael Hein, Saugerties; and Stanley Ackerman, New Paltz. Robert Tremper of Ulster Park is scoutmaster of Jamboree Troop 59.

Hot dogs were on the menu for lunch and we had plenty left over. Michael Fine of Catskill, assigned to Troop 60 distributed them to visitors.

Work on Award
The afternoon was devoted mainly to work on the Adventure Award.

Orman Leighton, Leo Boice and Glen Stafford, all of Saugerties, and David and Richard Jenkins, Peter Hawthorne, Joseph Del Vecchio, Ronald Smith, Russell Karheck, Robert Meyer, Donald Premo, and George Hildenbrandt, all of Catskill, hiked the trail to the observation tower where they observed a panoramic view of Valley Forge.

Aerial Photo Lab Provides Service To Aid Farm Data

The one millionth print was produced recently at the Eastern Aerial Photo Lab of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service at Asheville, N. C., since it was moved from Washington, D. C., 22 months ago.

At this facility, and at the Western Aerial Photo Lab in Salt Lake City, Utah, large aerial photographs, up to 1,600 square inches in area, are produced to exact scale. County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service employees, using a special instrument called a planimeter, can measure any portion of the photograph and come up with the exact area; the acreage in a field of wheat, corn, of tobacco, in an entire farm, etc.

The photographs are also used by other federal agencies, state, county and city highway planning bodies, by private organizations and individuals who need scaled photos of large areas in planning their operations.

These measurements are very quickly and economically made, and in conjunction with actual field measurements enable county office personnel to verify acreage compliances.

Quinnipiac to New Haven

Once occupied by an Indian village named Quinnipiac, the city of New Haven, Conn., was founded by a company of Puritans in 1636 and given its present name of New Haven in 1640 after the English city of New Haven.

Francisco, the Contemporary Dancers have long held high acclaim in San Francisco.

Founded in 1954 by a young man from Los Angeles, J. Marks, the dance group not only presents the most extensive seasons of dance in the Bay area, but also sponsors the appearances of 80 per cent of all dance seen in California.

One of the most apparent qualities of the dancers of this company is individualism. Though discipline is everywhere in evidence, their dancing does not degenerate into maneuvers of a drill team or the monotony of a chorus line. Each and every soloist asserts an interpretive vitality as unique as a pianist or actor.

Tickets are available at the College Bookstore or at the door.

NEW PALTZ PROGRAM—Jean Mathis in Intermezzo will perform when the San Francisco Contemporary Dancers Company appears at the State University College, New Paltz tonight at 8:30. The entertainment will be held in the auditorium. (Lynn Vardeman photo).

Coined Term

A U.S. scholar of Polish origin, Raphael Lemkin, coined the term "genocide." Lemkin said that European life in the years between 1933 and 1945 called for the formation of the legal concept of the destruction of human beings which would outlaw it.

San Francisco Troupe Will Entertain In Paltz College Auditorium Tonight

New Paltz will have an opportunity to see one of America's most talked about dance companies when the San Francisco Contemporary Dancers perform at the State University College, New Paltz, in the auditorium tonight at 8:30. The Contemporary Dancers has been hailed by the New York Times as the dance company most responsible for setting the style and pace of dance in the West.

Versatility is the hallmark of this dance theatre company. The vast repertoire emphasizes theatrical dances of startling power and dramatic expression, as well as traditional ballets, which demonstrate superb grace and control. Touring with the endorsement of the governor of California and the mayor of San Francisco, the Contemporary Dancers have long held high acclaim in San Francisco. Founded in 1954 by a young man from Los Angeles, J. Marks, the dance group not only presents the most extensive seasons of dance in the Bay area, but also sponsors the appearances of 80 per cent of all dance seen in California.

One of the most apparent qualities of the dancers of this company is individualism. Though discipline is everywhere in evidence, their dancing does not degenerate into maneuvers of a drill team or the monotony of a chorus line. Each and every soloist asserts an interpretative vitality as unique as a pianist or actor.

Tickets are available at the College Bookstore or at the door.

Jamboree Activities Of Local Boy Scouts

Scout Correspondent

VALLEY FORGE, Pa.—Monday was slated to be a big day with lots of activity—NRA Jamboree Shooting, more work on the Adventure Award and in the evening a show featuring TV stars. Also we learned later that more than 250,000 persons, visitors during the day, had registered at the main gate.

This was the reason for an earlier setback experienced by the local Jamboree troops. We were told the campsite was not up to par and no one was to leave the site until patrol inspection. We did not know that we were sprucing up the area for a quarter million visitors.

Another Hot Day

It was another hot, hot day. The following local scouts of the Rip Van Winkle Council were listed in the National Rifle Association Jamboree Shooting program:

John Tweedy, David Palmer, Philip Ryan and Scott Miller all of Kingston; Richard Stoorza, Edmund Dapp, Richard Terpening; Gregory Hoffer, Hurley; Wayne Krom and Thomas Hourin, Ellenville; James Alfano, Marlboro; Michael Hein, Saugerties; and Stanley Ackerman, New Paltz. Robert Tremper of Ulster Park is scoutmaster of Jamboree Troop 59.

Hot dogs were on the menu for lunch and we had plenty left over. Michael Fine of Catskill, assigned to Troop 60 distributed them to visitors.

Work on Award

The afternoon was devoted mainly to work on the Adventure Award. Orman Leighton, Leo Boice and Glen Stafford, all of Saugerties, and David and Richard Jenkins, Peter Hawthorne, Joseph Del Vecchio, Ronald Smith, Russell Karbeck, Robert Meyer, Donald Premo, and George Hildenbrandt, all of Catskill, hiked the trail to the observation tower where they observed a panoramic view of Valley Forge.

Aerial Photo Lab Provides Service To Aid Farm Data

The one millionth print was produced recently at the Eastern Aerial Photo Lab of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service at Asheville, N. C., since it was moved from Washington, D. C., 22 months ago.

At this facility, and at the Western Aerial Photo Lab in Salt Lake City, Utah, large aerial photographs, up to 1,600 square inches in area, are produced to exact scale. County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service employees, using a special instrument called a planimeter, can measure any portion of the photograph and come up with the exact area; the acreage in a field of wheat, of corn, of tobacco, in an entire farm, etc.

The photographs are also used by other federal agencies, state, county and city highway planning bodies, by private organizations and individuals who need scaled photos of large areas in planning their operations.

These measurements are very quickly and economically made, and in conjunction with actual field measurements enable county office personnel to verify acreage compliances.

Quinnipiac to New Haven

Once occupied by an Indian village named Quinnipiac, the city of New Haven, Conn., was founded by a company of Puritans in 1636 and given its present name of New Haven in 1640 after the English city of New Haven.

John Tweedy, David Palmer, Philip Ryan and Scott Miller all of Kingston; Richard Stoorza, Edmund Dapp, Richard Terpening; Gregory Hoffer, Hurley; Wayne Krom and Thomas Hourin, Ellenville; James Alfano, Marlboro; Michael Hein, Saugerties; and Stanley Ackerman, New Paltz. ## Buytkins Has Sizzling Bat; Pharmacy Wins

Paul (Boots) Buytkins increased his league leading batting average to a resounding .607 with three hits and a pair of runs-batted-in as the Saugerties Pharmacy beat Friendly Inn, 7-2 in a Saugerties Softball league game.

Sam Fanroy made his record a neat 6-3 by hurling the distance for the winner. He allowed five hits, Bob (Mouse) Wolven took the setback. Fanroy tripled and Tom Zulick and Don Whipple smacked doubles.

Perfect Team

NEW YORK (NEA) — The National Football League recently polled its coaches on the make-up of an ideal professional team and the consensus agreed it would be something like this:

Offense — Four wide receivers, two block ends, eight interior linemen, three quarterbacks, five running backs, one kicking specialist.

Defense — Six linemen, five linebackers, six backs.

TO SWIM THE CHANNEL — John Starrett leaves the water at Natick, Mass., after a training swim before leaving for England where he plans to swim the English Channel. Starrett says "I swim to live." He was born with cerebral palsy and started swimming at the age of three on doctor's advice. He is now 39. (AP Wirephoto)

Palmer, Nicklaus Credited With Larger Golf Galleries

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — It's only a matter of opinion from an authority, but Jay Hebert, the PGA Tournament Committee chairman, credits the tremendous interest in golf and the large galleries these days to Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Hebert, the 1960 PGA champion, says that "Palmer and Nicklaus have done more for golf in the past 10 years than anyone."

There probably are some other reasons, but not to Hebert. Relaxing in the locker room at the Wethersfield Country Club, latest stop on the major league play-for-pay tour, Hebert insists:

"It used to be that you could win a tournament with two good rounds. But Palmer and Nicklaus, more than anyone else, changed this. The winner of a tournament now has to shoot four good rounds."

But two other members of golf's newest aristocracy are competing — National Open champion Ken Venturi and National PGA champion Bobby Nichols along with Sam Snead and Billy Casper, last year's ICO winner.

In Wednesday's pro-amateur tourney, Jim Ferree and Rex Baxter Jr. shared first place with five-under-par 66s. Snead was second with 67 and seven pros tied for third place—Fred Hawkins, Terry Dill, Don Fairfield, Al Balding, George Archer, Larry Mowry and Al Bessellink, all with 68s.

Two Are Favored In Women's Test

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Mickey Wright and defending champion Ruth Jessen are co-favorites in the seventh annual Rockford Cosmopolitan Women's Open, starting Friday.

The 54-hole tournament, winding up Sunday, has drawn most of the top names on the Ladies PGA tour. It will be played on the par 72 Macktown Course in nearby Rockford.

Two former champions withdrew because of injuries. They are Sandra Raynie and Mary Lena Faulk. A third pro, Carol Mann, also did not enter.

Betsy Rawls and Kathy Cornelius, both former Cosmo winners, also are among leading contenders in a field of 32 pros and 15 amateurs. Althea Gibson, former Wimbledon tennis champ, also has filed an entry. The tourney record is 208 by Miss Rawls.

Highland and Ulster Tie; Resume Tonight

Kingston Jaycee and Town of Esopus Little League teams scored wins; Highland and the Town of Ulster played a tie game which will be resumed tonight and the Ellenville-Fallsburgh tilt was postponed until this evening as play in the District Little League playoffs began.

Scott Findholt hurled a one-hitter as the Kingston Jaycees nipped Hurley, 3-0, in a well-played contest at the Kingston American field.

Doubles by Paul Bockelman and Hal Anderson led the winners, who scored single runs in the second, third and fourth frames for a 3-0 verdict.

John Fitzgerald fired a one-hitter for Esopus in its 10-0 win over Accord-Kerkhonkson. A six-run third inning clinched matters for the winners.

Dick Freese had the game's only extra base blow—a double.

Highland and the Town of Ulster had their game called at the end of eight innings because of darkness. The clubs were embraced in a 5-5 tie and will resume play at the start of the ninth frame tonight at the National Little League field.

Ellenville and Fallsburgh had their tilt postponed until tonight because of wet grounds at the Ellenville Channel Marsh diamond.

Which major league team has the best record since June 15. It's the Los Angeles Angels, who moved into sole possession of fourth place in the AL Wednesday night with a 3-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

The Angels, one of the zaniest collections of major leaguers since St. Louis' Gas House Gang, were lodged in ninth place June 15 with a poor record of 24-37. Since then, they have won 26 and lost 11, a lofty percentage of .703.

For their latest victory, though, they needed the aid of a couple of pitches from knuckle ball artist Hoyt Wilhelm. The Angels trailed 2-1 entering the ninth inning.

Win on Passed Ball

Jim Fregosi singled with one out, trotted to second when Wilhelm hit Willie Smith with a pitch and scored the tying run on a single by Bob Rodgers. One out later, with Lou Clinton at bat, Wilhelm uncorked a pitch that got away from catcher J. C. Martin for a passed ball, and Smith scampered home with the winning run.

In other AL games, New York defeated Washington 6-3, Cleveland knocked off Baltimore 7-4, Kansas City trimmed Minnesota 6-4 and Detroit outlasted Boston 8-6.

The White Sox grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first inning on run-scoring doubles by Don Buford and Pete Ward. But Fred Newman settled down and at one stretch retired 17 straight Chicago batters. Joel Horlen allowed the Angels only three hits before leaving for Wilhelm in the eighth.

Only Four Hits

The Yankees managed only four hits against the Senators, but all came in the fifth inning when they erupted for five runs the last three on Joe Pepitone's bases-loaded triple, Mickey Mantle batted in the first two runs with a double.

The victory kept the Yankees in first place, only the second time this season they've held that spot two straight days.

Pitcher Dick Donovan rapped a two-run single that snapped a 3-3 tie and shot the Indians past the Orioles. Woodie Held was given an intentional walk, loading the bases, before Donovan singled with two out in the eighth. The Indians scored twice more in the rally.

Kansas City handed the Twins their seventh straight defeat behind the hitting of Rocky Colavito. The A's slugger homered in the first inning, then connected for his 24th following Nelson Mathews' single in the night. The second blast broke a 4-4 deadlock. Earl Battey and Tony Oliva homered for Minnesota.

Al Kaline, Dick McAuliffe and Norm Cash each homered and Grove in two runs for the Tigers. Ed Bressoud and Bob Tillman slammed homers for the Red Sox while Dalton Jones made it close with a two-run single in the ninth.

Barry Kramer, the former New York University basketball star, faces a big decision . . . He has been admitted to the University of Kentucky Dental School and also is the first draft choice of the San Francisco Warriors in the National Basketball Association . . . "Frankly," he said, "I'm really not sure yet what I'm going to do, although I've been thinking a lot about going to school."

Twenty-game winner Jim Bouton of the New York Yankees has been struggling around the .500 mark this season, but he's not worrying . . . "I really haven't pitched that badly," he said. "To win 20 games again would be fantastic. When I started out this year, I was just hoping for 15. I'd consider that a good season."

Penn State has promoted offensive backfield coach Joe Paterno to associate football coach and you don't have to search hard for the reason . . . Rip Engle, the popular head coach, is nearing 60 and it might be to spend those pleasant autumn Saturdays in the stands.

First baseman Vic Power isn't upset about going from a contender (Minnesota Twins) to the second division Los Angeles Angels . . . "Everyone on the Angels is relaxed," Power said. "It's not like the Twins. Everyone over there is tense for some reason. Anyway I like California better and Bo Belinsky said he would show me around Hollywood."

Pete McCordie, who will be our chief contender for the Olympic gold medal in the 10,000 meter run, doesn't believe in coaches. . . . "I've never had a coach in my life," the 34-year-old Bronx, N. Y., garage mechanic said. "I don't want some coach coming along with a cigarette hanging out of his mouth, telling me how to run. Sure, I've made mistakes, but I don't make them twice."

Still on track and field. . . . Here's a pair of interesting opinions about the 1964 American Olympic team from Jim Beatty and Hayes Jones, two of the best runners in the United States. . . . "I think the American team will be the best ever assembled anywhere," Beatty said. "We may not have as many 1-2-3 sweeps as before, but our over-all showing will be improved."

"What I'm worried about is how young some of them are. When you get in stiff competition like the Olympics, previous times and records don't mean much."

Ken Rosewall, the gentleman from Australia, sees little hope for open tennis and he blames politics for the situation. . . . "There are mostly the smaller nations who have nothing to gain from it, and will vote against it whenever the International Federation meets."

Perfect Team

NEW YORK (NEA) — The National Football League recently polled its coaches on the make-up of an ideal professional team and the consensus agreed it would be something like this:

Offense — Four wide receivers, two block ends, eight interior linemen, three quarterbacks, five running backs, one kicking specialist.

Defense — Six linemen, five linebackers, six backs.

TO SWIM THE CHANNEL — John Starrett leaves the water at Natick, Mass., after a training swim before leaving for England where he plans to swim the English Channel. Starrett says "I swim to live." He was born with cerebral palsy and started swimming at the age of three on doctor's advice. He is now 39. (AP Wirephoto)

Palmer, Nicklaus Credited With Larger Golf Galleries

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — It's only a matter of opinion from an authority, but Jay Hebert, the PGA Tournament Committee chairman, credits the tremendous interest in golf and the large galleries these days to Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Hebert, the 1960 PGA champion, says that "Palmer and Nicklaus have done more for golf in the past 10 years than anyone."

There probably are some other reasons, but not to Hebert. Relaxing in the locker room at the Wethersfield Country Club, latest stop on the major league play-for-pay tour, Hebert insists:

"It used to be that you could win a tournament with two good rounds. But Palmer and Nicklaus, more than anyone else, changed this. The winner of a tournament now has to shoot four good rounds."

Palmer and Nicklaus are passing up the $50,000 four-day Insurance City Open that starts today at nearby Wethersfield.

Two Are Favored In Women's Test

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Mickey Wright and defending champion Ruth Jessen are co-favorites in the seventh annual Rockford Cosmopolitan Women's Open, starting Friday.

The 54-hole tournament, winding up Sunday, has drawn most of the top names on the Ladies PGA tour. It will be played on the par 72 Macktown Course in nearby Rockton.

Two former champions withdrew because of injuries. They are Sandra Raynie and Mary Lena Faulk. A third pro, Carol Mann, also did not enter.

Betsy Rawls and Kathy Cornelius, both former Cosmo winners, also are among leading contenders in a field of 32 pros and 15 amateurs. Althea Gibson, former Wimbledon tennis champ, also has filed an entry. The tourney record is 208 by Miss Rawls.

Highland and Ulster Tie; Resume Tonight

Kingston Jaycee and Town of Esopus Little League teams scored wins; Highland and the Town of Ulster played a tie game which will be resumed tonight and the Ellenville-Fallsburgh tilt was postponed until this evening as play in the District Little League playoffs began.

Scott Findholt hurled a one-hitter as the Kingston Jaycees nipped Hurley, 3-0, in a well-played contest at the Kingston American field.

Doubles by Paul Bockelman and Hal Anderson led the winners, who scored single runs in the second, third and fourth frames for a 3-0 verdict.

John Fitzgerald fired a one-hitter for Esopus in its 10-0 win over Accord-Kerhonkson. A six-run third inning clinched matters for the winners.

Dick Freese had the game's only extra base blow—a double.

Highland and the Town of Ulster had their game called at the end of eight innings because of darkness. The clubs were embraced in a 5-5 tie and will resume play at the start of the ninth frame tonight at the National Little League field.

Ellenville and Fallsburgh had their tilt postponed until tonight because of wet grounds at the Ellenville Channel Master diamond.

Home runs by Hal Lanier and Orlando Cepeda did most of the damage for the Giants. Lanier hit a three-run shot in the fifth and Cepeda connected with one on in the sixth — both homers opposite field hits off Larry Jackson, 12-8.

Billy Pierce checked the Cubs on two hits in four innings of relief work, picking up his second victory without a loss.

The Reds tied the score 3-3 in the eighth when singles by Frank Robinson and Don Pate connected around an infield out produced a run, but the Mets won it in the 10th when Ron Hunt singled, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on a pinch-hit double by Jim Hickman.

Pro Gridders Begin Training Sessions

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Hornung is back with the Green Bay Packers and that means trouble for the Chicago Bears, the National Football League champions.

Hornung, star halfback who led the Packers to the 1962 NFL title then was suspended a year for betting on league games, worked out with the Packers Wednesday for the first time since his suspension in April, 1963.

He appeared in top physical condition, brightening Green Bay hopes of regaining the NFL crown from the Bears. The first time he carried the ball in a controlled scrimmage he burst through the defensive line.

The Bears, preparing for their game with the College All-Stars Aug. 7 in Chicago that officially kicks off the season, put in a 45-minute scrimmage at their camp.

The San Diego Chargers, champions of the American League, held their first pre-season drills and coach Sid Gillman said they were the best in his 19 years as a mentor.

Other developments on the pro football front as the training tempo picked up included:

Allen Advances

In State Amateur

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Defending champion Don Allen has a spectacular method of keeping himself in the picture at the State Men's Amateur Golf Tournament.

He makes his opponents look at the birdie.

That is the technique he used to reach today's third round and a match with John Downey Jr. of Oswego at the Cooperstown Country Club.

Among the others joining Allen in the championship flight of 32 golfers today was John Wilski of New York Mills. Wilski was paired with Leon Kantor, who also hails from New York Mills.

There was room for only eight players after completion of the third and fourth rounds today. The semi-final and quarter-final rounds are set for tomorrow.

The two finalists will meet in a 36-hole showdown Saturday. Allen, 26, a Rochester insurance man, scored five birdies Wednesday in defeating Marvin Olshan of White Plains, 4 and 3.

Allen, winner of the state tourney in 1961 and last year, birdied the 4th and 5th holes yesterday to finish the front nine with a 2-under-par 33 and 2-up. He added birdies on the 11th and 14th holes to go four up. Olshan collected a birdie on the 15th but then his opponent posted a birdie of his own to end the match.

That match ended as a thunder-shower began. The par-72, 6,544-yard course has been baked hard by a prolonged dry spell.

John Konsek Sr. of Buffalo, father of three-time champion John Konsek III, was eliminated, 4 and 3, by Joe Smith Jr. of Newburgh.

Downey gained the third round by defeating Ray Mortell of Larchmont, 7 and 6.

Kantor won by the same 7 and 6 margin over Mike Swartz of Elba.

Armstrong-Commanche Gains Forfeit Win to Keep Lead

Hi-Lo, Subway Defeat Rivals

League leading Armstrong-Commanche won its 13th game in 14 City Softball league outings the easy way last night, by forfeit over Retreat Rest.

In other circuit tests, Hi-Lo nipped G-G's, 2-1, and Subway overpowered Wimpy's 18-7.

Hi-Lo broke a 1-1 tie by scoring the winning run in the sixth frame against G-G's. W. C. Lindsay and veteran Joe Amato Sr. combined on a three-hitter for the winners. George Norton lost it.

Joe Bruck doubled and singled for the losers, Bob Quarantino and Joe Amato Jr. had two singles each for the Hi-Lo nine. Subway slammed out 25 hits in topping Wimpy's. Chick Boice, Jim Ferraro of the winners and Cliff Sweet of Wimpy's slugged homers. Boice added a double and two singles, giving him a four-hit evening.

Ron Scheffel, Ferraro, Arnie Crooksten and Ronnie Cole hit doubles and Bob Martin, Cole, Vince Peck and Don Wells had triples.

Peck spaced seven hits to pick up the win. Tom Molina and Bill Stokes hurled for the losers.

McGowan Hurls 9-0 Decision

Frank McGowan pitched a two-hitter and the American Legion overpowered the Masons, 9-0, in a Babe Ruth league game last night at Dietz Stadium.

The winners slammed nine safeties off the slants of Pete Watzka. Andy Murphy and Doug Eckdick hit triples while Rich Nelson and McGowan had a pair of safeties each.

Both hurlers had their strike-out pitch working. McGowan walked three and fanned a dozen. Watzka gave up four walks and struck out 14 batters.

In a doubleheader tonight at the Stadium, K of C meets Kiwanis and Masons oppose Rotary. The Vols and 35 Club will collide at the Athletic Field.

Allen Advances In State Amateur

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Defending champion Don Allen has a spectacular method of keeping himself in the picture at the State Men's Amateur Golf Tournament.

He makes his opponents look at the birdie.

That is the technique he used to reach today's third round and a match with John Downey Jr. of Oswego at the Cooperstown Country Club.

Among the others joining Allen in the championship flight of 32 golfers today was John Wilski of New York Mills. Wilski was paired with Leon Kantor, who also hails from New York Mills.

There was room for only eight players after completion of the third and fourth rounds today. The semi-final and quarter-final rounds are set for tomorrow. The two finalists will meet in a 36-hole showdown Saturday.

Allen, 26, a Rochester insurance man, scored five birdies Wednesday in defeating Marvin Olshan of White Plains, 4 and 3.

Allen, winner of the state tourney in 1961 and last year, birdied the 4th and 5th holes yesterday to finish the front nine with a 2-under-par 33 and 2-up. He added birdies on the 11th and 14th holes to go four up. Olshan collected a birdie on the 15th but then his opponent posted a birdie of his own to end the match.

That match ended as a thunderstorm began. The par-72, 6,544-yard course has been baked hard by a prolonged dry spell.

John Konsek Sr. of Buffalo, father of three-time champion John Konsek III, was eliminated 4 and 3, by Joe Smith Jr. of Newburgh.

Downey gained the third round by defeating Ray Mottell of Larchmont, 7 and 6.

Kantor won by the same 7 and 6 margin over Mike Swartz of Elba.

Saugerties Dog Captures Honors

Richardson's Little Pumpkin owned by Mrs. Bonnie Stempniak of Saugerties won Best in Show honors at the AKC Sanction B Match, sponsored by the Patron Basset Hound Club at Liberty Community Park in Liberty Sunday.

Winner of the Best Puppy in Show award was the entry of William Barton and M. M. Brandt of Hazlet.

This was the second show of the season. The Patron Basset Hound Club plans to hold another match in the fall of this year.

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

UPSET CHANCE — Marcel Mir (2nd).

1. SUMTER LAURIE has been raced lightly. Is in good position here to score for the first time this year. SHADYDALE RIBBON needs a couple of races and may be nearing peak. WILLIE POTEMPKIN could be a contender.

2. JOHN MICHAEL was moving to challenge for the lead but went into a break. MARCEL MIR finally draws good post. Can go all the way on top. MANEUVER just doesn't win. Post hurts here.

3. DUDLEY'S ADIOS qualified and went 31.3 final quarter. BERT PARKER also won qualifying race. WESTFIELD EXPRESS could be a sleeper.

4. BOBBY T. KNIGHT is the best two-year old on the grounds. The best bet of the night. GILMOUR entry is favored by the draw. Must be considered. NEVELE GOLFER, another good two-year old. A long shot threat.

5. SPECTER was hung in a 29.4 quarter and still came on strong to finish third. Could win with a well-timed drive. MR. NEVELE won last for fun. Is the one to beat in this race. REGAL RODNEY is a consistent trotter.

6. IRISH BOMBER received an awful ride the last time. Can make amends in this one. SOLICITOR'S KEY is a stretch menace. A good play for those looking for the big twin double. MISS NEVELE must not stop.

7. SUMTER REBEL does well at this track. Figures to be close up with favorable position. MOUNTAIN CREED won last race going away. Another good play for the big TD payoff. BOMBERS' DREAM has had a couple of good races.

8. MOGAN HANOVER won debut with plenty to spare. Right back. HIGH SEAS might have needed a race. Will be tough here. BANKER CHILDS qualified well but needs a driver.

9. ICHABOD HANOVER stands out in this field but is a chronic breaker. COPPER ADIOS looks tough from the rail. BLOCKBUSTER is highly regarded by its stable.

Charles Turk, the 51-year-old insurance and real estate executive from Wiltwyck, fired a one-under par 69 on the Stamford Golf Club Wednesday to gain honors in the Eastern New York Golf Association's weekly tournament.

John Passonno, 21-year-old Siena College senior, had second low gross, a 71, despite a double bogey six on the ninth hole.

Both Turk and Passonno were forced off the course by thunder, lightning and torrential downpour midway through their rounds, but returned to complete their outstanding performances.

7-4 Combination Wins at Raceway

MONTICELLO—Vernon Mac,

an 11-1 outsider in the wagering, copped last night's second dash at Monticello Raceway in 2:13.1 over a sloppy track to clinch an $86.10 daily double payoff on the 7-4 combination.

Even-money favorite Red Rodney took the opening race, a two-year-old trot, in 2:17.1.

Vernon Mac, driven by Arthur Koch, forged to the front post and went on to build up a comfortable margin by the time the field hit the stretch. Those who backed the six-year-old chestnut gelding were rewarded with mutual payoffs of $24.90, $10.90 and $6.00.

F.S.G., another longshot, got the nod for second place after Countryman was disqualified and placed eighth for interference rounding the final turn, and paid $13.70 and $7.50. Prince Arien returned $3.40 for show.

Clint Hodgins took Red Rodney to the top at the half after four of the juvenile trotters went off stride at the start and coasted home to payoffs of $4.00, $3.40 and $2.90.

Josephpe was second under the wire, paying $8.10 and $4.40, while Macaroni returned $3.40 to show.

Thompson Convention Speaker County Vols to Hear N. Y. Commissioner

The 29th annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will open Thursday night, Aug. 6, with the annual banquet to be held at Sportsman's Park in Rosendale. Following a turkey dinner to be served at 6:30 p. m., the delegates will be addressed by the guest speaker, Edward Thompson, Fire Commissioner of the City of New York.

Lauded by Wagner
"He is an outstanding and distinguished community leader, who is remarkably well qualified to furnish the Fire Department with a continuation of the fine, dedicated leadership that it has had," Judge Thompson not only served for a number of years in the Fire Department, but he continued to retain a vital interest in Fire Department activities. He knows the problems, how to meet them, and he has the experience and leadership necessary to do the job in the effective way it must be done."

EDWARD THOMPSON

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York used these words in appointing County Judge Edward Thompson Fire Commissioner of the City of New York. Commissioner Thompson, a native New Yorker, graduated from Brooklyn College in 1933, having majored in public finance. Following college, he enrolled in Brooklyn Law School and finished out his last year there while a member of the Fire Department.

Admitted to Bar in '37
In 1935 the Commissioner filed for the position of fireman and finished at the top of the list with the highest written mark of more than 30,000 candidates. Appointed a probationary fireman on March 16, 1936, and assigned to Hook and Ladder Company 101 in Brooklyn, the commissioner acquired his law degree at the end of 1936, and in the spring of 1937 he was admitted to the Bar.

The late Mayor LaGuardia of New York appointed the future commissioner an assistant corporation counsel in the fall of 1938, and gave him the task of organizing the Legal Division of the Fire Department. During the next five years, he carried out specialized legal responsibilities for the Fire Department.

His heavy legal responsibilities did not stop the commissioner from studying for advancement within the Department, and in 1943, he was promoted to lieutenant, and placed in charge of the Enforcement Section of the Division of Fire Prevention and Combustibles.

One year later, the then Lt. Thompson volunteered for service in the United States Navy. In officer indoctrination training at the Naval Training School, he was number one in his class and was designated battalion commander. Commissioner Thompson was assigned as a firefighting officer and a diver with the Seventh Fleet.

With 7th Fleet
Fireman, lawyer and Navy Officer, Edward Thompson was on duty with the Seventh Fleet when July 19, 1944, he received word from Mayor LaGuardia that he had been appointed a City Magistrate. Commodore William Sullivan administered the oath of office to the new Magistrate on the seawall at Manila Bay with the words: "You are the first Naval Officer I've ever known to be sworn in as a judge. Congratulations!"

While in the Navy, Commissioner Thompson received a Unit Citation for firefighting and salvage operations, a commendation from the U. S. Army for outstanding firefighting service, and was honored by the Republic of the Philippines for rehabilitating the Manila Fire Department.

After the war ended, Commissioner Thompson assisted in organizing Dewey University, a Naval branch of the United States Armed Forces Educational Program at Manila, where he taught algebra, trigonometry and physics. In 1946, Ensign Thompson was separated from the Navy and took his seat as a New York City Magistrate, just 10 years after joining the Fire Department.

Six years later, Judge Thompson was appointed by Mayor Vincent Impellitteri to an unexpired term as an Associate Justice, Court of Special Sessions. He was reappointed for a 10-year term for the same office in 1955 by Mayor Wagner. After serving only two years of this term, Judge Thompson was designated Acting County Judge by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, a position he held until he was named Fire Commissioner by Mayor Wagner in 1962.

Sons in Department
Commissioner Thompson is the only Fire Commissioner in the 100-year history of the Fire Department who has "sworn in" two sons as firemen. His sons Edward, Jr. and Neil are now on active duty after having completed their probationary training.

Following Commissioner Thompson's address, the annual entertainment will be presented, with refreshments being served later at the Rosendale Firehouse. Banquet admission is open to any member of the Ulster County Association, but James McNamara of Rosendale, banquet chairman reminds that the ticket deadline is Friday, July 24. After this date no tickets will be available, nor can they be obtained at the door.

On Friday night, the annual business meeting will be held at the Rosendale Firehouse at 8 p. m. with the convention being climaxed by the annual Fireman's Parade Saturday, Aug. 8, at 5 p. m. in the Village of Rosendale.

Hosts for the annual affair are the Bloomington, Binnewater, Cottekill, High Falls and Rosendale Fire Companies, collectively sponsoring the event under their organizational title, Volunteer Firemen's Association, Township of Rosendale.

Herbert Faure and Charles Peterson of Bloomington are serving as general chairman and assistant general chairman for the convention.

Greene and Columbia Counties have already been declared disaster areas. Orange County however appears to have no problems from the drought and has not made application.

Attending the meeting Wednesday of the Ulster County Disaster Committee were Ulster County Agricultural Agent William Palmer, Joseph Sauer of Mt. Marion, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and Wendell Cavanaugh of Middletown, area representative for the Farm Home Administration.

However, Hopper added: "The majority opinion rules in effect that segregation in this particular restaurant affects commerce because of the fact that a substantial portion of the food which it serves has moved in commerce."

In the motel decision, the court held there was no need to justify the outlawing of discrimination on the ground that the business is actually in the stream of commerce.

Fred Sauer, retired president of the Bloomington Fire Company, will be the grand marshal.

At 4:55 p. m. on Aug. 8 the Rosendale firehouse siren will sound one blast, indicating, the parade will get under way in five minutes and outfits must be in their respective positions. At 5 p. m. the siren will again sound indicating the start of the parade. The parade route will be from the formation area in Parkcrest Estates, east along James Street to Main Street, west along Main Street to Route 32, and thence south on Route 32 to Sportsman's Park field where the parade will disband and refreshments will be served.

The route will be 1.8 miles in length. Trophies will be presented at 8 p. m. Saturday following the decision of the judges. Judges are: Firemen, Percy Van Leuven, chairman, Albert Belle Isla and Colin Jackson; Ladies Auxiliaries, Mrs. Edward Moulton, Mrs. Jean Thornton; Apparatus, Chief Edward Moulton, Earl Weale; Musical Units, Walter Durkee, and Clarence Cooper; Visiting company judges are Thomas Rodgers and Francis X. Maloney.

The parade will consist of five divisions which will be reviewed from a reviewing stand in front of the Rosendale fire house.

Speeder to Face
Grand Jury on Car Theft Charge
Accused by State Police of stealing a 1964 car valued at more than $3,000, Harold LaForge, 35, whose address was listed as Broadway, was arrested today on a first degree grand larceny charge.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace S. Parks Glenn, Town of New Paltz, LaForge waived preliminary hearing and the case was referred to the grand jury.

LaForge was picked up yesterday morning by BCI Investigator L. M. Luongo, who was on his way to work. Luongo booked the man on charges of speeding 75 miles an hour, and driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended.

The defendant pleaded guilty to the traffic violations and received a 30-day sentence in the county jail.

The grand larceny charge accused LaForge of stealing a car owned by John Markle, 47 Prospect Street, New Paltz, Wednesday morning. Troopers said he was driving the car when taken into custody by Luongo.

Joan Mertine Hurt
In Mishap on Span
A car operated by Joan Mertine, 27, of 672 Broadway went out of control early this morning on the Port Ewen side of the Rondout Creek bridge, struck the abutment and came to rest in the middle of the bridge approach. She was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance suffering from a compound fracture of the left ankle, severe lacerations of the face and right knee and possible internal injuries.

Investigating the accident were Deputy Sheriffs Daniel Levi and James Egan. Their investigation disclosed she was traveling north on 9W and while negotiating a right hand curve lost control of the vehicle which left the pavement and went on the soft shoulder of the highway, struck the bridge abutment and then came to a halt in the middle of the bridge approach.

CCNY Student Is

Troopers said the car careened across the highway and hit a tree.

Garod suffered a fractured left leg and lacerations of the right hand. He was taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital.

Troopers said criminal action is pending.

Highway fatalities in the county are running ahead of the 1963 toll. The 18th highway death occurred last year on Sept. 5. The total for last year was 33 and in 1962 the county's highway toll was 40. Auto accidents in the county this month have claimed 10 lives.

Coroner Chipp said Post was employed for the summer months as a bus boy at the Pine Grove Hotel, Kerhonkson, which is operated by Betty and Jack Schloss.

Saugerties Man
Today's removed the tree and freed the unconscious man, who was rushed to Kingston Hospital in Fatum's ambulance.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Glowing earnings reports and favorable business news made little difference to the stock market today as prices held to the irregular tone established Wednesday.

Volume was slightly higher than Wednesday, but still far from the 5 million share a day average of the first six months of the year.

At noon The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 320.

Before the market opened, Chrysler came up with record results 50 per cent above a year earlier for the second quarter and first half.

Two drivers were booked on charges after city traffic mishaps today and a boy was injured in a car-bicycle accident Wednesday.

Patrick J. Morello, 25, of 129 Jansen Avenue, was charged with driving while intoxicated after the car he drove allegedly struck a parked vehicle near 222 Hasbrouck Avenue early today. City Court hearing was put over today to July 29.

A police report at 1:47 a. m., said the car driven by Morello struck the rear of the car of Leonard J. Parise Jr., of 222 Hasbrouck Avenue, near that address.

Condition Fair Today

Joseph Morello, 23, of West Hurley, suffered a head injury, was taken to Kingston Hospital in a Doctors' ambulance for treatment of a head injury, and was reported in fair condition later today.

Officers Charles Diers and Gerald Tierney and Detective Harold DeGriff investigated.

John V. Schoonmaker, 22, of 37 Liberty Street, was charged with failure to keep right after a two-car collision at Main Street and Mountain View Avenue, reported at 8:30 a. m., today. The other car, police said, was driven by John P. Fautz, 36, of 7 Cross Street.

Army Parachute Team to Free-fall At Dutchess Fair

The Golden Knights, internationally famous U. S. Army parachute team, will perform at the 1964 Dutchess County Fair at the Rhinebeck, exhibiting free-fall maneuvers while traveling at speeds of 21 miles an hour before opening their chutes.

Senator Ernest I. Hatfield, director of the Dutchess County Agricultural Society and public chairman for its 119th Dutchess Fair, today said the 12-man team has been engaged for Aug. 26 and 27 as a highlight of the "best entertainment program the fair has ever presented."

The Golden Knights of Fort Bragg, N. C., will jump from an altitude of 14,000 feet — more than two and a half miles above the fairgrounds — with team members free-falling for 70 to 75 seconds before pulling their ripcords at 2,500 feet.

With smoke streaming from grenades attached to special foot brackets, the jumpers will be readily visible as they drop, loops, cross-overs, baton passing, move laterally and vary their rate of descent from 111 to 211 mph.

The team represents all branches of the Army and is the only team in the world to have established more than 70 per cent of the 128 world parachuting accuracy records. Fifty-three per cent were recorded in only 13 jumping days early this year. Whether on exhibition or in competition, the Golden Knights' basic purpose is to conduct research and development on the military aspects of free-fall parachuting. The Army group has provided instructor assistance in military free-fall techniques to Australia, Brazil, Canada, Venezuela, Great Britain, Norway and Viet Nam.

Escapes Injury

Edward T. White Jr., 19, of Palenville, escaped serious injury at 3:15 p. m. Wednesday, when his 1960 sports car left Route 32 in the Town of Cairo, hit a soft shoulder and overturned. Leeds troopers said the youth told investigators he fell asleep. The car was badly damaged. White received bruises of the left shoulder.

Switch Stock for Daughter's College Fund

Q) I own some Jonathan Logan. Our financial condition is at a low ebb due to illness in the family, but I want to do something that will provide a better education for my daughter's education. I could add some money and switch into American Telephone. Do you think that would be wise? — M. W.

A) I am extremely sorry that you have had illness in your family and I hope that the situation is now better.

There is no question but that American Telephone is one of the best and strongest stocks on the Big Board. Since the split, however, the public — and particularly the small investor — has been buying the stock in unprecedented volume and this has pushed the price up too rapidly, in my opinion.

Jonathan Logan has compiled an excellent growth record and yields 3.5 per cent compared with 2.7 per cent for Telephone at current levels.

I would defer any switch until the mad scramble for Telephone — and probably the price — subsides.

Q) Recently you commented that Phillips Petroleum faces a large potential dilution. I manage the portfolio for a local association and we own 200 shares of Phillips. Pete bought at lower cost several years ago. Would the dilution you refer to impair future earnings and dividend rates? We are interested mainly in yield and wonder if we should switch? — F. L.

A) I am very sorry if you received a wrong impression from a recent column about Phillips Petroleum.

In that column, I was questioned solely as to the growth prospects of the company and I compared them rather unfavorably with those of Texaco. Phillips is a very high-grade company and is entirely satisfactory from a yield standpoint.

The company does have a large amount of convertible debentures outstanding which will dilute earnings by about 10 per cent. The factor would have some bearing on growth, but would not seriously impair earnings nor hurt dividend rates.

prospect represents the biggest single undertaking on a collective basis in the history of the Town of Rosendale, according to backers of the project. Their aim is to establish the site as "The Nordic Ski Capital of the East."

The mountain was the scene of the famous Telemark ski and cross-country racing championships from 1936 to 1942 and saw some of the world's greatest athletes perform during those years.

Curran said that $20,000 of the capital was marked for the actual purchase price of the property, while the additional $5,000 was sought as a reserve marked for redevelopment of the land for ski facilities. He said that while he and Karlson obtained the option, the shares were offered to the public so that the townspeople would have an opportunity to participate in the investment and that it would not be regarded as "an exclusive club." An offer was made to the town to take over the option, he said, but the town board was not in a position to purchase the land and public ownership of the mountain is no longer being considered.

25 Share Limit

Thus the holders of the option decided to offer subscriptions toward stock in the investment setting a limit of 25 shares to any single individual so that no one may own more than 10 per cent of the organization.

Strobel said that in the event sufficient funds are not raised to carry out the proposed venture, the corporation will be dissolved and the investment returned to the stockholders. However, if the funds are realized, upon the final issuance of the capital stock, a stockholders meeting will be called and the board of directors will convene to designate corporation officers.

It is anticipated that his will be done in the latter part of August. It is also anticipated, according to corporation officials, that the corporation will exercise the option to purchase the property, including parking facilities as well as the Telemark Ski Jump, on or before August 20, when the option expires.

Assisting Strobel in the collection of stock subscriptions are finance committee members Karlson, who is temporary vice president of the corporation, Alton, Richard Herd, Frank Klepeis, and Ed Hill. Other investors are working in conjunction with the committee.

Thompson Convention Speaker

County Vols to Hear N. Y. Commissioner

The 29th annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will open Thursday night, Aug. 6, with the annual banquet to be held at Sportsman's Park in Rosendale. Following a turkey dinner to be served at 6:30 p. m., the delegates will be addressed by the guest speaker, Edward Thompson, Fire Commissioner of the City of New York.

Lauded by Wagner
"He is an outstanding and distinguished community leader, who is remarkably well qualified to furnish the Fire Department with a continuation of the fine, dedicated leadership that it has had," Judge Thompson noted.

EDWARD THOMPSON

ment with a continuation of the fine, dedicated leadership that it has had. Judge Thompson noted that he has served for a number of years in the Fire Department, but he continued to retain a vital interest in Fire Department activities. He knows the problems, how to meet them, and he has the experience and leadership necessary to do the job in the effective way it must be done.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York used these words in appointing County Judge Edward Thompson Fire Commissioner of the City of New York. Commissioner Thompson, a native New Yorker, graduated from Brooklyn College in 1933, having majored in public finance. Following college, he enrolled in Brooklyn Law School and finished out his last year there while a member of the Fire Department.

Admitted to Bar in '37
In 1935 the Commissioner filed for the position of fireman and finished at the top of the list with the highest written mark of more than 30,000 candidates. Appointed a probationary fireman on March 16, 1936, and assigned to Hook and Ladder Company 101 in Brooklyn, the commissioner acquired his law degree at the end of 1936, and in the spring of 1937 he was admitted to the Bar.

The late Mayor LaGuardia of New York appointed the future commissioner an assistant corporation counsel in the fall of 1938, and gave him the task of organizing the Legal Division of the Fire Department. During the next five years, he carried out specialized legal responsibilities for the Fire Department.

His heavy legal responsibilities did not stop the commissioner from studying for advancement within the Department, and in 1943, he was promoted to lieutenant, and placed in charge of the Enforcement Section of the Division of Fire Prevention and Combustibles. One year later, the then Lt. Thompson volunteered for service in the United States Navy. In officer indoctrination training at the Naval Training School, he was number one in his class and designated battalion commander. Commissioned an ensign, he was assigned as a firefighting officer and a diver with the Seventh Fleet.

With 7th Fleet
Fireman, lawyer and Navy Officer, Edward Thompson was on duty with the Seventh when July 19, 1944, he received word from Mayor LaGuardia that he had been appointed a City Magistrate. Commodore William Sullivan administered the oath of office to the new Magistrate on the seawall at Manila Bay with the words: "You are the first Naval Officer I've ever known to be sworn in as a judge. Congratulations!"

While in the Navy, Commissioner Thompson received a Unit Citation for firefighting and salvage operations, a commendation from the U. S. Army for outstanding firefighting service, and was honored by the Republic of the Philippines for rehabilitating the Manila Fire Department.

After the war ended, Commissioner Thompson assisted in organizing Dewey University, a Naval branch of the United States Armed Forces Educational Program at Manila, where he taught algebra, trigonometry and physics. In 1946 Ensign Thompson was separated from the Navy and took his seat as a New York City Magistrate, just 10 years after joining the Fire Department.

Six years later, Judge Thompson was appointed by Mayor Vincent Impellitteri to an unexpired term as an Associate Justice, Court of Special Sessions. He was reappointed for a 10-year term for the same office in 1955 by Mayor Wagner. After serving only two years of this term, Judge Thompson was designated Acting County Judge by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, a position he held until he was named Fire Commissioner by Mayor Wagner in 1962.

Sons in Department

Commissioner Thompson is the only Fire Commissioner in the 100-year history of the Fire Department who has "sworn in" two sons as firemen. His sons Edward, Jr. and Neil are now on active duty after having completed their probationary training.

Following Commissioner Thompson's address, the annual entertainment will be presented, with refreshments being served later at the Rosendale Firehouse. Banquet admission is open to any member of the Ulster County Association, but James McNamara of Rosendale, banquet chairman reminds that the ticket deadline is Friday, July 24. After this date no tickets will be available, nor can they be obtained at the door.

On Friday night, the annual business meeting will be held at the Rosendale Firehouse at 8 p. m., with the convention being climaxed by the annual Fireman's Parade Saturday, Aug. 8, at 5 p. m. in the Village of Rosendale.

Hosts for the annual affair are the Bloomington, Binnewater, Cottickill, High Falls and Rosendale Fire Companies, collectively sponsoring the event under their organizational title, Volunteer Firemen's Association, Township of Rosendale. Herbert Faure and Charles Peterson of Bloomington are serving as general chairman and assistant general chairman for the convention.

Greene and Columbia Counties have already been declared disaster areas. Orange County however appears to have no problems from the drought and has not made application.

Attending the meeting Wednesday of the Ulster County Disaster Committee were Ulster County Agricultural Agent William Palmer, Joseph Sauer of Mt. In the motel decision, the court held there was no need to justify the outlawing of discrimination on the ground that the business is actually in the stream of commerce.

Speeder to Face Grand Jury on Car Theft Charge

Accused by State Police of stealing a 1964 car valued at more than $3,000, Harold LaForge, 35, whose address was listed as Broadway, was arrested today on a first degree grand larceny charge.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace S. Parks Glenn, Town of New Paltz, LaForge waived preliminary hearing and the case was referred to the grand jury.

LaForge was picked up yesterday morning by BCI Investigator L. M. Luongo, who was on his way to work. Luongo booked the man on charges of speeding 75 miles an hour, and driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended.

The defendant pleaded guilty to the traffic violations and received a 30-day sentence in the county jail.

The grand jury charge accused LaForge of stealing a car owned by John Markle, 47 Prospect Street, New Paltz, Wednesday morning. Troopers said he was driving the car when taken into custody by Luongo.

Joan Mertine Hurt In Mishap on Span

A car operated by Joan Mertine, 27, of 672 Broadway went out of control early this morning on the Port Ewen side of the Rondout Creek bridge, struck the abutment and came to rest in the middle of the bridge approach. She was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance suffering from a compound fracture of the left ankle, severe lacerations of the face and right knee and possible internal injuries.

Investigating the accident were Deputy Sheriffs Daniel Levi and James Freer. Their investigation disclosed she was traveling north on 9V and while negotiating a right hand curve lost control of the vehicle which left the pavement and went on the soft shoulder of the highway, struck the bridge abutment and then came to a halt in the middle of the bridge approach.

Troopers said criminal action is pending. Highway fatalities in the county are running ahead of the 1963 toll. The 18th highway death occurred last year on Sept. 5. The total for last year was 33 and in 1962 the county's highway toll was 40. Auto accidents in the county this month have claimed 10 lives.

Coroner Chipp said Post was employed for the summer months as a bus boy at the Pine Grove Hotel, Kerhonkson, which is operated by Betty and Jack Schloss.

Saugerties Man

Todaro's removed the tree and freed the unconscious man, who was rushed to Kingston Hospital in Fatum's ambulance.

The tragedy was investigated by BCI Investigator Richard Ryan and Troopers David Wachtel, Fred Cooper, Robert Hough-taling and W. E. Wiedemann of the Kingston sub-station.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Growing earnings reports and favorable business news made little difference to the stock market today as prices held to the irregular tone established Wednesday.

Volume was slightly higher than Wednesday, but still far from the 5 million share a day average of the first six months of the year.

Most changes were extremely small.

At noon The Associated Press 60-stock average was unchanged at 320.

Before the market opened, Chrysler came up with record results 50 per cent above a year earlier for the second quarter and first half.

He was admitted for observation and X-rays.

Army Parachute Team to Free-fall At Dutchess Fair

The Golden Knights, internationally famous U. S. Army parachute team, will perform at the 1964 Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck, exhibiting free-fall maneuvers while traveling at speeds of 21 miles an hour before opening their chutes.

Senator Ernest I. Hatfield, director of the Dutchess County Agricultural Society and publicity chairman for its 119th Dutchess Fair, today said the 12-man team has been engaged for Aug. 26 and 27 as a highlight of the "best entertainment program the fair has ever presented."

The Golden Knights of Fort Bragg, N. C., will jump from an altitude of 14,000 feet — more than two and a half miles above the fairgrounds — with team members free-falling for 70 to 75 seconds before pulling their ripcords at 2,500 feet.

With smoke streaming from grenades attached to special foot brackets, the jumpers will be readily visible as they do loops, cross-overs, baton passing, move laterally and vary their rate of descent from 111 to 211 mph.

The team represents all branches of the Army and is the only team in the world to have established more than 70 per cent of the 128 world parachuting accuracy records. Fifty-three per cent were recorded in only 13 jumping days early this year. Whether on exhibition or in competition, the Golden Knights' basic purpose is to conduct research and development on the military aspects of free-fall parachuting. The Army group has provided instructor assistance in military free-fall techniques to Australia, Brazil, Canada, Venezuela, Great Britain, Norway and Viet Nam.

Escapes Injury

Edward T. White Jr., 19, of Palenville, escaped serious injury at 3:15 p. m. Wednesday, when his 1960 sports car left Route 32 in the Town of Cairo, hit a soft shoulder and overturned. Leeds troopers said the youth told investigators he fell asleep. The car was badly damaged. White received bruises of the left shoulder.

Dispatchers Trace All Calls In Checking Doubtful Fires

Dispatchers at mutual aid and fire alarm headquarters in all areas never give up until a call is traced and the location of a fire is definitely determined.

This was evidenced recently in tracing a telephone call received at the Rochester Fire Bureau in Monroe County, in which an unidentified man reported a fire 300 miles away.

An article published in the July issue of Chief's Chatter, a monthly publication sponsored by the Fire Chiefs' Association of Ulster County, related the following:

Fire Dispatcher Frank Cantabene was on duty at the Rochester Fire Bureau in Monroe County. He received a call from a man who shouted, "There's a shed burning on the John Hagen property. Send the firemen!"

"Where do you live?" asked Cantabene.

"Why, out in the country. Isn't this the Rochester Township Fire Department Company No. 2?" asked the caller.

Cantabene quickly explained the man was talking to the Monroe County Fire Bureau. The caller hung up the phone.

Cantabene didn't give up. He and Vincent Naylon, supervising dispatcher at the Rochester Fire Bureau hurriedly located Rochester Township in Ulster County on a map. Cantabene called Goshen on the Civil Defense network and reported the fire call.

Goshen contacted the Rochester Fire Department in Ulster.

Fire Chief Edward Carle and his volunteer firefighters investigated and located fire in a shed on the Hagen property.

"We do have a fire unit called Rochester Fire Company No. 2," Hagen explained later. "The man who called must have been pretty excited. We can't blame the mistake on direct dialing. We don't have that system here yet."

It was just another incident which proves the efficiency of fire alarm dispatchers, and their determination to check out every call received at their stations.

Brigantine Here On Return Given Mayor's Greeting

The trouble-besieged brigantine sailing vessel with 27 Canadian cadets which logged a series of difficulties on its way to the Worlds Fair and in international sailing event, stopped at Rondout today on its return trip.

While docked at the Ballard Oil Company pier, Mayor John J. Schwenk and Harold E. Keator, representing Kingston Kiwanis Club visited the vessel for the formal presentation of a scroll to be delivered to William T. Mills, mayor of Kingston, Ontario, Canada, home port of the motorized ship.

Earlier in the month the St. Lawrence II was scheduled to stop at Kingston on its way down the Hudson River to the Worlds Fair. The skipper, Capt. Francis MacLachlan, was delegated to deliver a greeting to Mayor Schwenk from Mayor Mills.

Due to motor difficulties and running aground at Athens the presentation and exchange of greetings was accomplished at Athens instead of Kingston.

This morning the mayor and Keator, as inter-club chairman of the local Kiwanis Club visited the ship and presented the following scroll for delivery to Mayor Mills.

"On the occasion of the brigantine St. Lawrence II, stopping at our city, on her return trip from an international sailing event at New York City, I hereby extend the greetings and goodwill of the citizens of Kingston, N. Y., U.S.A., to you and the council and the citizens of our sister city, Kingston, Ontario, Canada." The scroll is signed, John J. Schwenk, mayor.

Books Depicting Freedom Fight Now at Library

The Kingston Library has obtained a special collection of lavishly illustrated books on loan from the State Library.

The exhibit is entitled "Pictures and Words of Freedom, Revolution and War," and all books may be borrowed on short term loan.

The exhibit was inspired by the 188th anniversary of America's independence this year. The exhibit illustrates, however, that love of liberty is not peculiar to Americans but is also shared by citizens of other nations who have fought for their sovereignty.

Books included in the exhibit are:

The Civil War, by American Heritage. Photographs of Matthew Brady and the sketches of Winslow Homer.

Jerusalem, by Michael Avon-Yonah. Colorfully describes the religious and political history.

The Years Between, by Marvin Barrett. Photographically covers the major world battles and crises after World War I to the commencement of World War II.

Golden Wings, by Martin Caidin. Official Marine and Navy photographs depict the emergence of U.S. Naval Airpower from 1911 to the present.

Churchill: His Life in Photographs, by R. S. Churchill. F.D.R., by R. D. Graff.

A Pictorial History of the Negro in America, by Langston Hughes.

Gone Are the Days, by H. T. Kane. Shows southern life and customs from colonial to post-Civil War era.

American War Medals and Decorations, by E. E. Kerrigan.

Picture History of World War II, by Life Magazine.

Lincoln, A Picture Story of His Life, by Stephan Lorant.

Milestones to American Liberty: The Foundations of the Republic, by Milton Metzler. Fifty-one documents of American history are pictorially presented.

Spain, by Hugh Thomas. A word and picture study of Spain, both past and present.

Exodus Revisited, by Leon Uris. Pictorially describes the background for Uris's novel Exodus, and its meaning for Jewish citizens.

These and many more books are available at the library. Hours are 10:30 to 8:30, Monday through Friday, and 1 to 5, Saturday.

Local Lions Club Speaker Lauds City Laboratory

Kingston enjoys a national reputation as a pacemaker in the field of community laboratory services, according to Raymond DeTroyer, new administrative manager of the City of Kingston Laboratory.

Speaking before the weekly meeting of Kingston Lions Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel, DeTroyer said that "wherever he has worked in the hospital and scientific field, he has heard glowing reports of the innovations, high standards and economical operations of Kingston Laboratory."

The lab, which provides complete laboratory services for both Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals, conducts public health testing for the County Health Department, as well as all tests on private patients requested by local physicians, charges the lowest fees of 19 laboratories in a recent statewide survey DeTroyer pointed out. Furthermore, it is the only laboratory which provides all of the 54 testing procedures established as the survey standard.

Each year, he noted, the lab makes approximately 40,000 examinations of water, milk and dairy products for the County Health Department.

The laboratory blood bank draws, processes and stores about 2,600 pints of blood annually for use by Ulster County residents.

It conducts around 13,000 different bacteriological tests in each year.

It does some 102,000 studies of blood annually for patients of the two hospitals and local physicians.

100 separate procedures annually.

The laboratory receives public funds for the performance of its public health testing from the city and county. It receives fees from the hospitals and private patients of physicians who require laboratory tests.

The pooling of the professional talents in the laboratory staff makes it possible to provide a tremendous variety of up-to-date test procedures at the lowest cost in the state to the hospitals and private patients of Kingston, he pointed out. Only major hospitals such as the large medical school training centers can afford to gather such an extensive, and highly qualified laboratory staff.

Recognition of the laboratory's efficiency and high standards was recently confirmed by official accreditation by the College of American Pathologists, DeTroyer concluded.

U. S. Air Force Ruling Newburgh Pilot's Death Not Due To Human Error

Investigators of the U. S. Air Force have ruled that the death of a Newburgh pilot, who was killed last Saturday near Southampton, Mass., was caused solely by the plane and not by pilot error.

Capt. John H. Parris, 33, a resident of 1 Sunset Drive, Newburgh, was a member of the Massachusetts Air National Guard, assigned to the 104th Tactical Fighter group based at Barnes Airport, Mass. Parris started a two weeks vacation from IBM the day before he met death.

The Newburgh pilot crashed his crippled F-86 Sabrejet into a field to avoid a crowded beach.

Col. John J. Stefanik, commander of the 102nd Tactical Fighter group, said the cause of the crash was "pretty well pinpointed." He would not elaborate.

Paris ejected at a low altitude but his parachute did not deploy properly.
